MAY WHEAT'S BIG JUMP.

CHICAGO, April 5.—May wheat took a jump of nearly 4 cents a bushel on the Board of Trade today. The advance took place in almost as short a time as it takes to tell about it, and was one of those freakish caprices of a manipulated market such as that which now exists as the result of a determined effort on the part of a few Wall-street speculators to shake a few dollars out of the pockets of the bears in the wheat pit. May wheat opened at $1.14 to $1.14¼, and gave no signs of undue activity until along about midday, when a sudden cessation of offerings threw the smaller shorts into a panic. In the scramble to buy which followed, the price of May went up 1 cent between transactions until $1.17¾ was reached. When this point was reached enough of the commodity was disposed of to afford the more anxious buyers an opportunity to cover and get out of harm's way. The price of the May option at the close was $1.17, a net gain of 3 cents, as compared with the close of the previous session on Monday.

PRESIDENT REACHES LONE STAR STATE.

Citizens of Dallas Give Chief Executive Great Ovation and Dinner.

"Teddy" Puts in Strenuous Day in Responding to Greetings of Enthusiastic Admirers in Kansas, Indian Territory and Texas—He Promises Statehood to Indian Territory and Oklahoma in Near Future.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DALLAS (Tex.) April 5.—President Roosevelt tonight is the guest of the Lone Star State. The special train bearing the President and party arrived in Dallas over the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad promptly at 6:25 o'clock this evening. Reception committees were in evidence when the train rolled into the station, and the Chief Executive was driven through the streets to a public stand near the Oriental Hotel, where he delivered an address. The streets were densely packed with visitors, and the reception accorded the President was nothing short of a continuous ovation.

After delivering his speech the President and party attended a dinner at the Oriental Hotel tendered by the citizens of Dallas.

His train will leave for Waco, Austin and San Antonio at 5:40 o'clock tomorrow morning.

DALLAS (Tex.) April 5.—When the President awoke this morning his train was traversing the plains of Kansas. At every station cheering and enthusiastic crowds were present, all bent on seeing and, if possible, hearing the Chief Executive. The special train entered Indian Territory before noon. At Vinita a short stop was made and the President briefly addressed a large crowd. When Muskogee was reached fully 10,000 people surrounded the railroad station. A stand draped in the national colors had been erected near by, and although the programme did not call for a speech here, the President yielded to the loud acclaim of the people, and, escorted by a committee which boarded his train, made a brief address. His subject was "Statehood," and an enthusiastic applause greeted his utterance that Indian Territory would add its star to the galaxy of States within a year.

Brief speeches were made at South McAlester, Atoka, Caddo and Durant, after which the train crossed the State line into Texas.

Denison was reached at 3:45 o'clock. Preparatory to the arrival of the train the yards had been cleared of all cars, and all work was suspended. An immense crowd had gathered to greet the President who was standing on the rear platform smiling and bowing his acknowledgments of the cheers which greeted him as soon as the train stopped.

A party of school children advanced to the platform and presented to the President a magnificent floral offering in the shape of a Texas flag. A card attached read: "Presented by the children of the public schools as a welcome to the President to the State of Texas and the city of Denison."

In presenting the floral offering, Miss Pauline Everett, as spokeswoman said:

"In former times the children strewed flowers in the pathway of Washington and Lafayette; today the school children of the first free public school building ever erected in Texas, give you this floral emblem signifying honor and integrity."

The President replied briefly.

When the train pulled out for Sherman the President, standing on the platform, waved his hand and smiled in response to the repeated cheers.

At Sherman one of the largest crowds of the day greeted the President. He was escorted to a stand, where he spoke for fifteen minutes. Cannon boomed and the city was in gala attire in honor of the visitors. From Sherman the train maintained its schedule to Dallas. The President was in splendid spirits after the long day's ride and shortly before reaching Dallas, said that he never felt better in his life.

HERITAGE OF HONOR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DALLAS (Tex.) April 5.—When Mayor Bryan T. Barry of Dallas, finished his address of welcome, he introduced President Roosevelt to the immense gathering. The President said in part:

"I can, in a sense, claim to be, by blood at least, a typical President, for I am half Southerner and half Northerner. I was born in the East and I have a great deal of the West in my spirit.

"I want you men of Texas, you of my age to realize today, that exactly as you lift your heads here by virtue of what your fathers have done, so your children have the right to hold their heads high because of the way in which you have handled yourselves. A glorious memory is the best of all things for a nation, if it spurs that nation on to try to rise level with the memory. It is a poor thing for a nation if it uses the memory of the past to excuse it for inaction or failure in the present. Keep before yourselves ever that the very fact that you are proud of those who have gone before, makes it incumbent upon you to leave a heritage of honor to those who are to come after you and to train up those who are to come after you so that they can do their work in the world."

He urged the people to bring up children with the idea that they must bear hardship.

SQUARE DEAL EXPLAINED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

DALLAS (Tex.) April 5.—The President was the guest of honor tonight at a banquet at which covers were laid for 300. The President made a characteristic speech in which he gave a definition of what he meant by the expression, "a square deal for all." His definition was received with great applause, the demonstration lasting for several minutes. Later he was presented with a loving cup by the citizens of Dallas.

Just before the banquet was over former Gov. Hogg, in response to calls, got up and made a speech in which he warmly commended the President for his policy in the Panama Canal matter and the Northern Securities case.

At the conclusion of Gov. Hogg's speech, President Roosevelt left his chair, and, walking over to Gov. Hogg, shook hands with him and warmly commended him. Gov. Hogg had said in his speech that he wanted the President to understand that the people of Texas had not snubbed him for his action in the Panama Canal matter, notwithstanding the policy of certain Southern Senators.

TALKS BEFORE BREAKFAST.

PRESIDENT ROUTED OUT EARLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARSONS (Kan.) April 5.—President Roosevelt was routed out before breakfast today. The President's special stopped here at 7:30 o'clock to change engines, and a crowd gathered around the train. The President hurried his dressing and stepped to the rear platform, where he was cheered. The citizens of Parsons had sent to the car a huge bunch of American Beauties, which was placed on the breakfast table. The crowd was not satisfied with merely seeing the President, and in response to a request for a speech he greeted the people briefly. The President said:

"Friends, I will just bid you good morning. I am so glad again to be in the Sunflower State. From the beginning I have believed in your people, and I am more than grateful for the way your people showed your belief in me last November. It is not possible for any man in any position to promise that things will come right. All that he can promise is that in so far as in him lies he will do his part toward making them right. This I can promise, and do. It is in one stage of life as it is in another. Right here I see one of the men who fought in the great war. All he could do in that war was to do his part well, to do all that lay in him well. And that is what each of us can do, in whatever position he is called to be. It is because of what you and the average man and woman of Kansas have done for Kansas that Kansas is so great a State, and it is what every man from the President right through has got to do if our country is to be what it should be.

"To you people in Kansas, to you in whom I believe so much, there are just one or two things I could say in this brief moment. There is nothing peculiar in the qualities you need in government that differentiates those qualities from the qualities you need in having one private man dea with another. If a man is to be an advantage to the community in which he lives, he must be a decent, square dealing man who does fairly by his neighbors, who takes care of his family. The same qualities in another sphere must be applied in public life if he is to amount to anything—honesty, decency, courage and common-sense."

STATEHOOD TALK AT VINITA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MUSKOGEE (I. T.) April 5.—President Roosevelt paid a tribute to the people of Indian Territory and commended them as eligible for Statehood in a brief speech at Vinita, where a stop of two minutes was made at 9:08 a.m. The little city was more profusely decorated than any other place through which the Presidential train had passed.

As the train slowed down a salute was fired. Hundreds of people on foot and on horseback and in vehicles of all kinds pressed about the train. The President's reference to Statehood was wildly applauded. He spoke as follows:

"I cannot say what pleasure it is to me to be today in Indian Territory, which I earnestly hope will soon be part of a great State of our Union. I have never had the good fortune to be in the Territory before, but I had the great good fortune to have some of your sons in my regiment, and better and truer men never rode a horse nor handled a rifle. All I need say of them, speaking to you of the great war, is that we tried in the little war to show that we had some of the spirit that the men had who fought in the great Civil War.

"You will soon be part of one of the great States of the Union (for surely we will see Oklahoma and Indian Territory admitted into Statehood,) and when that takes place you will be at the outset a great State. Then it will lie with you to see what kind of a State you make of it."

SHORT STOP AT WAGONER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MUSKOGEE (I. T.) April 5.—A stop not on the schedule was made at Wagoner. Several hundred people were waiting about the depot platform. It had been intended that the train should slow down in order that the citizens might see the President. The train stopped long enough, however, for the President to talk to the people on the question of Statehood for the Territory. The President said:

"It was here in this Territory that no small part of my regiment was raised and you, my comrades there, who fought in the big war, know it means a good deal to have men with you in the trenches. I take the most extreme interest in everything that concerns your welfare. It will be but a short time now, probably, when, in conjunction with Oklahoma, you will become a great State. It is going to rest with you, upon the way in which you handle yourselves, whether you will be proud of that State or not. There is not anybody that can help us do more than start along in the right direction. Each one of us will stumble many times, and shame on any man who will not help his brother up; but you can't carry him. He must walk by himself."

THOUSANDS AT MUSKOGEE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SOUTH M'ALESTER (I. T.) April 5.—Ten thousand people gathered to greet the President at Muskogee. President Roosevelt had not intended leaving the train at that point, but when he saw the stand erected for him and the thousands of eager waiting people, he left the train, mounted the stand and spoke for five minutes. He was received by the local committee, headed by Pleasant Porter, Chief of the Creek Nation. Excursions were run by all the railroads and not for years have so many fullblooded Indians visited the city. The Territorial Mounted Guards and a hundred deputy marshals constituted a guard of honor.

As the President left the train the crowd gave a mighty cheer; as he mounted the speaker's stand and bowed, a son of the plains who had climbed a telegraph pole yelled "Hello, old pal; we are with you!" The President acknowledged the salutation with a smile and with a wave of his hand. Two thousand school children had gathered in an enclosure near the station and gave a flag salute. The President spoke as follows:

"I cannot say how impressed I have been traveling through the Territory this morning. Your Territory, probably in conjunction with Oklahoma, will soon be one of the great States of this Union. I look forward to meeting your Senators and Congressmen not long hence. I earnestly hope that as you enter Statehood you will realise immediately the responsibility that rests upon you. Statehood is a first-class thing if you use it aright. It will be a mighty poor thing if you don't. Successful self-government, of course, must be based upon the average quality of the citizenship. If the average citizen does his duty you will have a good State, and you will not otherwise. Nobody can make a good State except you yourselves. You need just the qualities in government that you need in private life. A man who is a good neighbor, good husband, good father, is the type of man who makes a good citizen. The person that you want to have as a neighbor, is the man to whom you can tie; on whom you

JAPANESE BEGINNING TO MENACE HARBIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARBIN, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Japanese detachments on the south are being constantly reinforced. Their cavalry divisions east and west of Gunshu Pass have now given place to infantry and field batteries, and all Russian positions leading north to Sungari River are menaced by the enemy's advance. Tuesday night, they attacked in force, just north of Changtu, driving four battalions of Moscow infantry and two squadrons of Usuri cavalry, with three light batteries, from the hills north of Tsulushu.

On the same night, almost half a brigade attacked the Russian position nine miles west of Tsulushu, forcing three battalions to retire northeast, on the railway.

At noon today, the enemy crossed the military road at Santakou, seven miles southeast of Changtu, and, after a severe engagement, forced the retreat of three cavalry squadrons and a mountain battery. This division of the enemy was moving northeast, toward the Kirin road

People Becoming Panicky and Authorities Cannot Conceal Alarm.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ROSTOFF-ON-DON, Russia, April 5.—The Technical Society has adopted a resolution expressing want of confidence in the bureaucracy and declaring that the summoning of the people's representatives to take part in a legislative body is the absolute necessity of the hour.

FORBIDS PETITIONS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

OREL (Russia) April 5.—The Governor of Orloff province has issued a proclamation forbidding petitions regarding the imperial rescript. The liberals charge that this action is in direct violation of the imperial ukase of March 3, granting free right of memorial.

TWO BOMBS UNDER BED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gen. Leontieff has been arrested. Her rooms were searched and two bombs were found under her bed.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—The prospects of a general upheavel of the city and country with the advent of spring increase daily. Evidence accumulates that the radical forces are acting in unison, and awaiting a signal which, it is generally believed, will be given shortly after the Russian Easter. The terrorists are showing great activity and reports from all over the country prove that the workmen, who in many cases have been formulating petty demands which are no sooner granted than they are succeeded by others, are acting under instructions from the revolutionary leaders, who are only biding their time. The employers frankly admit that it is impossible to try to continue their business and some of them have already shut down.

The people are plainly becoming panicky and the authorities also cannot conceal their alarm. The guard regiments, which usually go to camp in April, will be retained in St. Petersburg. It is announced, until June, ostensibly in order to allow the camps to be cleaned, in view of the danger of cholera, which is regarded as being so serious that the sanitary authorities have ordered the immediate cleaning of the streets, sewers, cesspools and canals of the capital and have issued specific instructions to householders, especially in the poorer districts, where the people live in cellars.

BUREAUCRACY IS WARNED.

The dilatory tactics of the government in elaborating the scheme for popular representation provided for in the imperial rescript of March 3, tends to intensify the acuteness of the coming crisis, as the liberals are firmly convinced that the real purpose of the bureaucracy, if the crisis is safely passed, is to smother the whole reform movement. The state of public opinion on this subject is apparent from the fact that over three hundred municipal councils and public institutions have already petitioned for participation in the task of working out the project.

An intimation that it is proposed to send a commission abroad to study the machinery of foreign parliaments, which would require months, has raised another outcry. The Novoe Vremya solemnly warns the government that the situation is too dangerous for such maneuver, declaring that unless the government forms an assembly, and the date of the elections is immediately announced, it will be impossible to restore even a measure of public confidence, and the government will lose all chance of securing the support and the sympathy of the liberals, who do not believe in violence when the disorders, which are predicted for the immediate future, break out.

In the meantime, what is now called the constitutional press adds fuel to the flames by entering on a campaign for exposing corruption and venality in various branches of the administration. Old scandals relative to the transportation of merchant freights, especially on the Siberian railway, have been revived, and from documentary evidence a most rotten state of affairs is shown to exist.

The military authorities control transportation on the Siberian railroad. The General Staff issues permits for every car, and merchants desiring to ship goods to Irkutsk or farther east are compelled to buy such certificates. A regular traffic in them has been exposed, permits bringing from $300 to $500. The authorities then ship the goods as munitions of war, while the latter are side-tracked. A case is cited where it cost a merchant $1453 to get a single car to Irkutsk, and another where a car remained on a siding from May to January because the consignee declined to pay any more money to the military authorities.

GORKY'S SON COMING.
WILL PREACH REVOLUTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nicholi Zavolsky, twenty-one years old, adopted son and trusted lieutenant of Maxim Gorky, the Russian novelist and revolutionist, who recently came to this country, left New oYrk today with three companions to make a tour of the United States to spread the doctrine of revolution among poorer classes. He will travel as a missionary from Gorky with the object of imitating the great Russian writer. Like Gorky, Zavolsky will visit the laboring people of the lowest grades and spread the story of down-trodden Russia.

Zavolsky is a picturesque type of Russian student. Of medium height, with snapping black eyes, black hair and face indicating high intelligence, he is a marked contrast to the average Russian seen in this country.

COSSACKS SCATTER CROWD.
LED OFF IN WARSAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, April 6, 1:15 a.m.—In anticipation of the funeral of a girl who died of wounds received in the fighting Sunday, the workmen of all the factories in the northern part of the city left their work yesterday afternoon and crowded the streets. The police, fearing a hostile demonstration, forbade the funeral and summoned Cossacks, who, using their knouts and swords freely, finally succeeded in dispersing the gathering.

Owing to the close of the University of Warsaw, 1600 students were dismissed yesterday. All students whose conscription was postponed during their university year will be compelled to serve now.

A non-striking workman at the gas works whom the strikers had condemned to death was shot and severely wounded yesterday by a workman, who escaped.

The police and military made a further house-to-house visit in the suburbs of Wola Tuesday night, when they arrested 14 persons and discovered great quantities of revolutionary proclamations.

PEASANTS LOOT AND BURN.
DISORDERS IN THE CAUCASUS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 6.—Official advices report continued disorders in the Caucasus. Within the past week, peasants have looted and burned public offices in many villages in the Gore district, sacked schools and private estates, cutting down trees and threatening to kill the police if they interfered, and forced priests to go with them and take an oath of solidarity with their cause. Similar but less serious disorders are reported to have taken place in the Tiflis district.

At Kishineff, Wednesday night, an unsuccessful attempt was made to assassinate Assistant Police Commissioner Kirighli.

SHOUT TO BALFOUR TO RESIGN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, April 5.—The House of Commons tonight was the scene of a remarkable demonstration, based upon the defeat of a government candidate constituency which for twenty years had not failed to return Conservative or Unionist candidates by majorities of 200 and upward.

The House had engaged in a resolution offered by Sir William Tomlinson, Conservative, declaring for the extension of British cotton-growing territory. When a somewhat desultory and uninteresting debate was dragging on there was a rush of opposition members from the lobbies shouting with joy over the Liberal victory in Brighton, where Gerald Loder was seeking reelection on his recent appointment as Junior Lord of the Treasury, the Liberal candidate being E. Villiers.

"Villiers," was the cry, which was received with cheering. Premier Balfour, who was just then entering the House, was greeted with shouts of "Resign, resign."

Colonial Secretary Lyttleton, who had been speaking when the interruption came, after the demonstration had been quieted, concluded. The resolution was adopted unanimously. Mr. Balfour quitted the House almost immediately.

On motion to adjourn, an extraordinary scene occurred. Mr. Lloyd-George, advanced Liberal, said he had intended to question the Premier on the fate that had befallen a member of the administration at Brighton. He complained that, on receiving notice that the question would be raised, the Premier had deliberately left the House. The Premier's discourtesy to the House, he said, was becoming absolutely offensive. Several members spoke supporting Mr. Lloyd-George, and declaring that the government ought to resign.

Winston Churchill said it looked like the beginning of the end, and that it was retribution for its shams and shuffles, and for the manner in which the Premier had treated Parliament.

Sir Alexander Ackand-Hood, representing the government on the treasury bench, having declined to accede to the request to adjourn till Monday, in order to enable the government to consider its position, the House adjourned amid loud opposition laughter.

BISHOP HAMILTON UNPLEDGED.
NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The one hundred and sixth session of New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church opened today in Madison Avenue Church, presided over by Bishop J. W. Hamilton of San Francisco. In addressing the session today, Bishop Hamilton said he would welcome the presentation of any arguments regarding prospective appointments, but would not be favorably impressed by any attempt to use influence. He said he was aware there had been internal dissensions in the conference, and he wanted it understood he was unpledged.

RUSSIAN DOCTORS DEMAND REFORMS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, April 5.—The congress of doctors from all parts of Russia which was summoned to meet in Moscow under the auspices of the Pirogoen Medical Society to devise means for combating the expected visitation of cholera, which congress was first prohibited but later was granted permission to meet on condition that it discuss only scientific questions, has justified the apprehensions of the authorities by adopting as its first step in the anti-cholera crusade a set of resolutions calling for the carrying out of the whole of the radical political programme.

This grafting of political considerations upon the ostensible medical aims of the gathering is justified, the speakers argue, by the incapacity of the present administration to cope adequately with cholera.

The resolutions declare that an improvement in economic conditions of the people is necessary as a basis for the preservation of health and that for future prevention of epidemics it is imperative to have radical changes in the tax laws, an increase in the quantity of land allotted to peasants and to satisfy the demands of the industrial classes and grant all concessions necessary to completely tranquilize the ignorant population among whom otherwise it will be impossible to institute sanitary measures. Even the lives of doctors, the resolutions aver, would be in danger.

The proposals culminated in a demand for the immediate convocation of a constituent assembly, on the basis of a universal ballot, without distinction to sex, nationality or religion.

The congress, in which there are over 1300 delegates, representing nearly every district of European Russia, also demanded the immediate stoppage of the war, declaring that a policy of conquest and adventure had thrown the country into terrible and extensive poverty, in which cholera would flourish.

This action of the congress was not unexpected, as the medical profession of Russia is largely composed of Jews and Poles and has been subjected to the radical influence of the universities.

The delegates professed extreme alarm at alleged attempts to incite the ignorant classes against the educated liberals, and the whole spirit of the resolutions breathes overtures to the working classes for united action.

Among the demands set forth in the resolution is the transfer of the police to the executives of the local governments; guarantees of freedom of speech, the press and assembly, union and strikes, amnesty for all political and religious prisoners and exile, equality of all nationalities, languages and religions before the law; compulsory education; separation of church and State; introduction of an income tax; abolition of indirect taxes and the main point of the Gapon petition of the St. Petersburg workmen of January 22. One resolution favored responsibility of the ministry to a representative assembly.

After the adoption of the resolution a number of radical speeches were made.

The congress was divided into sections for the discussion of the bacteriological and sanitary aspects of cholera and immediate preventative measures. A number of reports on disinfection were presented. The congress favored it, wherever possible, but declares general compulsory disinfective measures impossible.

The possibility of an outbreak of cholera in the Far East was also discussed.

The local authorities throughout the empire are also aroused to the danger of an epidemic and orders are being issued by all city governments for the cleaning of slums and unsanitary districts and for measures to localize the disease whenever it appears.

Warships Reported Sighted Off Coast of Ceylon.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—A dispatch from the Herald's correspondent at Paris denies the authenticity of an interview with Ambassador Robert S. McCormick, cabled the Herald yesterday from Paris. The dispatch in question quoted the Ambassador as having discussed the war sentiment in Russia, but it now appears, the correspondent explains, that the Ambassador's name was used without warrant.

WARSHIPS OFF CEYLON.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

COLOMBIA (Ceylon) April 5.—The steamer Marmora, which arrived here today, reports sighting at 2 a.m., April 4, three vessels, apparently large warships, 350 miles southeast of Ceylon. The ships, one of which was believed a battleship, were steaming slowly east-northeast.

BERLIN, April 5.—Peace at an early date is regarded as probable by the German embassy at St. Petersburg, the Associated Press is informed. In consequence of dispatches received from there by the government during the last three days, this opinion circulated in official circles for the first time since the war began.

The Russian Emperor, it is true, has not yet decided for peace, but the Grand Dukes and all, or practically all, members of the court who have access to the Emperor, are for peace. His Majesty is described here as standing alone, irresolute. The considerations that still delay his decision are personal ones, he feeling that his reign is a failure if Russia does not win the war and that his prestige as a sovereign will be lost at home and in foreign countries, but he cannot yet bring himself to speak the word that will set the peace negotiations in motion. Much good will and sympathy are felt for the Russian Emperor in higher official life here, but it is regarded as a certainty that he must yield to his family and his ministers, and that the month will not end without peace.

In the meantime, the prospect of peace and the uncertitude of the Emperor weaken the military administration and delay the execution of plans for fresh troops and the gathering of new supplies.

DELCASSE AND MEYER CONFER.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, April 5.—Ambassador Meyer left here today for St. Petersburg. Before his departure, Mr. Meyer met Foreign Minister Delcassé by appointment at the Foreign Office. The details of their conversation naturally have not been disclosed, but there is the best reason to believe that Mr. Meyer's taking up his duties at St. Petersburg led to a general exchange between him and Delcassé relative to the existing political situation and the prospects of peace. However, the meeting was informal and unimportant except in affording an opportunity for a mutual understanding upon various questions involved.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Minister Takahira of Japan called on Secretary Taft today and told him that on account of the state of his health he would be compelled to leave Washington for a different climate. He also stated that there had been no further developments toward a settlement of the war. The Secretary and the Minister arranged to communicate with each other in case anything happened to make it necessary.

"After driving the enemy from the neighborhood of Soumiaotzu, six miles southeast of Tsulushu, our force reached the vicinity of Santaukou, April 4, at noon, when they were fired upon fiercely by about 500 Russian cavalry retreating north along the railway. Our force dispersed them."

RUSSIA'S NEW NAVY.
REPORT ON BUILDING SHIPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The committee appointed to investigate the capacity of Russian shipbuilding concerns for carrying out Russia's new naval programme has reported, showing that the present Baltic yards and machinery shops expanded to fullest capacity could deliver in three years eight of twenty-five big battleships and cruisers, and eight of twenty-four smaller cruisers contemplated.

Given five years, fourteen big ships and seventeen small craft could be completed, while the whole programme can be executed easily in ten years. Russian works are capable of supplying armor for only two and one-half ships yearly.

RUSSIAN LOSSES, 107,000.
COMPLETE RETURNS VIA HARBIN

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HARBIN, April 5.—Complete returns received at headquarters give the total Russian losses in killed, wounded and prisoners at the battle of Mukden as 107,000. The wounded are being taken away from here over the Siberian railroad as rapidly as possible, in order to free the hospitals preparatory to a renewal of the fighting.

By Gen. Linevitch's order, the bands play daily at all the Russian positions.

AUSTRIAN ATTACHE MISSING.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

GEN. KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, April 4, via Fusan, April 5.—The Japanese army has been making a fruitless search for information as to the fate of Count Scheptzissky, captain in the Austrian army and military attaché of that government with the Russian army in Manchuria. Count Scheptzissky has been missing since the battle of Mukden. He is not among the prisoners or wounded in Japanese hands. It is possible, however, he may have escaped into Chinese territory. If killed, he has probably been buried as a Russian, among the dead of that army.

REPORTED ANTI-FOREIGN MOVEMENTS NOT UNUSUAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Russia has been informed by the United States that, so far as the American Minister at Peking, Mr. Conger, has been able to find out, reported anti-foreign movements in China are not unusual in extent or character. The Russian government recently requested Secretary Hay to inquire into this matter, which was a cause of some anxiety at St. Petersburg.

Mr. Conger says that during the past year he received information at various times of the existence and activity of certain secret societies in different provinces. The societies have existed during the whole period of the Manchu rule. The aim of the societies, Mr. Conger says, is the overthrow of the present Manchu dynasty, and at times they have attacked foreigners. Mr. Conger finds that at present these societies are not unusually active except in the province of Kuangsi, and that there the movement is wholly anti-dynastic.

The central government is alert and determined to prevent any disturbance of the peace and earnest in its efforts to protect all foreign lives and property.

LEAVE WOUNDED WITH JAPS.
RUSSIAN RED CROSS REPORT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—Gen. Linevitch has forwarded to War Minister Sakharoff the report of Gen. Couchkoff of the Red Cross service, who has arrived at Russian headquarters with the medical staff left in care of the wounded at Mukden. Gen. Gouchkoff reports that the wounded who remained behind at Mukden included Gen. Gannenfeld, thirty-seven other officers and 1645 men, most of whom were brought in from the field after the evacuation of the city. Twenty Russian Sisters of Mercy, thirty doctors and 150 men of the medical corps have been sent by the Japanese to Chefoo, whence they will be shipped to Russia.

Gen. Gouchkoff pays tribute to the Japanese treatment of the Russian wounded, Sisters of Mercy and doctors.

Russian Officer Has Neurasthenia.
VALLEJO, April 5.—A medical board of survey in the case of Commander Ritchagoff, executive officer of the Russian transport Lena, interned at Mare Island, has recommended that he be sent to Russia for treatment for neurasthenia. As Commander Ritchagoff is under parole, the consent of President Roosevelt will have to be obtained before he can return to Russia.

STILL ON WARPATH.
Well-known Prospector Says Yaquis are Murdering, Pillaging and Burning.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 5.—John St. Clair, a well-known prospector, whose statements are considered reliable, has returned from the Yaqui country near Ures, Sonora, and reports that the Indians are still on the warpath. He says that Malpuche, the old chief, is at the head of a band of over fifty and is devastating the whole country, murdering, pillaging and burning. Grain and cattle ranches are being abandoned and the people are going into the towns for protection.

The whole country is in a state of panic. Mail routes between the small towns have been abandoned and provisions are getting scarce. Although the country is overrun with soldiers, he says the Indians are fearless and continue their depredations. St. Clair does not believe it is safe for Americans to go into the Yaqui country at this time, as the Indians are very hostile to Americans.

While going from Ures to his camp in the mountains, St. Clair heard firing and ran into what had been an Indian ambuscade. He found two dead Mexicans who had been killed only a few minutes before he reached the place. The Yaquis are armed with rifles and are well supplied with cartridges, St. Clair says.

WASTE OF TIME.
Gov. Hoch Expresses Himself on the Friendly Suit to Test Validity of State Refinery Bonds.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) April 5.—Gov. Hoch today said in regard to the "friendly suit" to test the constitutionality of the State refinery bonds:

"I fear the people of Kansas do not fully understand the gravity of the contest in which we are engaged, nor do they fully value the importance of the State refinery.

"I am a firm believer in the law and the Constitution, but it seems to me unfortunate that we should now be compelled to stop in this great work to quibble over a question of constitutionality. We are wasting valuable time when we should be pressing the fight.

"But we have paused to make the test. I don't know what the legal or constitutional aspect of the case may be, but I am convinced that if the people of the State had a chance to express themselves on the subject now, it would not take them long to decide whether it is constitutional or not."

DECISION OF IMPORTANCE.
ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 5.—A special to the Dispatch from Helena, Mont., says that holding that the compiled statutes of Montana referred solely to railroads of commerce and not to street railways, the Supreme Court has effectually disposed of the case of Lizzie Hamilton vs. the Great Falls Street Railway Company, a personal injury case. Miss Hamilton recovered judgment of $20,000, but was made party defendant in a foreclosure suit brought by the Daly Bank Company against the street railway. She contested this on the ground that the statutes made personal injuries a preferred claim over mortgage. The District Court, however, held it was applicable only to steam railroads, which has just been affirmed by the Supreme Court.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Morse Iron Works and Drydocks Company, the largest concern of its kind in this part of the United States, today paid up over $600,000 indebtedness and announces it will resume business at once as an open shop. The Morse Company was brought to the verge of ruin last summer by the exactions of unions, whose demands they tried to meet, but unsuccessfully, in the face of violent competition from Newport News. Strikes and other labor troubles threw the company into a receiver's hands. President Morse announces that under the new open shop policy, the company has unlimited capital and prospects of a large and profitable business.

WILL BUCK SUGAR TRUST.

Hawaiian Planters Not to Renew Contracts.

Arizona Mine Owner Blown Up for Revenge.

The Selma People Spurn Carnegie.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hawaiian sugar planters will buck the sugar trust this year as they have decided not to renew the contract with the American Sugar Refining Company of New York, which expires next September. A strong effort was made by the trust to secure a renewal for three years, but refused to offer terms which were satisfactory to the growers.

The various Hawaiian plantation companies have formed a company known as the Factors Association of Honolulu. After September 1 this company will refine its own sugar, having the refinery at Honolulu and a large plant at Crockett, Cal., which was originally built for a beet sugar factory.

The Hawaiian sugar crop this season will be over 400,000 tons. Under the present agreement which expires September 1, eighty per cent. of this sugar is sent to New York for refining. All this work will be done here.

MINE OWNER BLOWN UP.

VICTIM OF HORRIBLE REVENGE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) April 5.—Details of the killing of A. C. Lamb, a mine owner of Bisbee, 60 miles from Tucson, show that a stick of dynamite was placed under the floor of his frame house. The explosion blew his head entirely from his body. The crime is believed to be the work of people having a grudge against Lamb, who had figured up in jumping a number of claims recently, in this district. Several of the parties have left camp.

Lamb had been mining in Arizona 20 years and owned a number of valuable claims.

SHOOTS ROBBER, FAINTS.

GIRL OF HIGH SCHOOL GIRL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After sending a bullet into the body of a burglar and after following him down a flight of stairs, pistol in hand, Miss Odelia Bailey, a Hanford high school girl, saw blood in profusion on the white curtain of the window out of which the burglar jumped in order to escape. At sight of the blood she was sickened and fainted away. She was found by Dr. W. W. Musgrave, neighbors, who had been attracted by the firing.

Miss Bailey was alone in the house of I. P. Bryner, asleep, when she was awakened by the turning on of the electric light in the room adjoining her. With revolver in hand, she tip-toed to the door, and almost before the surprised intruder could start on his run down stairs she fired the shot that struck him. Without hesitancy, Miss Bailey sped after him.

TEMPERANCE TOWN TORN UP.

SELMA SPURNS CARNEGIE COIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SELMA, April 5.—This temperance town is all torn up over the offer of Andrew Carnegie of $6000 for a public library. While the offer was solicited by prominent townsmen, now that it is offered many church people declare that the town should not disgrace itself by accepting money that they believe tainted.

A movement is on foot to get a remonstrance presented to the city trustees, asking that the offer be refused.

JERRY DINAN BECOMES CHIEF.

NEW HEAD FOR SAN FRANCISCO POLICE DEPARTMENT.

Friend of Mayor Schmitz Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused by Removal of Chief Wittman—New Incumbent Has Good Record as Detective. Poolrooms Still Running.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jeremiah Dinan was elected Chief of Police tonight to succeed George W. Wittman, recently removed.

Jerry Dinan, the new chief, was born in San Francisco in 1863 and at the early age of 24 was made a policeman. He learned the trade of a cooper, but showed so much ability as a police officer in running down criminals that he was made a detective.

Dinan has been on the detective force many years and is regarded as an able man. His running mate has been Ed Wren, and together they have done a considerable amount of confidential work. They handled the Docia Nolan case of recent memory, and they worked up the evidence that led to the prosecution of a band of toughs, among them "Kid" Goucher, who were concerned in the murder of Policeman Eugene Robinson.

Dinan is a friend of Mayor Schmitz. His brother, Sergeant William Dinan, at present holding the position of property clerk in the Hall of Justice, was the Mayor's best man when the present Chief Executive of this city took unto himself a wife.

The Grand Jury today sent the Police Commissioners a communication stating that the jury had evidence that five poolrooms had been running in full operation and announcing that complete evidence of the fact had been secured and was at the disposal of the commission. The commission decided to hear the evidence next week.

HATES TO "GROW UP LADY."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Weeping and protesting six-year-old Emily Wallace Robertson listened in court today to Judge Honore's decision that she must leave the home of her mother's relatives and go to live with a wealthy aunt in London to "grow up a lady." Judge Honore affirmed his belief that the best interests of the child was with her father's English relatives rather than the modest cottage where she has lived since the death of her parents. The case was contested for more than a year.

MAYOR-ELECT AFTER POINTS ON MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

Judge Plans to Have Glasgow Expert in Chicago to Give New Administration Benefit of Latter's Experience and Ideas—Wells Safely Wins Stubborn St. Louis Fight.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—President Mitchell of the Illinois Trust and Savings Bank, chairman of the Organization Committee of the Chicago City Railway, said today: "I take Judge Dunne to be a sensible, rational man. This being the case, the traction question can be settled with him in a sensible, rational way. We are prepared and willing to sell out our property to the city. We can get together, I am sure. The only question will be the price."

CHICAGO, April 5.—Mayor-elect Dunne today discussed a plan to request the Mayor of Glasgow, Scotland, to send to Chicago an expert on municipal ownership of railways. Judge Dunne proposes to have the Glasgow expert visit Chicago and remain here for sixty or ninety days, or until such a time as the Mayor-elect and advisors shall have absorbed all the municipal-ownership ideas prevalent in Glasgow, and other Scotch cities where public ownership is in vogue.

Judge Dunne began preparations today to leave the bench. He will assume his new duties April 10.

Dunne's plurality is 24,061. Other pluralities are: For City Treasurer, Block (Dem.) 13,769; for City Clerk, Anson (Dem.) 24,232; for City Attorney, Smulski (Rep.) 17,596.

FIGURES FROM ST. LOUIS.

ISSUE WAS LONG IN DOUBT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Complete first returns from last night's municipal election give Mayor Rolla Wells (Dem.) candidate for reelection, a plurality of 1448 over Judge John A. Talty (Rep.) The vote for the candidates was as follows: Wells, 44,206; Talty, 42,760; Lee Merriweather (Ind. Public Ownership,) 327.

Never before in the history of St. Louis has a Mayoralty election been fought so stubbornly. Until complete returns from the last ward had been received the issue was in doubt, and the official canvass of the returns may yet change the complexion of the result.

The other candidates for city offices either ran slightly ahead or behind their party leaders, and Democrats and Republican about equally divided honors of the offices other than that of Mayor.

The proposition to increase the bonded indebtedness of the city by $9,000,000, for the purpose of making public improvements, which was strongly indorsed by Mayor Wells and his party, was overwhelmingly defeated. Two amendments to the city charter were also defeated by large majorities.

The new City Council will stand seven Republicans and six Democratic members.

SAYS SHE WAS JOBBED.

Widow Hoxie Says Mining Promoter Elliott Swindled Her in Mining Deal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Allegations purporting to show that Mrs. Mary J. Hoxie a Chicago widow, was tricked out of stock worth $3,000,000 in the Bradshaw Mountain Copper Mining and Smelting Company of Prescott, Arizona, are made in a suit in the Supreme Court against John L. Elliott, a mining promoter. Mrs. Hoxie alleged she bought this stock in June, 1903, when the company was in financial distress, for $350,000, providing the output of the mines were 300 tons a day. The further allegation is made that the defendant placed in charge of the mine an engineer who kept the output down to discourage the plaintiff and force her to dispose of her stock. Elliott, in his answer before Justice Davis today, in a motion to vacate the injunction, asserted that the stock had been regularly purchased by the defendant from plaintiff for $300,000 last December.

The Bradshaw Mountain Mining Company is said to own one of the richest mines in Arizona and Mrs. Hoxie says there is $10,000,000 in ore in sight.

The company became embarrassed by the burning of its smelter several months ago and Mrs. Hoxie was induced, she says, to surrender her stock to Elliott, together with control of the directory.

BONES OF PAUL JONES.

St. Paul Editor Now in Southern California Says They Rest in Native Soil.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Joseph A. Wheelock, editor-in-chief of the Pioneer Press, and one of the best known newspaper editors in the West, has discovered what he thinks are the bones of John Paul Jones. In a dispatch from Redlands, Cal., Wheelock states that the grave is not in Paris, as supposed by Ambassador Porter, who has searched the old cemeteries of Paris for the grave, but the remains of the great American naval hero repose among his kindred in his birthplace, Dumfries, Scotland. This report is vouched for by Mrs. Preston, also a native of Dumfries, who states that Jones's mother had the remains transported from Paris, and buried in the Dumfries Cemetery. Although buried in his birthplace, Jones could not avoid the evil fame he had acquired among his countrymen by his exploits in the capture and destruction of British ships in neighboring seas, and in raiding coast towns of the British isles, and the gravestone which marks his last resting place bears the sinister inscription, "John Paul Jones, the Black Pirate."

RICH GERMAN KILLED IN DUEL.

BERLIN, April 5.—Emil Zeppiltz, a wealthy planter or German Southwest Africa, who was a delegate appointed to arrange with the government for compensation to German settlers as the result of damages sustained on account of the native insurrection, was killed in a duel yesterday by Franz Von Coblinski, an official of the Borsiag Machinery Works. Zeppiltz fell at the first discharge with a bullet through his stomach.

OPEN DOOR IN MOROCCO.

Germany Outlines Its Policy to United States.

Its Attitude is the Same as Regards Far East.

Anglo-French Entente Cuts No Ice With Kaiser.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Germany has outlined to the United States in clear and emphatic terms the position claimed by the Berlin government in Morocco. Upon the receipt of instructions this morning from Berlin, the German Ambassador called at the War Department upon Secretary Taft, whom the President, before leaving, designated as the Cabinet officer with whom the ambassadors should confer, and in the name of the German Emperor left with the Secretary a brief memorandum setting forth the Moroccan policy which Germany has all along pursued and from which she does not purpose to be swerved.

In substance, the memorandum, which is couched in the most explicit language, announces that "Germany stands for the 'open door' in Morocco no less firmly than in the Far East, for the preservation of the Moroccan status quo and for the safeguarding and protection of the commercial and trade interests, not only of Germany, but of all the trading nations of the world."

COMMERCIAL IMPORTANCE.

After presenting the memorandum, the Secretary and the Ambassador had a brief conversation on the subject of Morocco, Baron Sternberg calling attention to the commercial importance of that country to the trading nations, and emphasizing the international importance of Germany's opinion of the preservation there of the "open door." The Secretary thanked the Ambassador for his explicit statement of the German policy and promptly forwarded the ememorandum to President Roosevelt.

In conferring with Secretary Taft the German Ambassador was acting upon a suggestion made to him when he called at the White House last week to say good-by to the President. The President then took occasion to say to the German envoy, as he had said to the other ambassadors, that they were to communicate with him through Secretary Taft upon matters warranting his consideration.

Secretary Taft, while expressing interest in the Emperor's views, refrained from committing this government on the subject, nor did the Ambassador in any way endeavor to sound him as to the President's attitude. There is no request for a statement of the Washington government's position in the matter.

FRANCE NOT MENTIONED.

Although France is not mentioned in the memorandum, it can be stated that Germany regrets that she was not officially advised of the new positions in Morocco contemplated by Great Britain and France, which was later disclosed in the treaty signed last spring, in which the London government referred to the superior interest of France in Morocco. Germanw holds that her interests in Morocco are in every respect equal to those of Great Britain, and the establishment by any power there of a special sphere of influence would be deplored in Berlin.

Regarding the Emperor's visit to Tangier, although it was in the line of his cruise in the Mediterranean, the object of his address was, it can be stated on high authority, to impress the Moroccans with the seriousness of Germany's desire that the status quo should be maintained and that the principle of the "open door" laid down by Secretary Hay with reference to China should be strictly adhered to in Morocco.

SIGNIFICANT COINCIDENCE.

In diplomatic circles the significance of Germany's frank avowal at Washington of her views about Morocco is not underestimated, and the incident has attracted all the more attention because of its occurrence on the day on which the Washington government officially disclosed the initial role played by Emperor William in the exchanges of the powers last year regarding Chinese neutrality in the Far Eastern war. Some diplomats believe the object of the German representations at this time is to evoke from Washington a similar avowal of adherence to the "open door" policy in Morocco.

Although Secretary Taft was not so informed, nor does his memorandum indicate it, it is believed here that a similar statement of Germany's views may have been addressed also to St. Petersburg and Madrid.

No official statement of the German position is obtainable at the German Embassy here, in view of the fact that President Roosevelt has scarcely had time to consider the memorandum.

GERMANY'S PROPOSAL.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, April 5.—The German government would be pleased to see the Morocco question settled by an international conference. The Foreign Office has not proposed this to the powers, but it is inquiring at other capitals whether such a plan would be received favorably. There is nothing here to indicate that France and Great Britain would agree to this. Germany hoped the United States might be willing to take part in an international conference on the subject, although apparently nothing encouraging has resulted from Ambassador Speck von Sternberg's communication of last week.

WILLIAM AT NAPLES.

FEELS AT HOME IN ITALY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NAPLES, April 5.—Emperor William arrived here today on board the steamer Hamburg, amidst the booming of cannon and ringing hurrahs from thousands gathered about the harbor and in steamers, sailing craft and rowboats to greet him, while the Italian and German colors waved everywhere. The Duke of Aosta, eldest cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, went immediately on board the Hamburg to welcome the Emperor in the name of King Victor Emmanuel, informing the Emperor that the King will come to Naples tomorrow to see him. Emperor William replied that he never feels so much at home as when he is in Italy.

ANGLO-FRENCH ENTENTE.

SIGNIFICANT AMENITIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, April 5.—King Edward's passage through France tomorrow on his way to Marseilles and his meeting with President Loubet are attracting notable attention. The officials here do not wish the meeting to assume political significance in connection with the Morocco incident. Nevertheless, a large section of the press and public will attach significance to the exchange of Anglo-French amenities immediately following Germany's announcement that she does not accept the Anglo-French agreement relative to Morocco. Similar popular significance is attached to the meeting of the French and British squadrons off Spithead in the summer, though the arrangements for the meeting long preceded the Morocco incident, and it has not the slightest relation thereto. Nevertheless, the coming friendly gathering of formidable French and British squadrons brings out much comment.

An effort is again being made to create an impression here that the United States has an understanding with Germany relative to Morocco, but the authorities are satisfied that the report is misleading and false.

Similar discredit is given to a Naples dispatch saying that King Victor Emmanuel will utilize Emperor William's presence at Naples today to efface the misunderstandings growing out of the Morocco incident. Despite all reports, it is positively known that Italy is maintaining complete reserve relative to Morocco.

EDWARD AND LOUBET.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR MEETING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, April 5.—Definite arrangements have been made for a brief meeting between King Edward and President Loubet while the former passes through France on his way to Marseilles tomorrow to join Queen Alexandra on board the royal yacht Victoria and Albert. The President will enter the royal train at Pierre Fitte, and will accompany the King to the Lyons railway station.

More Manifestoes Issued in the Equitable Assurance Society's War of Words—Mr. Harriman Makes a Statement—Crisis Expected to be Reached at Today's Meeting.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—The course which the Hyde forces will pursue in tomorrow's special meeting of the Equitable Life Assurance Society's directors was forecasted tonight in a statement given out by one of Hyde's friends.

The statement asserts that Mr. Alexander will be called upon to explain to the directors why he sent a letter requesting the Commissioner of Insurance to make an examination of the society without having informed the Executive Committee, and that he also will be called upon to explain "his conduct in assailing the personal integrity of his associate, James Hazen Hyde, the vice-president, Jacob H. Schiff and E. H. Harriman, directors of the society, and causing the publication of matter derogatory to them."

Continuing, the statement says:

"Both Mr. Alexander and Mr. Tarbell will be called upon to explain the sale of the renewal account of the sum of $135,000 on the day that the memorable petition asking for the removal of Mr. Hyde was presented to the board of directors.

"Mr. Alexander will be charged with having retained Frank H. Platt to organize what is commonly known as the Crimmins policy holders' protective committee, for the express purpose of assailing the board of directors and maligning James Hazen Hyde, the vice-president, and also impairing public confidence in the management of the society.

"Mr. Alexander will also be charged with having instigated the suit known as the Brackett-Mary Young suit and the action taken by Senator Brackett in the office of the Attorney-General, and also in the Legislature—acts which are detrimental to the good name of the society."

A statement was also given out tonight by the so-called Crimmins policy holders' committee, outlining its progress up to date.

MR. HARRIMAN'S STATEMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—E. H. Harriman made a statement in reference to the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society today. He said he had caused his books to be examined for nearly four years back and found there were no transactions between himself and the Equitable Society other than one loan, which loan was paid off more than a year ago, because he was not willing to pay the rate of interest required by the society. As to the companies in which he is interested, Mr. Harriman said that he had no recollection, nor did he believe that there was any financial transaction between the society and these companies, either directly or indirectly, nor had any sale of securities been made by any of these companies because of the possibility of the Equitable Society becoming interested therein.

Mr. Harriman further said that many of the bonds now held by the Equitable were evidently purchased through other parties in the open market, and probably before he had any interest in the Union Pacific or Central Pacific and allied lines. As to the purchases from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of certain bonds, he said his company had no interest or connection whatever.

"When this controversy was called to my attention," said Mr. Harriman, "I had my life insured in the Equitable—this was about six weeks ago. I used to carry quite a line of insurance in the Equitable, New York Life, Connecticut Mutual and one or two other companies—I do not recall their names—most of which have expired and been paid."

As to the ownership of stock in the Equitable company, Mr. Harriman declined to state whether he owned stock or not, as he said he would so decline regarding the ownership of the stock of any other company with which he might be connected.

Mr. Harriman said that in discharging his duties as trustee of the Equitable, his position was the same as all other trustees. He had attended meetings, he had heard reports from various committees, such as the Auditing Committee, the officers of which committee he regarded as trustworthy, and in each case when he was present these reports, particularly those emanating from the president, were, in effect, that the society was very prosperous and laudatory as to the loyalty, integrity and energy of all its officers. The last meeting at which the officers' reports were presented, he said, was one about two months previous to the meeting at which the mutualization plan was presented.

"It did not seem possible to me," continued Mr. Harriman, "that such a change could have taken place all in two months."

Jacob H. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. has not resigned from the Finance Committee of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, but he has not attended the committee meetings recently. He said today that he had intended to leave the city for a brief holiday today, but was delayed in his departure to attend tomorrow's special meeting of the Equitable directors.

GREETING AT ATOKA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ATOKA (I. T.) April 5.—President Roosevelt and his party were greeted here by 5000 people, including a thousand children and many full-blooded Indians. Crowds came from all surrounding towns. The business houses were decorated and many banners bearing Statehood inscriptions were strung across the streets. The President made a brief speech and was cheered heartily.

CHILDREN TO THE FRONT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SOUTH M'ALESTER (I. T.) April 5.—Statehood was the President's text at this place. He told the people that Indian Territory would probably come into the Union in a year's time.

"Let the children come to the front," said the President, as the crowd thronged around his car, and the children did come to the front with a rush, the grown-ups standing by to make room. The President, after repeating his remarks of earlier in the day, regarding Statehood, said:

"I am particularly glad to greet everywhere I have been today so many school children. I need not tell you that what really counts in any State is the character of men and women who make up that State. You have a wonderful soil, a wonderful climate. You have developed great industries. But all of that will not avail if you don't have the right type of men and women in the State. That is what counts. I believe you are getting that type. I believe you are paying heed to the education of the young people, of these boys and girls that I see before me, who, in ten or fifteen years will be running things. [Applause.]

"I do not want to preach, but I do want to say just a word or two to make you understand the responsibility that rests upon you. Rightfully, we take the most intense pride in our country. But even more important than being proud of it now, is to see that those who come after us will have the same right to feel proud of it that we have. We are proud now of what our fathers did in the days that tried men's souls, and in time of war or in peace, we must so conduct ourselves that those who come after us will have the same right to be proud of their ancestors of this generation, that we have to be proud of our ancestors of the Civil War."

Jumps from Fast Train in Iowa to Escape Arrest on Criminal Charge at Omaha—Picked up in Semi-conscious Condition—Severely Cut and Bruised.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CARROL (Iowa) April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Just as Marshal Chambers of this city went to arrest him on a Northwestern passenger train near here this morning, Dr. J. A. McDonald, who is wanted in Omaha for obtaining money under false pretenses, leaped through a window of the coach in which he was sitting and tried to escape.

The train was running at a high speed. It was stopped immediately, and the Marshal found his man lying beside the track in a semi-conscious state, and with his head and body severely cut and bruised. He was arrested, and will be taken to Omaha when the necessary requisition papers are obtained.

McDonald hails from Santa Barbara, Cal., and on his person sixteen canceled checks on the Central Bank of that city were found. He is believed to be a notorious confidence man and crook, and to be wanted in a number of cities for various offenses.

Young New York Millionaire to Wed Jewess Who Formerly Rolled Cigars.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Society on one hand and East Side Jewish circles on the other were surprised by the announcement of the marriage in the near future of J. G. Phelps Stokes, the millionaire son of Anson Phelps Stokes, and Rose Harriet Pastor, a young Jewish woman, formerly employed as a cigar roller in a Cleveland factory, where her parents immigrated from Russia.

Miss Pastor recently was employed as a clerk at the office of her fiancé, who is a university settlement worker, and the young people were continually together.

Miss Pastor has written a number of poems and short stories, which appeared in the Jewish Review and Observer of Cleveland and several New York newspapers. As she had inveighed bitterly against intermarriage of Jews and Christians, her friends cannot account for her change of attitude.

MAHOGANY MEN IN BAD WAY.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Three small creditors Tuesday filed a petition in bankruptcy against the International Mahogany Company, organized sixteen months ago with a capital stock of $3,500,000 to exploit large tracts of mahogany timber in Cuba and Mexico. Judge Holt of the United States District Court appointed John B. Lord receiver of the assets, with a bond of $2500. The company has a large amount of mahogany wood at Green Point, Brooklyn, on which liens have been given for money advanced to the amount of $50,000, held by four banks. The free assets consist of office furniture valued at $1000. Lands in Cuba and Mexico nominally owned by the company, being in foreign countries, cannot be taken by the receiver. Officials of the company expect to reorganize and pay its debts.

Earthquakes Kill Many Natives and Some Europeans and Raze Building—People Living in Open and Suffering from Frost.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CALCUTTA, April 5.—Later accounts from various cities tell a tale of severe damage to property arising from the earthquake on the morning of April 4, but it is impossible as yet to estimate the extent of the loss of life. No news has yet been received of damage to buildings at Agra. No loss of life is reported from Delhi, but many buildings were damaged.

Visitors from Mussoree report considerable damage to private property. It is a curious fact that the older houses in Mussoree escaped with less damage than modern buildings. The only fatalities yet reported there were two natives. Many houses were completely demolished. The fissures in the roads have been closed and repairs to buildings have been started. The weather was bright and warm when the earthquake occurred. Four or five shocks yesterday evening caused a slight recrudescence of the panic.

Dharmsala Station, eighty-five miles northwest of Simla, was destroyed, all the houses in the place being leveled to the ground and some Europeans and many natives killed. Ladies and children are sleeping in the open air. Food is not procurable, as the bazaar is in ruins. Urgent demands for medical assistance have been sent to Lahore. Reports indicate that Dharmsala felt the full force of the shock. The deaths include C. W. Loxton, who only the previous day had assumed the office of District Judge from Capt. Elliott, who with his family left the same day, escaping the shock. Mrs. Loxton's fate is not known. Others who perished were F. M. Levi, C. T. Young, T. Miller and F. Farleys, all public officials; Capt. Muscroft, Mrs. and the two Misses Robinson. Col. Robinson appears to have survived.

The hills show the worse effects of the shock, though information is very meager from some of the summer stations where telegraph offices have not yet been opened, like the Vale of Kashmir, communication with which has evidently been cut by landslides or accidents to the line.

At Frozur (forty miles southeast of Lahore,) Amtritsar, Tarana, Dehra Dun and Srinagar, many natives were killed or injured.

Personal stories from Mussoree state that the reverberation which preceded the shock never will be forgotten by those who heard it. The mountains heaved and swayed a full minute and then three severe shocks each lasting a few seconds were felt in quick succession. Between 6 o'clock in the morning of April 4 and midnight there were twelve shocks. The day was fine and clear and most of the inhabitants were already up when the first shock came. Those who were still in bed described the motion as being like that of a ship in a rough sea, while those on foot found it impossible to maintain their balance. Many narrow escapes are reported. The effect of the shock in sickness and dizziness with many still continues. A number of people slept outdoors during the whole of last night.

NATIVES BURIED IN RUINS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LAHORE (British India) April 5.—The Hill Station at Dharmsala was practically razed to the ground by the earthquakes. The native quarters were entirely obliterated, many of the inhabitants were buried in the ruins, most of the houses in the European quarters were wrecked and nine persons were killed.

The people are sleeping in the open air, food is not procurable and the great distress prevailing is accentuated by frost. The entire population is homeless and encamped on the adjoining hillsides without protection and practically without medical aid. A relief party was despatched from here to Dharmsala today.

The Europeans killed at Dharmsala were Mrs. Robinson, wife of the colonel commanding the troops there, and her two daughters; Mrs. Holderness, Capt. Muscroft and four members of the Indian Civil Service.

Reports from various places indicate that the earthquakes caused very widespread disturbance. Several towns were badly shaken and damaged and great damage and loss of life are reported from Kashmir, Dalhousie, Dehradum, Patrala and Malerkotla.

The telegraph service is disorganized and news is coming in slowly.

Seventy natives were killed and many were injured when the native quarter of Lahore was demolished by yesterday's earthquake.

The Mohammedans here are parading the streets, wailing and praying for deliverance from further visitations.

NEW ESPEE OUTLET FOR LOCAL TRAFFIC.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Southern Pacific is to have another Eastern outlet from Los Angeles by which it proposes to relieve the Coast traffic, to secure quicker service for fruit transportation and to overcome the excessive Hazen grade. Articles of incorporation were filed today by the law department of the company of the Nevada and California Railway Company, with a capital stock of $15,000,000, of which $457,000 has been subscribed. William F. Herrin, chief counsel, is credited with $227,000 of the subscription, and Chief Engineer Hood with a like amount. Other Southern Pacific officials have subscribed $1000 each. The articles of incorporation say that the company proposes building a line from Hazen, Churchill county, Nevada, southward "to a point on the Mojave desert" and a branch line twenty-seven miles long from Churchill, a station on the Carson and Colorado road, to Mound House Station on the Virginia and Truckee Railroad. The intention is to effect connection between Los Angeles and Hazen, with the aid of the Carson and Colorado road, by laying a trifle over 300 miles of track. The new road will practically isolate the Virginia and Truckee road except for local traffic.

Mayor McClellan Does Not Want to Go to Prison, So Refuses Money for Marrying Couple.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Howard Crosby Warren, a professor in Princeton University, and Catherine Campbell of Indianapolis, Ind., were married at the City Hall by Mayor McClellan today. An incident occurred in connection with the marriage which led the Mayor to publicly proclaim that he is proscribed by law from accepting fees for a marriage ceremony. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bets man handed the Mayor an envelope containing a fee.

"Don't do that," said the Mayor. "Don't give it to anybody else, either."

The best man was plainly disconcerted, and the Mayor was asked why he would not accept the fee, or why no one else could have it.

"Because," he replied, "I don't want to see any one go to State's prison. No one can take any fee for work done here."

American Correspondents of Russian Papers Spreading Queer Ideas.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, April 5.—Queer ideas of American life are being disseminated by American correspondents of Russian papers.

A correspondent of the Journal de St. Petersburg draws a rare picture of the dishonesty which, he says, pervades the highest circles, including men, women and children. He describes the precautions taken by social leaders to prevent their guests from being robbed by one another and tells of the consternation produced at a White House reception by a sudden failure of the lights, the re-illumination, showing that the ladies had hastily divested themselves of their jewels and concealed them, and the men holding their pocketbooks for fear of being pounced upon and robbed by neighbors.

AMERICANIZING CANADA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative McCreary of Minnesota, who has been for years an ardent student of Canadian conditions, announced today that, in his judgment, Canada was about ready to cut loose from England for utter independence or annexation to the United States.

"It will come very shortly, and England will accept the situation gracefully," said the Congressman tonight. "Canada has always been an expense to the mother country, and England will not say nay, but rather 'Bless you, my children,' and let it go at that. Thousands of Americans are settling in the rich Canadian Northwest, and these will eventually bring Canada into the American Union."

ALL QUIET IN HAYTI.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A cablegram from Minister Powell at Port au Prince was received at the State Department today, which gives assurance that everything was quiet in Hayti, and that the cruiser Brooklyn, which went to Haytien waters on rumors of gathering revolutionists, has been ordered away. Rumors have reached Minister Powell of some trouble at Monte Cristi in Santo Domingo, but nothing of a definite character is known. Reference to the uprising probably relates to the disturbance reported a few days ago. The Brooklyn is going to Monte Cristi, where Admiral Sigsbee will shift his flag from the Newark to the Brooklyn.

PORTLAND MINING CASE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS (Iowa) April 5.—The defense scored a point in the Portland mining case today, when minutes of a meeting held by the company in October, 1904, were introduced, showing that the salaries of Burns as manager and James Doyle, assistant manager, were at that time raised to $800 a month. Burns testified yesterday that in the latter part of 1904, when Doyle transferred stock to himself in order to escape injunction proceedings, Doyle had no other source of revenue than his dividends. On redirect examination, today Burns said that answers filed in his name in Colorado suits, containing pleadings at variance with his present contentions, were prepared by attorneys without his sanction.

CASE OF SMITHS PUT OVER.

CINCINNATI (O.) April 5.—The habeas corpus hearing of J. Morgan Smith and his wife was adjourned until next Monday. Bail was fixed at $2000, but was not immediately forthcoming, and the prisoners were taken back to the county jail. The police court case was adjourned until Friday to permit the disposition of the habeas corpus matter prior to any other action. The first affidavit, which charges conspiracy to murder, was replaced by the new one, giving the charge of conspiracy to extort money, quoting with verbal exactness from the copy of the New York indictment, which had arrived since the swearing out of the earlier affidavit.

ROCKLAND (Me.) April 5.—A wholesale grocery store here owned by Gov. William Cobb and others was raided by the sheriff and deputies. A large stock of a patent medicine said to contain a high percentage of alcohol was seized, on the ground that offering the preparation for sale is in violation of the Maine prohibition laws. In addition, the sheriff seized the entire stock of the city agency. The charge is made that the city of Rockland has been engaging in the sale of liquor in violation of the laws of the State.

CINCINNATI (O.) April 5.—A stay of execution in the sentence of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick has been authorized by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Action Against the Standard Oil Company in Chicago for Forty Millions.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—The city of Chicago today filed suit for $40,000,000 against the Standard Oil Company. The bill is based upon an alleged non-payment of inspection fees by the Standard Oil Company. It is claimed that the company has for years refused to pay for inspections made by the city under an ordinance regulating commerce in naphtha and gasoline. Representatives of the Standard Oil Company held that gasoline and naphtha are not products of petroleum and that the ordinance does not apply.

MUTILATED CO FOUND

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What promises to be one of the most remarkable murder mysteries in the history of the city was revealed tonight when the fearfully mangled body of a young man of about 16 was found in a sack at Powell and Vallejo streets. The body lacked head, arms and feet. These had been roughly hacked off, evidently by an ax in the hands of one who had no knowledge of anatomy. There was absolutely nothing on the body to identify it. The corpse was that of a white boy, well nurtured.

Residents of neighborhood declare that about 9:30 o'clock they saw a man come down Powell street with a large gunny sack over his shoulders. When he reached the corner of Vallejo, opposite the old Washington Square, he eased his burden to the ground for a moment later he crossed the street and disappeared in the square. After a few moments curiosity prompted an investigation of the sack, when the bleeding and still warm corpse was found.

CANAL DIFFICULTIES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Chief Engineer Wallace of the Panama Canal commission first learned of his appointment on the new commission upon his arrival here today on the steamer Advance, from Colon.

"I read in a paper brought by the pilot that I had been appointed on the new commission," said Mr. Wallace, "but I know nothing of the particulars. Of course, I know something of my appointment, as the matter was discussed by Secretary Taft when he visited the isthmus last December. Everything is quiet in the canal zone and I know nothing new there."

Speaking of the difficulties of building the canal, Mr. Wallace said:

"It is surprising what wrong impressions prevail in this country about the canal. The control of the Chagres, for instance, has been much misunderstood. The cost of this work will be only 5 per cent. of the total cost of building the canal. The difference in level between the Pacific and the Caribbean Sea can be controlled by tides alone, although this is not necessary with a sea-level canal. The tide in the Pacific rises ten feet higher and falls ten feet lower than it does in the Caribbean. The canal, however, will be forty-seven miles long and will take up this difference. We do not place a dam at Bandy Hook to control the tide in the Hudson, and that river is always navigable. So will the canal be navigable at all times. I go immediately to Washington."

Boyers says he was employed for years by the McGilvray Stone Company and installed the first stone-planing machine used in this State. As superintendent of McGilvray's stone yard, he instructed others how to operate it, and additional machines were brought into use there. The effect was the cost of cut stone was

MUTILATED CORPSE FOUND IN A SACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What promises to be one of the most remarkable murder mysteries in the history of the city was revealed tonight when the fearfully mangled body of a young man of about 16 was found in a sack at Powell and Vallejo streets. After a few moments curiosity prompted an investigation of the sack, when the bleeding and still warm corpse was found.

A large force of police and detectives are out scouring the neighborhood for clues, as the police believe that the bleeding body was only brought a short distance, owing to the fact that warmth was still in the body when found.

WRAPPED IN A BLANKET.

LATER.—Instead of a sack, as at first reported, a red blanket was tightly tied about the body with a piece of stout cord. The cord is considered a strong point of evidence that may tend to enable the detectives to ferret out the perpetrators of the tragedy.

A careful examination of the cord shows that it is of a size and texture such as is used by Italian fishermen in the making of nets. Another important piece of evidence is the single knot with which it was tied. It is not a landsman's knot, but one such as might be used by a fisherman or a sailor.

George J. Olivia is the witness who saw the butchered body wrapped in the blanket, borne along the street to the point where it was dropped on the sidewalk. According to Olivia's story, he saw the man drop the bundle and then he followed him, getting a good look at his face, which was clean shaven. He then returned and examined the bundle, discovering the corpse.

In 1902, the Journeymen Stonecutters' Association of North America amended their constitution so as to declare stone-planing machines should be operated by stonecutters only. The branch here then demanded that operators be discharged and union stonecutters be put in their places. The employers refused, but a strike forced them to yield.

When let out, the planers formed an organization and sought a charter from the American Federation of Labor, proposing to affiliate with the San Francisco Labor Council. The union stonecutters prevented them from getting a charter. They also refused to admit Boyer into their union.

While the guard was being changed, a (afterward) prisoner was observed to be acting suspiciously and the officer in command observed that the sabre worn by him belonged not to a Cossack but to an officer of infantry. He was thereupon arrested.

"A packet was afterward found in the palace, containing documents. Searching inquiry is being instituted, the result being that twelve secret police agents were arrested as implicated."

SIDE TALKS BY THE OFFICE BOY

The boy with long, flaxen curls looks a great deal prettier to his mother than to the short-haired little boys who play with him. You remember the wide, loose Windsor ties those little kids used to wear. Well, they're the swellest ties this year for everybody. I think we sell as many to women for their own use as to men. The really truly swell material is silk crepe. We have them in nearly every conceivable color at 25c. Another new fad for men is a canary-colored undressed glove for street wear. Our buyer never overlooks a new trick. It's impossible for anything new to be in a New York window many days before it appears in a Silverwood window. Take it in our tailoring department, we've got the most beautiful assortment of woolens human eyes could conceive. It's really a shame to make them up for $30.00, $35.00, and $40.00, but the old man makes the prices himself and if he wants to give them away it's up to him. Down at our Broadway store we are showing our new ready-to-wear two-piece suits. We claim the line to be the cleverest on the market. Hundreds of people who bought our make last year will state that they're the best-fitting garments they ever wore.

BEEF TRUST INQUIRY.

Prices Paid for Live Stock, Rebates by Railroads and Other Matters Being Probed.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, April 5.—Prices paid for live-stock by the packers, alleged rebates granted the packers by the railroads for the handling of the same, and the private accounts of some of the packing concerns are to be closely inquired into within the next few days by the Federal grand jury which is investigating the business affairs of the so-called beef trust.

Another phase of the question of the alleged combination of some of the packers in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and Judge Grosscup's injunction which is to be inquired into, is the price paid by wholesale dealers to the packers for meats. Witnesses who can give the jurors detailed and accurate information along these lines have been subpoenaed and appeared at the investigation today. Some of these witnesses testified and although they refused to make public what they told the jury, it is said a large amount of data valuable to the government was secured from them.

More complaints of interference with the witnesses reached United States Attorney Bethea and Captain Porter of the Secret Service during the day. The session today was devoted to the examination of men employed at the Chicago Stock Yards and packing-houses.

With the exception of the Sunday adjournment, the jury, it is said, will now proceed steadily to the end of the inquiry. The United States Attorney has announced that May 15 would probably see the close. It is said the hearing of the plea and demurrer of Thomas J. Connors, the indicted superintendent of the Armour Company, will be disposed of before the jury presents other true bills involving persons on charges of tampering with witnesses.

AND THE POOR BEGGAR DIED.

Now Lawrence Announces His Epitaph.

Sunday-school Workers Have a Good Day.

Excellent Reports are Made by the Officers.

Marion Lawrence was announced to talk on "Teaching" at the afternoon session of the State Sunday-school Convention yesterday, but when he appeared he was under orders from the Executive Committe to talk for money. It was not for himself, but in order that the general secretary might have an office and the work be otherwise properly forwarded. Already pledges were in hand for $1900, but it was desired to make it $2500, and Mr. Lawrence was put up to get the other $600, and he got it. His text was:

"You can give without loving, but you can't love without giving."

"When I die," he said, "I will have a Bible epitaph—'And the beggar died.' I had something to do with sending Mr. Gibson to you, and you can trust him anywhere. He is genuine, capable and loyal and he is a coming factor in Sunday-school affairs of your State."

With the aid of a blackboard, Mr. Lawrence raised the desired sum in about an hour, and when he called for the last dollar, there was a rattle of yells from all over, and enough went into the basket to considerably pass the limit.

Mrs. Stella B. Irvine delivered a strong address on temperance, urging organization in every county and in every Sunday-school. She has a splendid voice, and is an orator.

David P. Ward, who spoke upon "The Supreme Problem," said it was not methods, numbers nor buildings, but that Christ shall be enthroned in the hearts of the girls and boys.

W. G. Renwick of Claremont, secretary of the Ninth District Baraca Union of America, presented that method of Bible study to the convention.

WHISPER OF POLITICS.

Great audiences gathered at the sessions yesterday, and the exercises were interesting and inspiring. Hugh C. Gibson, general secretary for Southern California, made his first appearance, and it was a common remark: "We want more of Gibson."

About the vestibule and committee rooms there were whispers that somebody was "doing politics," in shaping up the reports of some of the committees, and it developed that Los Angeles city had been ignored in making up the committees, although she has a larger contituency than her own county, by long odds, and equal to the sum total of the other eight counties combined.

GOSPEL IN SONG.

Under the title of "Gospel in Song," R. N. Jeffery sang a fine number, which brought him great applause and a demand for more from the audience. "The Prophet's Call" from his lips was as much a sermon as it is possible for a song to be, and Mr. Jeffery is making for himself a place that is more than a leader of singing. He has a fine voice and a sweet spirit.

The first report of Secretary Gibson was also out of the ordinary rut. It was a sermon of great power, delivered in a masterly way, and filled the delegates with admiration for their new official. In the six months he has been here he has attended eight conventions, held seventeen institutes, delivered fifty-five addresses, conducted thirty-eight round tables, traveled more than four thousand miles, and sent out nearly forty thousand circulars and letters.

"In the Sunday-schools today," said Mr. Gibson, "are the sources of American life. It is here we must do the work for God and home and native land. We are an organization of schools, not individuals; individuals die, but schools live on."

Gail Borden, secretary of the State Association, read statistics showing that Los Angeles county has 230 Sunday-schools, with a total of 4h,775 officers, teachers and scholars, while the total for the nine counties is something over 80,000—a constituency of no mean proportions.

The report of Treasurer Essick showed that about $5180 has been expended during the year and there is a balance of $33 in the treasury. Beside this, there is a special emergency fund, designed for the aid of struggling schools, which was started by a personal subscription from Secretary Gibson immediately after he came into the field. It has grown unexpectedly and is to be used as the Executive Committee may determine, and now amounts to $488.

Marion Lawrence, who, as is well known, is the field secretary of the International Association, and stands for organization now and forevermore, talked upon that subject just before morning adjournment. His address was mixed with a goodly portion of common sense, which he described in a former talk as follows: "Common sense is that sense without which all other sense is nonsense."

REMARKABLE MAP.

AUTHOR DANGEROUSLY ILL.

A. E. Mitchell of No. 530 South St. Louis street, who is now lying seriously ill with typhoid fever at the German Hospital on Boyle Heights, was represented at the convention by Dr. Sterling of the Boyle Heights Methodist Church.

Mr. Mitchell is an artist who does clay modeling and a great misfortune has come upon him in being taken down with the fever. He has produced, among other things, a remarkable map of the Holy Land, which is a complete history of the life of the Savior. It has an emblematic border representing all the leading points in Christ's life, with a line running from each to the point on the map where the miracle or other event occurred. Inasmuch as Mr. Mitchell is incapacitated from work and is likely to be for some time to come, his map awakened much interest among the delegates.

CONVENTION NOTES.

ANOTHER BANQUET TONIGHT.

The alumni of the educational department of the State Association will celebrate at a banquet to be given at the hall of the Young Women's Christian Association tonight. The banquet is open to others aside from the graduates.

Today at 1:30 a primary conference will be held under the direction of Mrs. Kennedy, simultaneously with the opening exercises of the convention.

One of the best programmes of the convention has been reserved for the last day and large audiences are expected today. J. S. Drake, on "Sunday-school Management," and other good things are in store at the morning session; Rev. Dr. Hugh K. Walker in the afternoon and Judge Wilbur in the evening will be attractions, and Marion Lawrence, of whom the convention never tires, will be a speaker at all the sessions.

EVENING SESSION.

POINTS FOR TEACHERS.

The session of the Sunday-school convention yesterday evening at Immanuel Church was full of interest to the Sunday-school teachers who had come to obtain pointers on the best means of teaching their classes.

The singer, R. N. Jeffery, told of the power of song. As if to emphasize his remarks, he led the audience, which packed the auditorium, in the singing of "America," the volume of melody being a tribute to his leadership.

Rev. W. H. Rider spoke on "Bible Meditation and Prayer," and Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, the noted Sunday-school lesson-help writer, told some of her methods for winning the children for Christ. After the address, Annie Row, a sweet little tot, sang "The Bells of Bethlehem."

Marion Lawrence spoke especially to the teachers and parents. It was late when the general secretary rose to address the meeting, but the large audience remained until the speaker had finished his address.

Mr. Lawrence expressed a wish that every Sunday-school teacher might be a college graduate, but said there was work for all who were anxious to help. He thought the successful teacher should know the process by which the mind of the scholar receives and retains the truth. He paid a tribute to the mothers of America by saying he believed they knew more about the average child mind than did the majority of college professors.

The teacher who tried to impress but one thought at a time and who studied the lesson to be taught with a view to instilling the central thought was declared to be the successful Sunday-school worker.

The speaker urged those present not to depend on a general knowledge of the Bible when teaching children, but to prepare as if they were about to teach a day school class. In closing, Mr. Lawrence said:

"Sunday-school boys need stories with vinegar in them; stories that are like sticking-plaster, and which have a point and a moral. I believe the crying need among Sunday-school teachers is original Bible knowledge."

The session will begin this morning at 9:30 o'clock. After a fifteen-minute song service, Rev. E. A. Healey will deliver an address entitled "A Bible Message."

MINES AND MINING

MANY PLANTS FOR ARIZONA.

NUMBER BEING BUILT, AND THE PLANNING CONTINUES.

Several Large Smelters Among the Assured Enterprises That Shove the Great Mining Industry Along—Old Copper Queen Plant Disappearing from Hillsides of Bisbee.

If all the smelters planned for Arizona are built that Territory will take a very high rank in this line. Plants are being started or completed all the time and about a dozen are announced by promoters to be early probabilities. Some will likely never materialize. In some cases there are two so near each other that the building of one would render the other useless, but a large number will in all probability be put in and contribute to the great advancement of the mining industry. In addition to the new smelters there are a number of additions being made to those already up, and the number of mills, cyanide and other plants being built is very large.

The Gold Hill Reduction Company of this city expects to commence construction work on its plant at McConico, near Kingman, by May 1.

The Tucson Chamber of Commerce is considering a proposition made by David S. Rose, Mayor of Milwaukee, who is managing the Twin Buttes mining enterprise near Tucson. A railroad is being built from Tucson to the mines, and Rose proposes to establish a smelter in that city, of not less than 200 tons daily capacity, if a quarter of the capital stock of the smelter company, say, $25,000, will be taken up in Tucson.

It is now announced that the new 250-ton smelter at Benson will be started early in April. The plant has been in shape for several months, but could not be operated till the railroads recovered from the prevalent floods.

The Saddle Mountain Mining Company has three carloads of machinery en route for the erection of a 150-ton plant at Dudleyville near Florence. Forwarding of the consignments is being delayed by the washouts on the railroads.

The Troy-Manhattan Copper Company is planning a plant at Manhattan station, in Pinal county. A German expert is on the ground to make a report on the company's mines.

Several plants are now spoke nof as likely to be constructed in the central part of the Territory, in some of which Southern California capital is supposed to be interested.

A new reverberatory furnace and an ore-bedding plant are to be added at once to the equipment of the Greene smelter at Cananea.

The old Copper Queen smelter is disappearing from the hillside it has occupied at Bisbee for twenty-five years. The hillside is being scoured, as well as the site of the old works, for fine dust, which has been shipped to Douglas to the value of many thousands of dollars.

ON MOTHER LODE.

The Gold King Mining Company, owned by the International Trust Company of this city, of which Clinton Johnson is president, has purchased the Gold King mines on the Mother Lode in Shasta county, about twelve miles from Redding and six miles from the Keswick smelter.

The property is a telluride proposition, and it was formerly worked by Shasta people who shut it down when no more free-milling ore was found, although rocks running hundreds of dollars to the ton are now being taken out and tons are on the dump. There is a large iron dyke running through the property with five ledges branching out from it. Considerable work has already been done, one tunnel of 300 and one of sixty-five feet having been put in and a forty-foot shaft sunk.

The mine is on Clear Creek, which will furnish all water needed as well as power. There is plenty of excellent timber at hand.

BIG SALE REPORTED.

A mining man who is in the city from the North reports that the General Electric Company has purchased the Bully Hill copper mine near Redding, Shasta county. The price paid is said to have been $2,500,000.

Despite the trouble between the government and the Keswick smelter the mining industry in Shasta county is reported to be doing very well.

MEXICAN MINING.

It is reported that the American-Mexican Mining and Development Company, that operates extensive mines and a 160-ton smelter at San Lorenzo, State of Durango, is about to install a 500-ton plant at Torreon, State of Coahuila. The company is a Chicago concern.

The labor problem in Lower California mines is about to be solved by the Boleo Copper Company, operating on the peninsula opposite Guaymas, by the importation of 4000 Japanese laborers under contract from the land of the Mikado. A representative is now in Japan arranging for transportation. Some of the immigrants will be employed in the mines, while others will be settled as agriculturists on lands owned by the company.

An expedition of Arizona educators and mining men has been organized by George C. Wier of Phoenix to explore Tiburon Island in the Gulf of California in the interests of science and mining development, two experts accompanying the expedition to prospect for mineral.

COAL IN MEXICO.

The Mexican corporation operating coal mines near Sabinas, Coahuila, has brought its property to a capacity of 200 tons production a day and when some three miles of railroad are completed, bringing the cars to the mine, this will be increased. The work of building is now waiting for the necessary concessions from the government. As soon as the line is finished new machinery for hoists and engines will be installed and 500 to 1000 tons can be taken out.

DEATH OF STORM, ANOTHER MURDER

GEORGE STORM, victim of a sandbagger, died at the Emergency and General Hospital yesterday morning.

One more murder has been added to the already long list.

Storm was a restaurant-keeper at No. 427½ East Fourth street, and he resided at No. 519 Gladys avenue. Sunday night he began closing his establishment and left his wife outside awaiting him while he went to close the back door. A dishwasher named Grover was the only occupant of the place when Storm started out the back way. He called to Grover to put out the lights and follow him. A moment later he was struck down and robbed of $70. When his wife went to search for her husband after she had waited several minutes, she found him lying unconscious near the back door. Grover was missing.

Storm was removed yesterday to the Emergency and General Hospital, where trephining was resorted to, but the patient died shortly after the operation.

Autopsy Officer Campbell held a post-mortem at Bresee Bros. morgue yesterday afternoon and found that Storm's skull had been fractured by a blow. An inquest will be held this morning.

The police detectives have searched high and low for Grover, but no trace of the man has yet been found.

Al Malaikah Temple, Mystic Shrine, has issued a proclamation of which the following is part and parcel and explains itself:

O ye who believe! Obey Allah and his Apostle, and turn not from him while Ye hear, and be not like those who say "We hear," and yet they hear not.
—Koran, Sourah VIII, 20.

Reliable information having been brought to our Illustrious Potentate by one of our trusty Arabs, which the rumors that have been floating in the air that a number of unregenerate sons of the desert have been in hiding in and about the oasis of San Diego is true, and that some thirty of them have been rounded up by the Faithful, who have succeeded in getting them to sign the necessary papyrus and each to dig up the filthy fifty simoleons for the honor of riding the sacred white camel and being numbered with the faithful.

Therefore, it is commanded that ye of the true faith lay aside your cares and worries, your business and your scheming, your bad habits and your every-day clothes, and donning your glad rags and the smile that won't come off, gather together at the Santa Fé depot on Yawmoo's Sabi, ninth day, second month, Hejra 1323, Safar; which being duly interpreted means to the infidel Saturday, April 15, 1905, at 12:30 o'clock p.m.; and there board our special train for San Digeo, where the ceremonial session will be held. We will have the whole works.

Arriving at San Diego, we will be met by the San Diego nobles with a band, have a short parade, then take the ferry to Coronado, where we will own the whole thing, including the famous hotel. The ceremonial session, the traditional banquet, and headquarters will be at the Coronado Hotel. Your ticket, which you will get from Noble G. Fred Herr, will include everything. THURSDAY, APRIL 6.

EVENTS IN LOC

MRS. GEORGE L. ERWIN of Muskegon, Mich., who is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra T. Stimson of Adams and Scarff streets, has been the object of much pleasant social attention since her arrival here, and as she is a distinctly pretty and charming woman it is not surprising. All who visit in the hospitable Stimson home usually go away with a heart carrying joyous memories. In honor of Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Stimson has planned a series of affairs, beginning with a luncheon on Friday of this week, followed by an informal chocolate to be given on Thursday afternoon, April 12. Friday evening, April 13, Mr. and Mrs. Stimson will entertain a number of friends with a card party.

For Mrs. Murray.

Mrs. David Murray of Salt Lake City was guest of honor at a pretty dinner given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Glover P. Widney of the Hotel Leighton. Yellow marguerites and ferns were fetching decorations, and covers were laid for Mrs. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jevne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braly and Mr. and Mrs. Will Innes.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD DEAN LYMAN

Beneath Golden Mustard.

Unity Chuch was the scene of a notable wedding last evening, when Miss Eva Marian Wheeler and Edward Dean Lyman were married mid a bower of bright golden and white blossoms, with a host of Stanford friends and classmates to witness the union. Rev. Wesley Haskell of the Unity Church officiated, and music was under the direction of Frank Colby. As the party approached the altar the strains of the "Lohengrin" march sounded, and during the reading of the service "The Evening Star" from "Tannhauser" was softly played. At the close Mendelssohn's wedding march was given.

The church under the direction of Miss Forman was converted into a scene of flowery loveliness. At the front cedar trees formed a green bank, and the altar was massed with Banksia roses and asparagus ferns with here and there clusters of golden mustard peeping from the greenery. Directly over the bridal party an arch of roses and soft ferns was reared, and along the altar rail white tulle in billowy masses was arranged, over which fell clusters of Banksia roses and asparagus ferns. Pews for the family were designated by fluffy bows of white tulle and roses.

The bride, who is a beautiful girl with soft brown eyes and fluffy hair, was attired in an exquisite gown of white embroidered chiffon, made with full train and a soft berths. With this pretty costume she wore a misty veil of tulle fastened with a diamond ornament. In her arms she carried a mass of Bermuda lilies. Dr. Lawrence Wheeler, uncle of the bride, gave her away. The maid of honor, Miss Mercedes de Luna, was petite and charming in a gown of yellow taffeta and carrying a great cluster of jonquils and maidenhair ferns. The bridesmaids, all of whom are pretty girls, wore white net over yellow silk, made in quaint fashion, and carried shower bouquets of white carnations and ferns. Girls who served as bridesmaids were Misses Florence Hopper, Mary Barnes of San Diego, Katherine Gridley of San Diego and Moe Kimball. George Lyman, brother of the groom, from Stanford, was best man, and ushers included Stanley Granger, Wesley Crothers of San José, Raymond Barnett of Stanford, and Le Roy Tracy Ryone of Stanford.

After the wedding a supper was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emily A. Wheeler of No. 1407½ Bond street, only members of the bridal party and family being invited. Here yellow and white was again utilized in the decorations, quantities of Banksia roses and their foliage being used. The bridal table was decked with yellow and white roses and ferns, and lights were shaded with yellow.

Assisting the bridal couple in receiving were the bride's mother, Mrs. E. A. Wheeler, Mrs. Daniel Haugh of Nevada, aunt of the groom, Mrs. George Lyman King of Oakland, and Mrs. Lawrence Wheeler of Monrovia. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lyman are graduates of Stanford University, Mrs. Lyman having graduated from the English course in the class of '02, and Mr. Lyman having graduated from the history course in '04. Mrs. Lyman is a popular member of the "Kappa Kappa Gamma" and her attendants were all chosen from the sorority. Mr. Lyman is the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dean Briggs Lyman of Virginia City, Nev., Mr. Lyman, Sr., having been superintendent of the famous Comstock Lode for more than thirty years. He is a stunning man, a member of the A. A. E. fraternity at Stanford, and all his attendants were members of the same fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Lymna left for an extended eastern tour, taking in New York, Philadelphia and Boston, and all the points of interest along the way. They will make their home in Keewanee, Ill., where the groom is connected with a large manufacturing company.

Gamut Club Dines.

Members of the Gamut Club held their regular monthly dinner last evening at the Hotel Hollenbeck, covers being laid for Messrs. R. E. Loeman, Arthur Perry, W. E. Strowbridge, A. W. Willard, E. H. Clark, A. J. Stamm, George M. Derby, E. H. Mead, William J. Chick, Alfred A. Butler, J. D. Walker, L. Zinnamon, Arnold Krauss,

VENICE OF AMERICA

Triumphs of Modern Engineering

Contracts let for several beautiful homes.

The magnificent system of artificial waterways, the sewerage system, the water tower, the breakwater and the system of telephone and electric wire conduits now being constructed at Venice of America will be veritable triumphs of engineering skill. In order that these various systems might meet the requirements of this unusual city many difficult problems had to be worked out. The tide gates are about completed. These will permit the absolute controlling of the water in the canals. These beautiful waterways are so constructed that their bottoms are one foot higher than the low water mark of the ocean, permitting complete drainage of the canals, and if necessary the water in them may be changed twice daily. The work of concreting the sides of the canal will begin as soon as the tide gates are completed.

VENICE will be formally opened July Fourth.

The Sewerage Problem Settled at Venice

Venice will be remarkable for its modern sanitary sewerage system—a study in hydraulic engineering. Instead of the sewage being caused to flow into the ocean and foul the beach waters, as is the case at most ocean cities, the contents of the sewers at Venice will flow into a septic tank, where by a chemical process it will be liquified and rendered harmless. It will then be used for irrigation purposes. The plans for this hygienic system were executed by Mr. J. D. Schuyler, consulting engineer of Los Angeles.

Nothing more interesting than a trip to VENICE.

Venice Will Glitter at Night

Venice will present a brilliant appearance when illuminated at night. Engineers are now at work creating many appropriate designs from which to select an ornamental street lamp, which will be placed along the canals and avenues at regular intervals.

Take Ocean Park short line at 4th st. 35 min. ride.

Visit Venice today and see for yourself how the great building features planned for this seaside wonderland are assuming a symmetrical appearance—namely the Venetian canals, the still-water lake, the bath house, with its enclosed salt water plunge; the arcaded streets, the pleasure pier, pavilion, auditorium, ship hotel, resembling a Spanish galleon; yacht club house, art museum, etc. Venice will be a "city of quality" in every sense of the phrase. He who would be unsuited in this fair retreat must, indeed, be hard to please.

Homesites Par Excellence

Venice, with its glorious climate, its admirable location and high class surroundings, presents a rare subject for homeseekers. An investigation will bring this statement home to you.

Prices of Venice Lots

Lots are offered today from $600 to $1200. Some higher. Superb lots, $750 and $850. Terms, one-third cash, balance in one or two years. No more than two lots sold to one person. This is to prevent speculation.

THE RUSSIAN CRISIS.

NEW LIGHT ON THE WAR AND WHAT CAN BE EXPECTED.

[SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

The revolutionary Russian paper, Forward, published in Geneva, Switzerland, by one of the closest friends of Count Leo Tolstoi, Wladimir Tchertkoff, in its last number made the startling revelations about the events preceding the beginning of the Russo-Japanese War. The paper is very well informed as to important proceedings in St. Petersburg, Count Tolstoi having many powerful friends and relatives there, so that statements would seem to be of exact truth. Up to now, Viceroy Alexieff and especially the Russian Minister in Tokio, Baron Rosen, and in general, Mr. Pavloff, have been blamed for their ignorance of the true state of affairs in Japan during 1903, for their inability to size up the situation correctly, for misinformation as to the real Japanese naval and army strength and resources. Russian authorities and the press were silent on the subject, and the evident Russian unpreparedness in the Far East was left unexplained officially and unofficially—but the papers wanted a scapegoat, some reasonable explanation of such strange fact, and the inefficacy of Viceroy Alexieff and Ambassador Baron Rosen was assumed to be the true reason. The Forward asserts that this assumption is totally wrong—that ever since the Anglo-Japanese alliance was perfected, Alexieff and Rosen were, separately, began to inform Petersburg of Japan's energetic preparations for war, even sent special messages with warnings of the pending danger, that those warnings became really alarming as early as the year 1903, just at the time when the best brigades of the European Russian army were withdrawn from Manchuria.

The reader will remember that Russia promised to evacuate Manchuria in October, 1903, and, notwithstanding the alarming reports of Japanese preparations, Emperor Nicholas ordered that such evacuation must proceed as quickly as practicable. It is stated by the Forward that he anxiously and repeatedly to all reports of the Minister of Foreign Affairs, of War, of the Navy—that he would not allow war to be declared; that Japan would not dare to do so, and therefore there would be no war, so Manchuria must be evacuated and no war preparations were necessary.

The general opinion of all the Russians, in their arrogance, in his belief of his own invincibility, evidently forgot to take into consideration that Japan had its army in Manchuria, and that the will of the Russian Emperor was nothing to her. The night attack of February 8 on the Russian fleet at Port Arthur made Nicholas began to realize a few things, but it was already too late. The geographical disadvantage of Russia in such a war proved to be too great to surmount—without timely and adequate preparation—and the addition at home added to the confusion. As time passes, this disaffection seems to grow, to invade new circles, and the general demoralization of the organization of all the orders of the government, including the army and the navy, seems to be practically complete.

"For the last few days I have received several letters from well informed people in St. Petersburg, Moscow and other cities. They all speak of complete loss of prestige, of well founded uprising of the authorities, of general uprising of the people, of massacres and arrests that the best measures miscarry in their execution of them. It seems to me that this is the only reasonable explanation of the fact that notwithstanding the huge government machine, backed by an immense army, which so far has proved loyal everywhere the internal disorder in Russia continues to grow and threatens to become chronic. The hands of autocracy seem to be paralyzed by the inefficiency and weakness of its servants—their standard is too low, because the requirements were too one-sided, too selfish on the part of autocracy itself.

The same explanation appears to apply as well to the war situation and to the condition of the Russian army of today. While the line officers and the soldiers fight with the usual Russian valor and die by tens of thousands, in battles lasting a week and longer at a time, the only results are disaster after disaster. Something is evidently lacking somewhere, and that something means the general demoralization of the ruling forces of the army. The staff is very large, and has, no doubt, many good and brave officers, but they probably have no influence the court and ducal protégés constituting the majority and working for their own self aggrandizement only.

After every battle there are loud complaints of inefficiency, of disobedience of orders, of personal quarrels and intrigues. Presumably, only a small part of all this comes to light; history alone will be able to reveal it in full and determine the responsibility. But I fell certain, that in every case somethink like the revelations of the "Forward," stated above, will be forthcoming in explanation.

Autocracy has debauched the army as well as the whole country—and has been and is trying to run the war from St. Petersburg. It is a repetition of the Crimean war, as revealed now by history. The inefficiency of the general government is closely interwoven with the inefficiency of the staff in the field, and of all the institutions connected with the management of the war. The empire as well as the war are not run by the best men available, but by those whom autocracy can trust. The preservation and welfare of autocracy is the paramount issue—the welfare of the empire comes after, and is considered only if its interests do not conflict with those of the autocracy. Such is their motto—and this is the true explanation of the remarkable condition of things in Russia as well as at the theater of war. Every day brings forth more and more peace talk. I cannot believe that this tale comes from St. Petersburg. I quite understand why the whole of Europe wants peace just now. France is scared because of the immense amount of French money invested in Russian securities; England certainly would like to witness complete Russian humiliation, and the downfall of her military prestige, which would make her Indian frontiers safe for a long time to come; Germany would remain an undisputed master of the military situation in Europe, the dual alliance of France and Russia being no longer dangerous. But all this concerns Russia hardly at all and especially Russian autocracy, which is still the deciding power in the matter. I cannot see how Russian autocracy can afford to conclude a peace now—it will mean public acknowledgment of a crushing defeat in all directions, foreign, and especially, domestic. It must fight, and I am inclined to believe from now on it will take desperate chances to win. Peace, it seems to me, is out of the question for some time to come.

RANK SMELLS, PUBLIC RAGE.

City Dump Grates on Nostrils of Fruitland.

Organizing a Fight to Compel Its Abatement.

The County Health Officer is Urged to Action.

The odoriferous city dump, down at Vernon and Santa Fe avenues, is filling the residents and property owners of Fruitland with rank smells and rage. Just now the rage is in the preponderance, and the residents have reached the point of organizing for a fight to compel the city to do away with the nuisance.

A meeting of citizens was held on Tuesday evening at the Fruitland schoolhouse, and vigorous were the denunciations of the city for permitting the present state of affairs. It was decided to take up an organized effort to have the dump removed, and committees were appointed to carry on the work.

The Finance Committee is composed of Messrs. J. L. Graham, Alfred Lemon and M. R. Duffy. The General Committee is composed of Messrs. Snowden, E. R. Allen and Ben Collins of Fruitland, and Mr. Nutt and Dr. Webber of Huntington Park.

An extensively-signed petition has been placed before the Board of Supervisors, asking that the nuisance of the city dump be abated, and this has been referred to the County Health Officer.

The Fruitland people do not propose to let the matter rest until they get relief, and they will hold another public meeting next Tuesday evening. They claim that the city's contract with the owner of the dumping grounds will expire within a short time, and their attempt will be to prevent the saddling of the drawback upon their community in the future.

The condition of affairs, as described by residents of the locality, is certainly disgusting, and they claim that the nuisance prevents the development of that part of the country, while their neighboring communities are rejoicing in great advancement.

The Fruitland people intimate that unless they are enabled to get relief through other means, they may institute suits for damages against the city.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

FIGHT IN EAST INVOLVES PIKE.

EASTERN CONSOLIDATED HAS TROUBLE WITH HIM.

Fiscal Agent and Principal Promoter of Concern Again Seeks Control, Contest Being in Maine Courts. Producers' Agency to Deliver the Goods to the Associated.

Some weeks ago The Times called attention for the second time to the doings of L. E. Pike, promoter of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company of this city, who is trying to again get control, which he lost after having involved the concern in many losses. The following exclusive dispatch received last night from Portland, Me., tells of the latest developments in the case there:

"A contest between the present officers of the Eastern Consolidated Oil Company, a $5,000,000 corporation organized under the Maine laws, and Lafayette E. Pike of Hartford, Ct., the company's fiscal agent and principal promoter, has developed in the courts here, for control of the concern. Because of two injunctions issued by Justices Peabody and Strout of the Supreme Court restraining either side from voting on any business except for the organization of the meeting and adjournment, the only action taken at the annual meeting today was the selection of a committee consisting of George E. Bennett of Los Angeles and Judge Charles S. Noyes of Boston, to count the number of shares of stock represented by owners and by proxies, a report to be made to the clerk before April 10. There has been trouble brewing in the company, which operates in the Santa Barbara (Cal.) fields for some time, owing to a suit against Pike for alleged non-accounting of stock sold."

"DELIVER THE GOODS."

The principal matter of discussion before the Producers' Agency at Bakersfield yesterday was the contract entered into with the Associated, and while the storage clause in the contract is very unsatisfactory, on the advice of Franklin K. Lane, attorney, it was decided that there is but one thing to do—to deliver the goods. The contract requires that 50 per cent. of the delivery be placed in storage and gives the Associated the option to purchase it if it so desires, but it does not have to take the oil and in the meantime has a rakeoff of 1 cents a barrel annually as storage charges.

Message of the President Shows Much Done.

Gen. Diaz's Resume of Six Months' Progress.

BY EDWARD C. BUTLER.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

CITY OF MEXICO, April 2.—The history of public affairs in Mexico was synthesized by President Diaz in the message he delivered to Congress last night, April 1, at the opening of the second period of sessions of the Twenty-second Congress. The message covers six months to date. The following are pin points therefrom:

ARBITRATION.

Under agreement reached by the second American international conference [illegible]stration was recommended as between nations of the American continent in matters involving pecuniary [illegible]nations; the Senate has been urged to approve the bill when presented. [illegible]treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, 1848, [illegible]ained interesting stipulations on [illegible]tration, but the bill will amplify [illegible]r and thus forever obviate difficulties thereunder with the United States. [illegible]convention was signed at Washington governing delineation of frontier [illegible]g the course of the Rio Grande [illegible]er and both Senates have to act on [illegible]e. Mexico appointed delegates to [illegible] Hague tribunal that meets next [illegible]mber. The Rurales Corps in So[illegible]a have been reinforced by 100 men, [illegible] operate against the Yaqui Indians, [illegible] by next July there will be 200 men [illegible]ed. In this city 492 meters of new [illegible]ers have been laid and work finished on two collectors, at a cost of [illegible],000; 45,000 square meters of asphalt pavements were laid; fifty streets [illegible]d with stone and sixty to be paved [illegible]nce. A contract was made for ten [illegible]n to supply the city with 213 new [illegible]lights, or 45 per cent. of additional [illegible]ts with 4000 hours of service added [illegible]g the year, all for the same price. [illegible] Bureau of Public Works issued [illegible] building permits. Message of the President Shows Much Done.

Gen. Diaz's Resume of Six Months' Progress.

BY EDWARD C. BUTLER.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

CITY OF MEXICO, April 2.—The history of public affairs in Mexico was synthesized by President Diaz in the message he delivered to Congress last night, April 1, at the opening of the second period of sessions of the Twenty-second Congress. The message covers six months to date. The following are its points therefrom:

ARBITRATION.

Under agreement reached by the second American international conference arbitration was recommended as between nations of the American continent in matters involving pecuniary obligations; the Senate has been urged to approve the bill when presented. The treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, 1848, contained interesting stipulations on arbitration, but the bill will amplify these and thus forever obviate difficulties thereunder with the United States. The convention was signed at Washington governing delineation of frontier along the course of the Rio Grande river and both Senates have to act on same. Mexico appointed delegates to the Hague tribunal that meets next November. The Rurales Corps in Sonora have been reinforced by 100 men, to operate against the Yaqui Indians, and by next July there will be 200 men added. In this city 492 meters of new sewers have been laid and work finished on two collectors, at a cost of $1,000,000, which comprises sixty-four new departments and is capable of accommodating 1000 sick people. In October last the Supreme Bench was reorganized by the appointment of six new magistrates. The Secretaries of State & Foreign Affairs & Mexico Inv. & Public Instruction & Fomento & Colonization & Hacienda & Communications & Public Works & Justice & Police & Gobernacion & Federal District & Territories there are 531 schools established by the government with 1993 teachers and an average attendance of 25,000 scholars. The normal-school enrollment is three years from date.

The 1905 estimates of government expenditures have been submitted to private parties and municipalities. The revenue for 1905 is estimated at $103,000,000. The Geographical Exploring Commission has progressed in the survey of the rivers in the republic to the extent of 1000 kilometers, and has prepared geographical charts covering 1,000,000 square kilometers, while twenty-two reports have been added to the charts of the country. These reports were sent to the International Geological Congress at Washington last September, which was issued Secretary of the delegates from Mexico. At the St. Louis Exposition Mexican exhibitors obtained 1,246 awards.

The Mexican National Dynamite and Powder Company has been in operation since March 1, 1905, when they began to offer their product to the country. So far the quality of the dynamite manufactured is considered excellent. The mining industry has increased especially in Sonora, Durango, Michoacan, Guerrero; 1223 concessions were issued covering 13,000 square kilometers (a square claim of 100 meters each side.) Contracts were awarded for masters in Guanajuato, Jalisco, Oaxaca, Nexapa, Conchos and Chihuahua.

IRRIGATION.

Through the Department of Encouragement contracts were made adding to the irrigating systems of this country 1,000 liters of water per second for the region of the Nazas river; 4000 liters per second for irrigation of the Laguna district; 450 liters per second for the Mante district; 450; copyrights, 490; trade marks, 66.

Connection to the new water service was added to by 21 kilometers of new mains in the city and 12 within the state and excavations for the reservoir of 15,000 cubic meters. Canals between Tuxpam and Tampico 15 kilometers added, and completed is now practically complete at the port of Coatzacoalcos 800 meters of work were completed along the wharf and 40 along the east wharf. The west has three wharves with a capacity of 9000 square meters of flooring. At Mazatlan a breakwater was carried along a total length of 430 lineal meters and 6 meters at the crown, and a dock bay 27,000 cubic meters in depth of sand, and 6500 of rock. Across Cape 400 lineal meters of west jetty and 60 of east seawall were built. Therefore ships can now enter at the temporary wooden pier. The dredging comprised 400,000 cubic meters. Along the Rio Grande river was constructed opposite Laredo.

Surveys have been finished for the location of the new National railroad lines of Mexico have been begun, the latter 134 kilometers, the whole contract being on the line. The National between San Miguel de Allende, Mexico now has 16,630 kilometers of railroad. Along the Tehuantepec railroad all bridges have been changed and on 16 kilometers so the 30-kilogram rails have been replaced by 45-kilogram rails. On the Mexican Railroad 194 kilometers have been constructed and are in operation. Besides six meters in width have been constructed at Tapachula with a length of 1000 meters.

POSTAL SERVICE.

The postal service has been increased by 1000 offices and 53 postal agencies, making a total of 2426 postoffices. The total number of pieces was 81,000,000, against 69,000,000 during the six months of last year. Postal drafts valued at $52,000,000 against $20,000,000, including foreign and domestic drafts; of these Mexico sent to the United States drafts to the value of $649,000 and received from the United States drafts to the value of $330,000. The general revenues of the service amounted to $1,616,000. The loan secured recently in New York of $40,000,000 gold carries 4 per cent. interest, and is not guaranteed by any fund, but rests upon the honor of the nation; its bonds are quoted at 94 per cent. The Treasury Department duly submitted to Congress the bill for monetary reform which is to become effective on May 1st. The sickness of the Minister of Finance delayed the publication of the decrees which have now commenced publication in the government organ. The product of the import tax on foreign merchandise during the eight months of the fiscal year exceeded by 2,500,000 that Federal revenue during the last eight months of the preceding fiscal year.

KILLED BY A CAR.

Lineman Struck While Crossing Central Avenue, Dies Two Hours Afterward.

R. E. Ford, a lineman employed by the Sunset Telephone Company, who boarded at Hotel Tom on Central avenue, near Sixth street, was struck by car No. 348 of the Central-avenue line of the Los Angeles Railway Company in front of the hotel at 7:30 o'clock last night and received injuries which resulted in his death at the Receiving Hospital two hours later.

The car was north bound and was traveling at full speed. Ford was crossing the street, and in avoiding a car south bound, he was struck by the other car. His body was hurled almost to the curb, and he was unconscious when picked up. When taken to the Receiving Hospital it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain and his case was hopeless. He died at [illegible] o'clock. The body was taken to Pierce Bros.' morgue, where the Coroner will hold an inquest today.

After having been made the victim of a jiu-jitsu demonstration in the presence of a crowd of playgoers last evening at the Burbank Theater during a production of the Jap-Russo play, "A Prisoner of War," Oscar Strong, one of the house officers, became a sadder and a wiser man. The Epworth League of the First Methodist church held its monthly meeting yesterday evening. Thirteen new members were received after the business session and an interesting programme was enjoyed. Last fall at the meeting of the District Federation of Clubs, Mrs. J. W. Hendrick read a strong paper called "Los Angeles, Past, Present and Future," in which this permanent art exhibit was pictured as the rosiest part of the vision. After the paper was read the seal of the District Federation was set upon the project, and the club has started it on foot in a most substantial maner. Besides this sum the Ruskin Art Club voted to contribute $25 to the Sequoia League, to be used in helping the Indians.

RECALL HAS A SETBACK.

Davenport Wins Law Suit Against the City.

Supreme Court Pronounces Petition Irregular.

Constitutional Question is Not Considered.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Supreme Court today decided that J. P. Davenport was illegally removed from the City Council of Los Angeles and that a writ of mandate issue from this court commanding the City Auditor to draw his warrant for $100 salary due Davenport for September last, and $100 a month for the three months following.

Davenport was elected to the Council as a member for the Sixth Ward in December, 1902, and held such office until September, 1904, when the famous "recall" election was held and "Spook" Howton was chosen to the seat in the Council for the Sixth Ward. Davenport's counsel contended that the proceedings were irregular, but the Superior Court ruled that they were valid and an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court.

From that time the city refused to draw or pay any warrant for Davenport's salary. No cause was given for the latter's removal, except that he had voted for certain ordinances.

The petitioner contends that his removal was illegal on several grounds. He attacks the constitutionality of the recall amendment to the Los Angeles charter under which he was removed, which amendment provides that the holder of any elective office may be removed at any time by electors qualified to vote for the successor of such incumbent.

It seems that some of those whose names were signed to the petition were not enrolled on the great register. For this reason the Supreme Court holds that the petitioner was not legally removed and that he should have been recognized by the city as a member of the City Council until the expiration of the term of office for which he had been elected.

The petitioner's prayer, in his application for a writ of mandate, was to be reseated in the Council, but as his term of office has already expired, the Supreme Court orders that the Auditor simply draw a warrant for the four months' salary due him.

It will be seen that the Supreme Court evaded all decision on the constitutionality of the recall amendment to the Los Angeles charter, and confined itself simply to the facts in the case.

Justices MacFarland, Shaw, Vandyke Lorrigan and Henshaw voted in favor of Davenport's claim, while a dissenting opinion was rendered by Chief Justice Beatty, who holds that government can be conducted as a private business; that the people are its directors and can, for good cause, dismiss from their service any officer who has not been true to their interests. The voters need not wait for the next regular election to come around. They can act when they feel that action is demanded for the public good.

DISTRESSING TO AGITATORS.

SUPREME COURT'S BLOW HARD ONE FOR EARL.

"Spook" Howton and Faker Fennessy are Out of Sorts and Dr. Haynes is Suffering from an Attack of "Gas-tritis" — Petition Was a Perjury.

The joy in Eddie Earl's household over the arrival of twins was rudely dispelled yesterday afternoon by the news that the Supreme Court had declared the Earl-Haynes-Typographical Union recall petition a fraud, and that Davenport was never legally unseated as Councilman of the Sixth Ward.

It left the Elijah Dowie of Los Angeles newspaperdom in almost as dire straits as his prototype of Zion City.

If the Supreme Court had simply knocked out the recall it wouldn't have been so bad. But to have it declared that the petition which cost so much labor, and sweat and blood money was a perjury—and brand Earl as the partner of dishonest mediums and labor union fakirs—why, the sorrows of Satan were honeymoons alongside the humiliation of it.

The Supreme Court's mantle of charity, broad as it is, couldn't cover up that mess of clumsy forgeries bared to the world—exposing the methods and morals of the moving spirits of the so-called Sixth Ward Good Government League.

Citizen Pixit Willard was so groggy last night from the effects of the blow that he wasn't in shape to point out wherein the Supreme Court had erred. He thought that Justice McFarland was prejudiced because of Howton's record; but he really wasn't in position to say until he had consulted with Dr. John R. Haynes.

This is the best consolation that an admiring friend could get out of Spook Howton's man Friday over the telephone.

Shortly before closing time Howton slunk up the stairs into the City Attorney's office at the city hall.

"Too damn bad," was his comment. Then he commenced whining for sympathy.

The silence with which his protestations were received was more eloquent than a sermon.

But the spook Councilman had yet to hear the worst. The first report was that the recall provision itself had been declared unconstitutional. Howton pretend to bemoan this fact, but in reality it was the most welcome news that he had received since the election returns of last December.

He has discovered that the recall weapon, in his case, is likely to prove a boomerang and he has received the announcement that it had been declared unconstitutional with ill concealed satisfaction. It meant security for him for the next sixteen months; during that time he could not be driven away from the city trough.

Later when the correction came that the Supreme Court had investigated the original recall petition and had found it tainted, Howton slipped silently out of the attorney's office.

Dr. Haynes was suffering from a severe attack of mental dyspepsia with symptoms of "gas-tritis."

Agitator Arthur Hay's gum shoes carried him away to one of his usual haunts. Members of the local Typographical Union claim that Hay spent over $1600 of Typographical Union money getting up the petition which the Supreme Court has rejected.

Boss Fennessy last night sat on a stone in the composing room of Willie Hearst's Los Angeles supplement bewailing the "Croooll fate" that has occasioned his loss of prestige. Fennessy has often posed as a hand-writing expert. He took a leading part in circulating the now discredited petition.

A number of the signatures on the petition that Fennessy handled were pronounced forgeries by the City Clerk. The Supreme Court has evidently rejected the few that the City Clerk passed.

Fennessy can get more names on a petition in a given time than any other man in the Sixth Ward. But whenever any one starts to verify those signatures the ex-boss takes to the tall timber.

Councilman Ed Kern is one of the victims of Boss Fennessy's expert chirography. During the last city campaign Fennessy showed Kern a list of 198 men who had agreed to vote for Kern at the polls. In that precinct Kern actually received 27 votes.

This was shortly after Fennessy had turned in a list of signatures six feet long as a part of the recall petition.

Crank Norton luckily made his escape before the blow fell. Norton had the handling of most of the money that was supposed to be expended on the recall petition. But the lost leader of the Good Governmenters concluded a week ago that it was cheaper to go on a trip for his health than to stay here and pay alimony. Attorneys representing his northern ex wife were getting insistent.

The Supreme Court decision entitles Davenport to three and a half month's pay from the city as Councilman—pay for the fourteen weeks that a usurper through perjured affidavit occupied Davenport's seat and was addressed as Councilman.

The question now naturally arises, will Howton come forward and pay back to the city the $350 which he drew from the treasury through a fraud that he helped to perpetrate.

Once in his Los Angeles career Spook Howton refunded money obtained by fraud, but that was when he was exposed as a fake spiritualist and his fraite dupes were about to take it out of his hide.

WOMAN, PAL, SLUNGSHOT.

OFFICERS SUSPECT PRISONERS OF HOLD-UP RECORD.

Female in Man's Attire Caught With Companion After Hot Chase. Murderous Weapon Taken from Them—Tell Conflicting Stories of Movements and are Held.

An arrest that may solve the mystery surrounding some of the highway robberies which have occurred in Los Angeles within the past few weeks was made on Center street, between First and Banning, last night when Sergt. Craig and Patrolman Rose captured two roughly-dressed individuals, after a chase.

One of the prisoners is a woman, which fact was not discovered by the officers, until they had handcuffed them and while they were searching them. With the prisoners to the Police Station Sergt. Craig took about as murderous a weapon as had ever been taken from a prisoner. It is a large stone bound in bailing wire, with a handle made of wire plaited with heavy twine.

A blow with such a weapon would crush a man's skull. In several recent robberies the victims have been struck with some blunt instrument and seriously injured.

On the way to the Police Station the prisoners refused to talk but upon their arrival the woman, seeing that her male attire disguise had been penetrated, gave her name as Florence Roberts, but declined to state her address. The name given by her companion is C. C. Coffman and he said that they roomed at No. 426 Ruth avenue. He stated that they had attired themselves in old clothes and intended to board an outbound train for San Bernardino. Coffman would not say why he wanted to leave the city. When questioned by the detectives the couple told several conflicting stories and they were ordered locked up until their movements can be investigated.

The woman is not over 20 years of age and is rather pretty. The man appears to be of a type fully capable of committing robbery, although he denies knowledge of any of the recent hold-ups.

The couple were standing in a dark place in the street and at sight of the officers they started to run, but were captured less than a block away. They answer the description given by several victims of highwaymen. Some of these persons will be called upon today to see if they can identify either of the prisoners.

The annual meeting of the congregation of Immanuel Presbyterian Church was held yesterday evening in the church parlors with a large representation of the membership present.

The salary of the pastor, Rev. Hugh K. Walker, was raised from $4800 to $5400 a year, and the assistant pastor, Rev. R. J. Adams, was retained at a salary of $1200.

The financial report of the church showed that $70,000 had been raised during the year for benevolences and running expenses, and $20,000 of this amount had come from one of the members, Charles M. Stimson, who had given the money to be applied on the building fund of Occidental College.

W. E. McVey was reelected superintendent of the Sunday-school. All of the other officers of the church and almost all of the members of the standing committees were also reelected.

FOR PAVED STREET.

Members of the San Pedro Improvement Association, which has as its chief object the paving of that thoroughfare from Fifth to Jefferson street, will meet at 7:30 o'clock p.m. on the 14th inst. at 509 San Pedro street to elect officers and appoint committees.

TO BEAUTIFY BACK YARDS.

To Bring Forth Blossoms in Neglected Spots.

Unique Civic Movement Now Started by Women.

The Children Bubble Over. Will be Prizes.

Another civic movement has just been begun by the women of Los Angeles.

It is for the transformation of all waste places, and neglected yards and gardens into veritable bowers of bloom. It includes the encouragement of every form of outdoor beauty for the households of the city, even to the planting of a window garden, and a mighty effort is to be put forth to arouse individual interest in making Los Angeles one of the most beautiful cities in all the world.

One of the purposes of the new enterprise is to show those of straightened means how much beauty can be brought about by the planting of a few seeds, even in a very limited area, and they hope ere long to see bright spots springing up among the dwellings of the poor and lowly.

Yesterday Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, president of the outdoor art section of the Civic Federation, appointed Mrs. H. C. Terrill to conduct the campaign. Mrs. Terrell has been for some time chairman of the Tree Committee of this same section, and she has done such efficient work in preserving and planting trees that her selection augurs well for the new department.

FROM HOUSE TO HOUSE.

The plan includes visiting from house to house by the members of the committee soon to be appointed by Mrs. Rodman, and the offering of prizes for every branch of planting. Front yards, back yards, side yards, flower gardens, vegetable gardens, will all be considered separately, and prizes offered for the most artistic results. Window boxes and gardens will also receive attention, and spaces of bloom not bigger than a pocket handkerchief will be encouraged.

The first real accomplishment in this line was done at the instigation of Mrs. Rodman by the Woman's Auxiliary of the East Ninth and Mateo-streets Improvement Association. Several months ago Mrs. Rodman gave a talk along this line, and she obtained from the Chamber of Commerce enough vegetable seeds to supply the children.

Mrs. J. E. Wilson is president of the association, and was active in arranging and distributing the seeds. Last Friday afternoon, when the people were busy planting trees, Mrs. Wilson and her assistants made ready at the little Episcopal Church of the Neighborhood near Ninth and Mateo streets. They had 250 packets of seed, but wishing to give several varieties to one family, the packages were divided and 750 smaller packets were made.

CHILDREN EXCITED.

The good news of the vegetable seeds had been announced at the Santa Fé avenue and the Seventh-street public schools, and after school hours the onslaught began at the church.

The children came in throngs, and showed the keenest delight and determination.

The addresses of all the children were set down by the ladies, and a committee will see to it that the gardens are planted. When the time is ripe, along with the tomatoes and other things, there will be rewards for the most ardent little gardeners.

Neatness is to be regarded, and the best results will be recognized along with other virtues of the garden, and an arrangement is to be made with the principals of the two schools for reports from the children from time to time.

It is the intention of Mrs. Rodman and Mrs. Terrell to make the greatest efforts in the Seventh and Eighth wards and their vicinity, and the College Settlement people are arranging to further the enterprise of the outdoor art section in their immediate neighborhood. The women believe that there should be no homely spots in Southern California, where nature and climate have conspired to do so much for people, and they hope to arouse such interest in growing things that the poorest places will blossom.

Besides this movement, the interest in gardens is now agitated among the kindergarten teachers of the city. A request will be presented to the Board of Education next Saturday to have a certain amount of ground in each school yard partitioned off for the kindergartners. Their idea is to have in this main plot a separate space for each child. He will tend his plants, watch the growth, and possibly eat the fruit of his labors, and this is to show him how man gains his bread from Mother Earth.

SAYS HASN'T SLEPT FOR HUNDRED DAYS.

ONE HUNDRED days and as many nights without a wink of sleep!

This, according to his statement, is the wonderful case of J. D. Chamberlain of Redondo, who apparently has broken the local record for long-term wakefulness.

Instead of being a frail invalid, emaciated by illness and likely to be tossed aside by the first vagrant breeze from the ocean, Mr. Chamberlain is a strong, active man, keen of mind and clear of eye, and giving no outward sign of the tortures of insomnia—that dread demon which has driven men insane in a few nights.

Physically unimpaired, and with an appetite that needs no coaxing, he is trying to wear out the affliction.

Chamberlain is 67 years old and is a native of Maine. He is a bachelor and for two years has lived in Redondo—sometimes renting a furnished room and "baching it," and otherwhiles living at hotels or boarding houses. He is tall and erect and of pleasant mien.

He is not a man to sit in his room and mope. In fact, he declares he is free from care and never felt better in his life. He is a fisherman of the inveterate order and usually spends his time on the pier with hook and line.

Night after night Chamberlain, after eating a good dinner, lies on his bed at his bachelor quarters, hoping that, this time, sleep will come to him. Some nights he retires as early as 7 o'clock. His eyes are not as good as once they were, he says, and he cannot read, so he lies there with his eyes closed and rests.

When he feels like it, he gets up. There are mornings that he goes out as early as 3 o'clock with his tackle and catches a few fish for breakfast.

Residents of the quiet seaside town, who used to awaken at the slightest sound in the early morning hours, have become accustomed to the quick, nervous stride of the lone fisherman and now, when he passes, they simply roll over and say:

"That is only Chamberlain—he can't get to sleep again tonight."

The fish are not running now and Mr. Chamberlain spends most of his time during daylight, watching the shipping at the piers. When a Times photographer and reporter found him yesterday he was viewing the departure of a schooner for the north.

WORRY? NOT HE.

"Yes, I'm just rounding out my fifteenth week without sleep," said he in reply to a query. "If it wasn't for the long nights, though, I should hardly believe it. I am in excellent health—haven't been sick a day in sixty years and hardly know what pain is.

No, I'm not worried about the insomnia, but I am beginning to wonder how it is going to end. Naturally, I prefer not to let it go too far, for fear it may affect me seriously.

"I went to see a doctor, in Los Angeles a few days ago—I hadn't slept for about fourteen weeks and thought I'd better ask advice. He suggested that I diet, so I have stopped eating meat to a considerable extent.

"I eat only two meals a day, anyway, but my appetite is so good that I make them do duty for three. I do not eat baker's bread, but have plenty of cereals, eggs, vegetables and fruit.

"I caught about seven thousand fish last year, but I'd hate to tell a reporter what I did with all of them. Yes, I ate quite a few—a large few, you might say."

"What caused the insomnia?" was the query.

"Just pure nervousness, I guess, but I don't know what caused that, unless it was worry."

"I suppose you suffered a hard blow of some kind—death or financial loss, or something like that," was suggested.

"HARD BLOW" UPSET HIM.

"Why, yes, I did suffer a hard blow once, a great many years ago. I had drilled a hole in a large boulder on my farm in Maine, and was tamping it full of powder, to sunder the rock so the cattle could haul it away. All of a sudden the impact of the tamping bar caused the powder to explode—the rock flew into three pieces, and I was blown into the air. But I don't think that caused my present trouble.

J. D. CHAMBERLAIN
Who has gone one hundred days and nights without sleep.

"Some people say that I must sleep a part of the time—that I probably drop to sleep for a time without knowing it. I know better. I have my watch on a stand beside me and often refer to it, just to prove to myself that I am awake.

"I know that I am entirely conscious throughout the night. I try not to think nor worry, keeping my mind in as passive a condition as possible, but I know absolutely that I have not slept in the last 100 days."

PHYSICIANS SKEPTICAL.

Physicians are inclined to doubt that Mr. Chamberlain really has been entirely without sleep for so long a time. They think he must have sunk to sleep for short periods, at least, without knowing it.

"Nothing will so unset a person as the loss of sleep," said Dr. W. W. Beckett. "Insomnia of even a week will wear out the nervous system. Fifteen weeks, it seems to me, is impossible. I should want the evidence of a second party before I could be convinced that such a condition really existed in the case referred to. There are many persons who claim they do not sleep, when, as a matter of fact, they drop off for from a few minutes to an hour at a time and so gain needed rest."

"Nature certainly would rebel under the loss of sleep for 100 days in succession," said Dr. W. S. Philp. "A person might suffer the entire loss of sleep for a week, but even then the nervous system would deteriorate very noticeably. I know of students who have made the same claim—that they have gone for extremely long periods without sleep—but it has been demonstrated that they have obtained an hour or two a night and so have been able to keep up.

"If it could be proved to a certainty that this gentleman has not slept for fifteen weeks it would be a remarkable case, but I should require the most convincing evidence before believing it."

LOOPHOLE FOR TAINTED MEAT.

Health Officer Recommends a City Inspector—Dirty Dairy, Bogus Jams and Garbage Wagons—Stirring Meeting of the Health Board Last Evening.

The startling fact that hundreds of pounds of meats are placed daily on the local markets without inspection was present at last night's meeting of the Board of Health.

In the same connection it was shown that ample opportunity exists for dairymen or stock raisers to dispose of diseased stock through some of the smaller slaughter-houses.

The supervision of the United States government meat inspectors extends only to slaughtering concerns that are engaged in inter-State commerce or that supply government contracts. There is practically no supervision for the small concerns that cater to the local demand, unless the city's officers chance to be on hand when the meats are delivered to the city markets.

Health Officer Powers advocated at the meeting the appointment of a city stock inspector for such places. It is understood some of the local butchers are anxious for the visits of the government inspector and to that end have determined to bid on contracts for the Soldiers' Home.

The dairy business also came in for vigorous discussion last night. It was shown that during the past half month 3522 cows have been inspected, and that visits to dairies have resulted in orders for sixteen of them to be cleaned, on penalty of being closed.

One dairyman, E. C. Lockard, had a most unpleasant half-hour on the carpet. Lockard has a dairy at Twenty-ninth street and Compton avenue. Although frequently notified to conduct his place on sanitary lines he has failed to satisfy the inspectors. The conditions prevailing at the Lockard dairy are bad, as described by the inspectors. Lockard was given a week to put his dairy in sanitary condition and the Mayor promised him a personal visit to see that this is done.

ADULTERATED JAMS.

The City Council, reporting on vinegars, hamburger steak, jams, etc., showed that over 30 per cent of the products examined were adulterated. The chemist set forth the fact that the bulk of so-called berry or fruit jams at groceries in reality have an apple body with Japanese gelatine as a filler, the product being colored to suit the name of the fruit.

The City Health Officer set forth the need of an ordinance prohibiting the use of old berry boxes. He declared that thousands of boxes are gathered up by Chinese from garbage cans and waste places, and are used again for fruit.

The City Attorney will be asked to draft an ordinance regulating this, and providing for the proper labeling of jams and jellies.

Fruit Inspector Drummond continued the appetite-upsetting discussion by declaring that much condemned fruit was afterward placed on the city markets, because the inspector, while having authority to condemn it, had no power to destroy the fruit.

There were 222 complaints of improper collection of garbage for the past half month. The inspectors' reports showed that 140 of these were not well-founded. The board ordered that the contractors be fined $53 for the other violations, and it was ordered that all garbage shall be collected before 12 o'clock, noon, instead of dragging along all day, as has been the custom.

Before the board adjourned Mayor McAleer gave the members a lecture on the propriety of keeping close-mouthed regarding the city's affairs when newspaper men were around. He declared that somebody in the health department had been "leaking" information, and that the papers had been announcing news connected with the department before even the members were aware of it.

"This has got to stop," declared the Mayor, "if the whole office has to be cleaned out."

SCENT GARBAGE SCANDAL.

Prior to the public meeting of the board, there was a long executive session in the Mayor's private office. It is understood the members were discussing the developments resulting from the private investigations of the garbage contractors' methods of disposing of the laily collections.

For the past ten days the Health Department has had two inspectors concealed at points close to the garbage crematory, keeping tab. Their investigations furnish some startling facts.

It is estimated that there are eighty tons of garbage in this city which should be collected daily; and the city has now advertised for an incinerator capable of consuming 200 tons daily. Despite the fact that fully eighty tons of refuse is waiting daily to be hauled out of the city, the inspectors' reports showed that only five tons a day found their way to the garbage crematory.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Board of Health wrestled with the garbage puzzle.

William Morrow appealed from an extravagant sentence passed by Justice Phillips of Downey, and curious illustration of the manner in which justice is meted out in country towns was shown before Judge Smith.

L. Doss of Lang Beach was arrested on the charge of forgery, he having imitated the signature of his employer in making out a bogus check.

George Kirby of Huntington Park was fined for threatening to kill Traffic Manager McMillan of the Pacific Electric and acknowledged that he was in the wrong.

FIGUEROA STREET CLASSIFIES SIGHT-SEEING TOURISTS.

Red-hot Protest Against Invasion by Trolley Car—Both Sides Line up for Preliminary Struggle Before Board of Public Works—Competition for Frontage Signatures.

The first gun of the campaign against the trolley car on Figueroa street was fired yesterday afternoon.

The projectile was a red-hot petition to the City Council protesting against permitting the property owners south of Jefferson street to meddle with the affairs of the more fashionable residents north of that thoroughfare.

Before the Board of Public Works tomorrow afternoon the warring Fifth warders will meet for the first encounter. The residents north of Jefferson street will ask only that the franchise be sold no farther north than Jefferson street. The south-end property owners will insist that it be extended north to Washington street.

There is sharp competition on Figueroa street north of Jefferson for signatures. The applicants have been working for over a year, but the "antis" are putting more vim to their solicitations. At noon yesterday the opposition had signed property frontage amounting to about 3000 feet. There is 4000 feet of frontage on Figueroa between Washington and Jefferson.

One of the protestants classifies the tourists who want to ride down Figueroa street on a car as "gilt-edged butterflies."

TO HASTEN OUTFALL.

BRICK BY THE MILLION.

Arrangements have been completed with the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company and with the sewer contractors for delivering 2,000,000 brick a month for use one the outfall sewer.

City Engineer Stafford is now hopeful that, notwithstanding unfortunate delays on account of non-delivery of brick, the outfall may be completed by next October.

Contractors Stansbury & Powell have agreed to lay 2,500,000 brick a month if the brick companies and the railway will deliver the material in that quantity. The brick contractors are willing, but the railway company has not the facilities for handling such a quantity of brick in so short a space of time.

Under the new contract there have been few delays on account of the brick delivered not being equal to specifications. It is claimed that the brick now delivered are up to the 8 per cent. standard. The specifications now call for 10 per cent. brick.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

BETTER LUCK OF "DAD" MORROW.

REFUSES TO ACCEPT JUSTICE OF DOWNEY BRAND.

Old Man Appeals to Judge Smith and the Funny Doings in the Country Court are Exploited, While "Dad" Gets Off With a Fine Instead of More Jail.

Old William Morrow of Downey, otherwise and more commonly known in his home town as "Dad" Morrow, broke the criminal record about twelve days ago and he wasn't proud of it. After sundown he was arrested for disturbing the peace, was arraigned before Justice Phillips, pleaded "not guilty" and then took it back and pleaded "guilty," was sentenced to sixty days in jail, was soaked an extra thirty days for contempt, and was given the grand rush by being driven to Los Angeles and deposited in the County Jail before the midnight hour had struck.

For a rapid bit of Justice's justice that beats the record; but Morrow was not inclined to accept the judgment of the amateurs at Downey as final. He appealed his case and yesterday was tried over again by Judge Smith sitting without a jury. "Dad" said the jury might go hang, all he wanted was a fair deal and he could get it in the Superior Court if he couldn't at Downey.

The facts elicited showed that the old man had driven his horse until it fell down on the sidewalk, when the bystanders began to guy him and provoke him to swear. When under the influence of liquor, as on the occasion in question, he is reputed to be very resourceful in that regard.

F. B. Gaagow had got through shaving a customer in his shop, so he hustled around to where the fun was going on, and found "Dad" was fighting mad. He threw down his gun on the offender, and stated yesterday that "Dad" tried to pass at him with a knife. Getting his deputy to hold the prisoner Glasgow hustled off to awaken Justice Phillips from his beauty sleep, to earn a dollar or two for himself and the constable as well.

Morrow protested that he had committed no offense, but as a complaint had by that time been made out and a warrant shoved into the hands of the constable he said he would plead guilty. The country justice then sentenced him to serve sixty days in the County Jail, and when Morrow protested he was dealt out an extra thirty days for good luck.

Justice Phillips went upon the stand here yesterday and told all about it. He informed the court that "Dad" was in contempt and that he gave him the extra month on that impromptu charge.

Judge Smith stared at his junior brother of the bench. Then he laughed as he took a second look at the ancient justice—he is over 70 years—who was resourceful enough to be a law unto himself. He told him he had no right or authority to impose that extra time, and let it go at that.

After hearing all the facts, Judge Smith ordered the defendant to pay a fine of $15 with the alternative of seven days in jail, and the fine was paid at once.

MARRIAGES MIXED.

LEONARD HATED TO BE SINGLE.

Isaac Leonard is an old colored man who appeared before Judge Trask yesterday, asking for the annulment of his marriage to Lizzie Leonard, on the ground that when he married Lizzie he had another living wife from whom he had not been divorced.

The plaintiff so calmly confessed to being a bigamist that the court began turning the leaves of the Penal Code, to find the section that would send the applicant to the State's prison. As it turned out he was safe, for the charge is barred after three years and many more than that had elapsed since the offense was committed.

Isaac Leonard married Lizzie at Dallas, Tex., in 1885, but he had been married to Mollie Johnson previously in 1878. But Mollie got tired of her husband and left him, and a year later he got tired of single blessedness and married Lizzie. "It is not good for man to be alone," and remembering this injunction the plaintiff tried to live up to it. In her wanderings Mollie drifted out to Los Angeles, and by a strange coincidence Leonard and his second wife also came to this city to live. When the trio came together was not shown yesterday, but Leonard said that Lizzie abandoned him a year ago. Then his fate overtook him in the person of Mrs. Mollie. He said that he regarded her as his sure enough wife, but just to straighten the kinks out he wanted to have his marriage to Lizzie annulled so that she couldn't come back again, and make things too lively for him.

As the documentary evidence was all in shape, the court perforce granted the order asked for.

GREEDY FOR MONEY.

L. DOSS ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

L. Doss is a laboring man who has ambitions, and in imagining that he could make money by a get-rich-quick scheme he has come to grief. Yesterday he was arrested on the charge of forgery.

Doss was employed at Long Beach by G. Junod and each time pay day came around he was paid off by check. On Tuesday he became possessed with the idea that he could write the name of his employer just as well as could Mr. Junod himself. To see how it would look he drew a check payable to bearer on the First National Bank of Long Beach for $18, and signed it with the signature of G. Junod. Dos succeeded in passing the check upon one of the local merchants, O. S. Carrier, and in turn Mr. Carrier collected from the bank. But almost immediately afterward the forgery was discovered, and early yesterday morning the District Attorney issued a complaint against Doss.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

CIGARS IN ORDER. Deputy Constable Jack Adams wandered around the Courthouse with a perky air yesterday, and with a far-away look in his eyes. In the early morning he was the recipient of a present from his wife—an eight-pound baby girl, and that accounts for it all. Mrs. Adams and the little newcomer are both doing well.

LAND SYNDICATE. The California Land Syndicate, Ltd., has incorporated with a capital stock of $25,000, of which $250 has been subscribed. The directors are: W. W. Phelps, G. A. Phillips, H. H. Mears, G. B. McLaughlin and E. F. Angell, all of Los Angeles.

SENT TO PATTON. Mrs. Pauline Schultz was ordered committed to the State Hospital at Patton by Judge Wilbur yesterday for the second time. Seven years ago she was confined for about seven months, and three weeks ago she again showed signs of insanity. In both instances Mrs. Schultz has been troubled with puerperal mania.

KIPS AND HIDES. The Antioak Leather Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000,000, of which $7 has been subscribed. The directors are A. W. Hutton, W. B. Hutton, E. H. Owen, H. G. Weyse, A. W. McCord, J. G. K. Williams and W. Porter, all of Los Angeles.

HOTEL IMPROVEMENT. The Bilicke-Rowan Annex Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $600,000, of which $5000 has been subscribed. The directors are A. C. Bilicke, R. A. Rowan, J. S. Mitchell, F. S. Rowan, A. B. McCutcheon, all of this city.

LAND EXPLOITATION. The Syndicate Land Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $5 has been subscribed. The directors are T. B. Wilkinson, W. P. Wilkinson, Ray Howard, J. D. Barbour and A. Cooper, all of Los Angeles.

DEBTS TOO HEAVY. Frank Magean, a carpenter and builder living at No. 174 West Forty-second street, yesterday filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy in the United States court, scheduling his liabilities at $15,841.68 and his assets at $4072.

BAKERSFIELD.

Tramp Weak from Loss of Blood Found by Night Officer—Fearful Knife Slashes.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, April 5.—John Flynn, a tramp who has been lingering about the Santa Fé yards since Sunday morning, was found by Night Watchman Staley this morning at 1:30 o'clock. He was walking in the rear of the roundhouse and was very weak from loss of blood.

He was taken to the County Hospital, where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Schafer. His face is terribly slashed with a knife, but he will recover.

The injured man was so drunk last night that he could make no statement, and he could not been seen today. Night Watchman Staley is of the opinion that the injuries were received in a drunken brawl among a number of tramps who are camped under trees in the vicinity of the Land Company's barns. Flynn came from that direction, and had been seen going to and from the camp. The Sheriff's office has been working on the case, but as yet no arrests have been made.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

KIRBY 'FESSES HE WAS WRONG.

WHISKY CAUSED HIM TO BRAY IN AN ASININE WAY.

When Whittier Flyer Stopped for Mrs. Kirby Her Husband Thought Traffic Manager McMillan Was Trying to Steal His Wife—Fined for Disturbance.

George Kirby, who threatened to kill Traffic Manager McMillan of the Pacific Electric Railway Company, because he thought McMillan had ordered the Whittier flyer to stop for his wife, made a pitiable spectacle in the Police Court yesterday.

Kirby was arrested by Detective Churchill on a warrant, charging him with disturbing the peace. He appeared in Justice Rose's court and pleaded guilty to the charge. The small fine of $10 was imposed.

Kirby got off easy and he knew it. McMillan did not press the charge of assault, and the incident, which dismayed the officers of the Huntington system in the big Main-street building last Friday, was finally closed.

Kirby acknowledged that he had gotten hold of the wrong man when he tackled McMillan. He said he returned from a trip to the desert a few days ago, and learned from busybody neighbors that his wife—who is a young and handsome woman—had been receiving especial attentions at the hands of high-up officials of the Pacific Electric road.

"The flyer will stop for Mrs. Kirby at any time; it will stop right in front of her door if she wants it; but it will not stop for anybody else in this neck o' the woods," the neighbors told Kirby.

Then he got mad.

"I'll see about this business myself," said Kirby.

Then he proceeded to drink copious quantities of fire-water as he ruminated.

The more he thought about the matter, the angrier he grew.

Nobody but the traffic manager of the system could be responsible for such a state of affairs, he thought, so McMillan was sought out, and the scene in McMillan's office resulted.

Kirby rushed in and accused McMillan of taking his wife away from him. McMillan demurred, saying he had never heard of Kirby or his wife. Finally, the drunken husband, with a fancied grievance, was thrown out.

Later a warrant was sworn out for his arrest.

Now Kirby is convinced that he not only did his wife a grave injustice, but that he made an ass of himself by accusing McMillan of wrongdoing.

ANXIOUS WALDEN.

WANTS TO BE TRIED.

Milo Walden, the man accused of having attempted to rob E. Porter of Joliet, Ill., in a corridor of the Hollenbeck Hotel Tuesday night, appeared anxious for trial when he was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday.

Walden's case is a peculiar one, and a question concerning his sanity has been raised. Yesterday the fact developed through Martin Aguirre, former warden of San Quentin penitentiary, that Charles Crocker of San Francisco had set Walden up in business in the Majestic saloon. Walden prospered for a time, but he finally got "daffy" on the races, and squandered his money.

Since coming to Los Angeles nearly three months ago, Walden has been trying to eke out a living at the Ascot Park track by working for "Col." Black, the bookmaker, and trying to beat somebody else's game. When the race season closed he was broke.

In court yesterday Walden denied that he had tried to rob Porter, but he wanted to go on with the trial. His examination will occur this morning at 10 o'clock.

Policelets.

Jesse Velonde, the messenger boy who rode a wheel recklessly at Fourth and Spring streets, and ran down Mrs. Jenke, paid for his fun in the Police Court yesterday. Velonde was arrested for violating the speed ordinance, and as it was shown in court that his case was an aggravated one, Justice Rose imposed a fine of $25.

Warrants were issued yesterday for the arrest of three butchers, charged with using "frozem." Fred Hughes, meat inspector, swore to the complaints, and one man, P. Heimers, was brought before Justice Rose and fined $25. The warrants for the arrest of the other men will be served today.

Mary Jones, mother of two young girls—Helen and Flora—convicted of using her house, and her children for immoral purposes, was sentenced by Justice Rose yesterday to six months' imprisonment without an alternative. The girls were fined $50 each. Mrs. Jones was formerly the wife of a policeman named Henderson, who left the force several years ago.

AUTO FOUND; ROBBERS NOT.

Detectives Hampered in Search of the Criminals by Persons Who Should Give Assistance.

It is unlikely that the two men who held up the night watchman at the Worthington garage early yesterday morning, robbed him and stole one of the finest automobiles in the place, will ever be captured.

There is reason to believe that there are persons connected with the Worthington establishment who know the robbers, but they are not giving the police the benefit of their information. There has been no disposition on the part of the detectives to abandon the search, but officers have found that their efforts have been blocked by persons who naturally would be expected to assist them.

The crime was sensational, and had two desperadoes planned it they could not have carried it out in more dime-novel fashion. The details were given yesterday in The Times. R. W. Griggs, night watchman at the Worthington garage, was the victim.

The Bolton Brothers and Watchman Green of the Merchants' Dispatch service followed the tracks of the stolen machine around the Plaza, and learned that it had been last seen going west along Sunset Boulevard. They found the car stalled near the top of the hill at Bunker Hill avenue. The spark plug had refused to work. The auto had not been damaged, and was taken back to the garage before 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

One of the robbers is said to be a young man of wealth, who, having more money than is good for him, believes he can do about as he pleases. If the detectives find the men—and four of them are working on the case—they will be arrested and refused bail, and an effort will be made to compel Griggs to prosecute, no matter how unwilling he may be.

HAYS WOULD RUIN OTHERS.

Evidently Means to Drag Directors Down.

Defense Springs a Sensation and Fights Fiercely.

Was Minute Book of Bank Stolen by Officers?

Like a frightened animal, feeling the hot breath of pursuit, Tom Hays snapped viciously yesterday right and left at those who are trying to send him to State's prison.

It is evident that Hays, if he has to go to prison himself, will try desperately to drag down with him some of the officers of the defunct Orange Growers' National Bank of Riverside.

The sensation spurted out in the last five minutes of the trial yesterday—without warning.

In arguing for the admission of a certain paper, the Hays lawyers turned suddenly upon the other side and in exasperation flung these stinging charges in their opponents' faces:

That the directors of the bank, not Hays, are responsible for the missing and now famous bank records.

That the bank directors have stolen a minute book and blamed its loss on Hays.

That they made away with it in order to conceal the fact that they committed a felony against the State of California.

That in order that they might do this they committed numerous and divers other sins and wickednesses.

That they also purposely "lost" the resolution wherein the directors of the bank indorsed and praised Tom Hays, at the time of his "resignation" after the discovery of the Salt Lake land frauds.

That was about all Tom Hays charged them with the first day.

The alleged felony is that the bank went on the bond of the Riverside County Treasurer in consideration of an agreement whereby he was to place the funds of the county in the Orange Growers' Bank.

ROUSE ON THE STAND.

G. Rouse, one of the directors, admitted that this had been done by the bank.

He was put on the witness stand by the government to identify sheets of paper containing memoranda of the monthly directors' meeting—memoranda in Hays's handwriting.

Mr. Rouse went over the notes and told at length of meeting after meeting held by the directors of the bank. One of these happened to be a meeting whereat the directors had considered the proposition of County Treasurer Mitchell to go on Hays's bond with a surety company and, as reward, receive the county funds as a deposit.

Mr. Rouse said that a similar proposition was considered with regard to County Tax Collector Palmer. In this latter case it was decided that some of the directors should go on the bond individually, and that the bank should indemnify them from possible loss.

He said the deposits were made as agreed.

"This," said Attorney Chapman bitingly, "might explain why some of these minutes were not written up."

After court had adjourned Judge Wellborn detained the attorneys to discuss certain of these stinging insinuations.

In the midst of the discussion Mr. Chapman swung his fist on the table and said in a ringing voice: "It was a felony, Your Honor! There was good reason—the best reason in the world—why the directors did not want those minute books produced."

He went on to charge, pretty broadly, the belief of the defense that a minute book has been made away with. He cited the testimony of one of the directors who said that at each meeting, during this unrecorded period, Hays used to open a minute book and read out the minutes of the previous meeting as though they were written there.

RIDICULED AS "FAKE."

Earl Rogers made an argument on this point, ridiculing the idea that Hays could have said in a small directors' room in the bank and "faked" the minutes of the meeting from a blank page.

Among the meetings recalled by Director Rouse from the sheets of papers found in the admitted minute book, he did not mention the one in which the directors passed resolutions thanking Hays.

There was no mention in any of the memoranda of this resolution. Mr. Chapman wanted to show a copy of the resolution to the witness to test his recollection and to ask him if such a resolution had not been passed.

"If you will state to me, Judge Chapman," said the court, "that you have no other purpose in introducing that resolution than to test the recollection of the witness, and that your purpose is not to get the resolution itself before the jury, that will be satisfactory."

"I confess," replied Attorney Chapman, "that we have another purpose." But he contended that the defense had a right to introduce the resolution nevertheless.

The cross-examination of Mr. Rouse got somewhat strained. At one point Mr. Chapman called his attention to the fact that pencil marks were not the same coor all through the memoranda paper.

"I can explain that," said Rouse. He said that the fingers of people who handled it had stained the indelible pencil marks. Mr. Chapman showed him a place out of reach of fingers. He said he could not explain that.

SHARP STICK FOR TWOGOOD.

M. J. Twogood, son-in-law of M. J. Daniels of the Orange Growers' Bank, was called to the stand. They went after him with a sharp stick. Mr. Twogood was made cashier of the bank after Hays went out; he also assisted the receiver of the bank when its affairs got into court.

They asked him a number of insinuating questions and drew out the fact that he had charge of the bank when Hays was absent, and that he succeeded Hays and had charge of the books part of the time under the receiver.

They came fiercely to the famous memoranda sheets in Hays's handwriting, the memoranda of the missing meetings.

"I did."

"Anybody with you when you found them?"

"In the minute book—between the leaves."

"What were you looking for?"

"For records."

"Of what?"

"Of the bank."

"Ever look before?"

"Never had any occasion to."

"Did your search cease when you found these?"

He said he didn't.

"Up to that time didn't you that the last entry in that minute book was way back in June of 1902?"

He said he didn't.

Almost the entire day was taken up with reading memoranda and papers tending to prove the connection of Hays with the bank during its career as a national bank, and to prove his responsibilities.

ONLY MINORITY WOULD CONVICT.

SO "BULL" WILLIAMS WILL GET ANOTHER TRIAL.

Four Jurors in Highway Robbery Case Say "Guilty," Eight Say "Not Guilty"—Jury is Discharged and Prisoner Goes Back to His Cell to Await a Second Ordeal.

A. C. ("Bull") Williams will have another trial on the charge of highway robbery.

The jury entrusted with his fate filed into Judge Smith's courtroom last night at 8:30 o'clock and announced that it had disagreed. An unofficial statement subsequently made was to the effect that eight jurors insisted upon acquittal and four stood out for conviction. The jury was in deliberation behind locked doors seven and one-half hours. Immediately after the announcement of the result the jury was discharged by the court and Williams was led back to his cell in the County Jail, there to await a second trial.

The charge against Williams is that he, in company with two pals, held up and robbed of $30 a man named Friary at Fifth and Main streets. The case for the prosecution was weakened by the complaining witness, who was unable to explain with what motive he had loitered in the vicinity of the alleged hold-up for several hours on the night in question. The defense scored with the jury by bringing out several telling points which the prosecution was unable to controvert.

LOCALS LOSE LONG FIGHT.

Good Pitching by Fitzpatrick, Toren and Brown.

Game Noticeable for Number of Two-baggers.

Tacoma 4, Los Angeles 2. Twelve innings.

Begins to look as if we might have a touch of the high life we used to experience about two years ago.

The ball season isn't a week old and along come two teams playing their respective heads off to win a game and fighting as they do in the State Federation to keep ahead. Twelve long innings of scrapping, jawing the umpire, hitting the ball, circus catches, woozy ones, to come to the doxology with a deadlocked score sitting in the wrong end of the pew. That is what 1200 fans had yesterday on ladies day.

Yesterday the "glorious awakening" that all the love story writers always sing into their heart tales, came in the seventh inning. Before that the fans were in a state of innocuous desuetude, and our old college chump Grover Cleveland would say, for the Looloos were two runs ahead and the game was going to a close without any alarming symptoms that the Tigers were to even get away from the barrier. When the team wins the first game of a series handily and then is two runs to the good in the next the fans don't warm to the occasion as well as if they were to be behind. Up to that seventh round the old-time enthusiasm looked as big as thirty-five cents to the majority of those on watch, and then something dropped.

This something was Toren, the tall Nevada peroxide who pitched for the locals. He pitched beautiful ball up to the seventh inning and very well after that, but it just seemed as if the Tigers were determined to get us and wouldn't be us until they did. In the seventh Devereaux, Flood, Brashear and Spies went along and all this resulted in the two runs that tied the score and kept us even for twelve long innings.

Fireman Fitzpatrick, who played here last year with the San Francisca fire-team, went in to pitch for the locals and showed he is as good as any-body. Fisher needs. For nine innings he held the locals to four swats and from the third to the eighth there was no sign of a hit. As bad luck would have it while he was at bat in the eighth round, a pitched ball hit him on the right hand and split two of his fingers and he had to retire from the game and Brown took his place. He batted out by passing Bernard and then Flood soaked him for a double. Devereaux brought one to Casey and he sent Bernard out at the plate. Flood went to third on this and scored after Toren had filed out to center. The third run came as easy, for Cravath connected with a hot shot to center but was forced at second by Ross. Arthur came to trouble in scoring, however, as Spies surprised the fans with a hard drive to left.

Then both pitchers settled down and there were no stirrings until the seventh, when the Tigers got a pair in the draw. Eagan hit to right and after Casey was out Lynch bounced one to Brashear who shot the ball to second and Flood dropped it. Eagan scored on Graham's double and Lynch went to third and also scored when Brashear threw the ball to Spies, who dropped it.

The fans woke up and cheered loudly as these two runs and then settled themselves to wait for the end, which did not come for five long innings. Toren was just as stingy as Fitzpatrick, for the locals could get but one hit off him and this was Bernard's double in the eleventh. Toren was not at bat, for the Tigers scratched him occasionally, particularly in the seventh, when both Nordyke and Casey hoisted off doubles without getting a man out of them.

The trouble came to an end in the eighth inning when everyone was thinking of home and supper. McLaughlin was safe on Toman's error at his grounder and then Toren passed Graham. Brown forced McLaughlin at second but both he and Graham scored on Sheehan's fierce double to left on which Sheehan was put out at third, trying to get a triple.

Today will be another ladies day and it is likely that the pitchers will be Thomas and Baum.

SAFE HITS.

DOPE FOR THE FANS.

Busher Hall's feat yesterday in shutting out the Oakland team without a hit or a run shows that when the boy is right he is very right indeed. It has been a long time since we had anything like that in this State, and it will tend to make the local fans doubtful about the ability of the Looloos to beat the Siwashes all of the games here next week. Hall showed very little championship form in this city during the winter, but he is doubtless in condition again.

It seems after all that Tom Delehanty will not play with the Des Moines Club this season simply because he was not offered enough salary, or rather, what he thought he was worth. Russ Hall of Seattle traded Delehanty and Ganley to Des Moines for "Dusty" Miller and made money by the trade, as Miller is about the best man the Siwashes have. Delehanty is now at Lodi, just north of Stockton, in the San Joaquin Valley, and will be given a job there by Cy Townsend, who is managing the Watermelon Club this year.

Charley Reilly's Salt Lake team for this year contains many players well known to local fans. In addition to Reilly at third base, there is George Bowman of this city at first base, Tommy Leahy of San Francisco as catcher, and Bert Delmas of San Francisco as shortstop. The Pacific National League this year will consist of four clubs, these being Spokane, Salt Lake, Boise and Ogden. The season will open April 26 and close September 17, the first half ending July 9.

The eastern league this season will contain four well-known Coast players. Jake Thielman will pitch for Jersey City, Byers will catch for Baltimore, Pat Meany will play right field for Montreal if he doesn't go to Reilly's Salt Lake team, and Steelman will catch for the Rochester Club.

The new Northwestern League has actually been launched in the Puget Sound country. The moving spirits in it are Dugdale, Lucas and McCloskey, and these are three of a kind that will probably beat any pair of minor managers in the country. Lucas has been made president, secretary and treasurer of the league. A schedule will be adopted in the next two weeks. A salary limit of $1200 has been adopted. There will be four clubs in the league. McCloskey will manage the team at Vancouver; George Howletts, the Seattle player and umpire, will have charge in Victoria, and Kid Huien will look after things in Everett, Wash. The position as manager of the Bellingham team was offered to Dugdale, but he passed up the honor. Jack Grim, who won the pennant for Portland four years ago, and George Tredway have applied for the Bellingham job, but they are still applying.

RACING MAY BE RESUMED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word was received at the office of the Jockey Club here this afternoon that the election of Judge Dunne to the Mayoralty of Chicago means that horse racing will be resumed this summer at Washington Park, with all the accessories that existed before Mayor Harrison and the county government began a crusade which brought racing in the western metropolis to an end. The opening of Washington Park provides a powerful ally for the Western Jockey Club in its fight against Ed Corrigan.

OCCIDENTAL GIRLS WIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

SANTA CRUZ, April 5.—Today was field day for the students' conference at Capitola. The whole conference, numbering some 250 young ladies, attended the sports at the camping grounds. Occidental College of Los Angeles won the basketball game, beating the Stanford team by 22 to 1. The Occidental students were also victorious in nearly all the minor events, taking the broad jump and short dash.

VAS ISS?

NEW BALL PUZZLE.

The eastern baseball fans have been walking the floor at night trying to solve a new puzzle that has been sprung on them, and for the benefit of the local enthusiasts, the riddle is herewith given:

Two teams, A and B, are playing. A is at the bat in the last half of the ninth inning. The score is 5 to 4 in favor of B. Two men are out, a man on second and another on third. The batter hits the ball into fair territory, but it is not a hit. There is no put-out, no base runner hit by the batted ball, no assist or no error, and yet A wins the game by a score of 6 to 5. What was the play?

A Stricken Magnate.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Chris Von Der Ahe, for many years prominently connected with the St. Louis National League baseball team and widely known as the president of the four-time champion "Browns," suffered a stroke of apoplexy while voting, yesterday, and was removed to his home in a carriage. After reaching home his condition showed marked improvement and his physicians declared he was in no danger and would soon be able to be out.

ROPE-SKIP CHAMPION.

SACRIFICED HER LIFE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—Louise Rivers of New Rochelle, 11 years old, has sacrificed her life in a successful effort to become the skipping-rope champion of her neighborhood. To jump the rope 200 times has long been the championship record of the district. The child had often tried in vain to exceed it. When she began jumping in her last attempt, Louise looked as well as usual. As she approached the 200 mark she was pale and tired, but she doggedly kept on jumping. At 218 the girl fell screaming with pain and died shortly afterward at the hospital. The doctors found she had been attacked by acute appendicitis.

DERBY WINNER.

BREAKS A RECORD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Dr. Leggo, the Derby winner, captured the handicap and broke the California record for the distance by a second and a quarter, covering the one and three-sixteenths miles in 1:59½. The colt and Bombardier trailed the field half way arcund the track when the doctor easily passed to the front. Elle got the place from Bombardier. The track was fast and the weather clear. Results:

HAS MADE BIG HIT.

JOCKEY BAIRD "3 "IT."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BENNINGS RACE TRACK, WASHINGTON, April 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a lapse of two years the business of promoting enterprises for the aid of the public in the big idea of beating the races received a new and novel impetus here today, when the "Jockey Baird Commission Company" announced its corporate existence by spreading about the track pamphlets setting forth the fact that the company was prepared to enroll bettors for the purpose of playing the mounts of Jockey Baird through the coming Metropolitan season on a systematic basis. The promoters argue that Baird is a new star, and that in the light of past experience in connection with the first years in the East of Fuller and Hildebrand, the speculator would find consistent support of Baird from the beginning to the end of the season a source of profit. The idea originates in England, where similar concerns worked on Jockey Lane a year ago. Just now race crowds here on the scene of racing are mad over Baird. The young jockey has made a tremendous hit, and if he sustains his present gait New York race-goers will soon forget Hildebrand.

JOCKEYS WITHOUT HOPE.

SUSPENSIONS WILL STAND.

Race-horse sports who may be waiting for the Ascot Park officials to reinstate Jockeys Kent, Lawrence and McMahon will probably wait in vain, for it is not likely that any of them will be put back in the business again for some time. There is no particular reason why they should be, and as many of the races each rode at Ascot still smell to heaven, the sport will be better if the boys are on the ground. Let them bet awhile on their own kind of races from the ground and it is not likely they would care to ride again for years. This is the best way in the world to cure Kent and Lawrence of their fatal habit of not trying to win with a horse there has been much money played on.

As for McMahon, there may be some mitigating circumstances in his case to come out later, should Judge Hamilton review his case. He was set down for a queer-appearing ride on Flea, the jumper. While Flea was the favorite in that race and did not win, it is possible that the beast was stale, for he had been in about every hurdle race run at Ascot previous to the one which resulted in McMahon's suspension. Some late rulings on suspensions may be announced this week.

STANFORD ONCE BEFORE.

HERE THREE YEARS AGO.

The statement that the trip of the Stanford track team to Pomona last Saturday was the first time such a big college team had ever visited Southern California is incorrect, Stanford played there three years ago against the Occidental team and beat it by a score of 50 to 40, which is a much better score comparatively than made by Pomona. An '02 athlete stated last night that the Stanford team of that year was a better one than the one that Pomona met on Saturday.

From the rumors flying around it seems that it would have been better for Coach Hempel of Pomona not to have out-bid the U. S. C. management for the "exclusive" right to have the Stanford track team perform in this end of the State. It seems that the Stanford people had promised a meet here to U. S. C. but when Hempel heard about it he made Stanford a better guarantee, on the understanding that Stanford would not meet any other track team but Pomona in this end of the State. Now the story is that Hepmel lost over $400 on the Stanford trip here, which news will doubtless make U. S. C. smile broadly.

BLOWING THE BURNERS.

The Newest Drug Habit That is Already Counting Its Victims by Thousands.

[New York World:] A new vice has captured the Tenderloin.

"Blowing the burners" it is called, and it has won thousands by its seductions. The police and State Board of Pharmacy are at work in an effort to stamp out its fast-spreading influence.

Many who have tried "blowing the burners" as a catarrh cure are now slaves to the cocaine, morphine and opium habits. The new vice has in a few years made its inventors millionaires.

In almost every drug store in the Tenderloin, and in many of the Harlem drug stores, there are on sale a number of so-called catarrh "cures." The price per bottle is 10, 25 and 40 cents. The substance is in white powder form. With the bottle comes a glass and rubber tube attachment. These catarrh "cures" contain more than the legal 2 per cent. of cocaine.

The glass tube is filled with the powder and placed in one nostril. The rubber attachment is placed in the mouth, and with one blow the white substance disappears into the nasal cavities. That is "blowing the burners."

"I would gladly lay down my life if I could wipe out this new and most dangerous habit of 'blowing the burners,'" said a slave to the habit. "It has taken a grasp on young men and women beginning the fast life, and it is sure to lead them to the cocaine or morphine habit. Once a moung man or woman begins 'blowing the burners' and is not warned in time, he becomes addicted to the vice. It gives a thrill for the time being, but this soon dies away.

"Being well known to persons using drugs, I have access to places where outsiders cannot enter. 'Blowing the burners' has made 95 out of every 100 new dope fiends in the Tenderloin in the last year.

"Drug stores advertise fake catarrh cures, and often unsuspecting people are caught in the net. I know of a young woman who used a bottle a day until she was warned. If she had gone much further her nerves would have required a stronger drug—perhaps morphine. I have known cases of collapse as a result of 'blowing the burners.'

"There is a fascination about the new habit that makes it popular. It does clear out the head, and makes you feel light for a few minutes. Some persons use as many as five or six bottles a day. I have seen women 'blowing the burners' in drug stores before customers at all hours of the night. It has simply become the rage in the White Light district."

The Girl: What's up?

The Man: I introduced Vera, my fiancée, to Jack Smith. Now they're married. And only to think, that Jack was my best friend, too.

The Girl: Oh, cheer up; there are plenty of good girls still in the world.

Jersey City Extends the Glad Hand to Los Angeles's Favorite Son.

[New York Sun:] For weeks Jersey City has looked forward with a pleasurable thrill to the appearance of that eminent artist, J. John Jeffries, in his series of Lenten dramatic recitals. The pleasure has not been without a tinge of jealous triumph totally unbefitting the penitential season; for Jersey City, that modest home of the arts, is the first community on the Atlantic Coast to extend to Mr. Jeffries in "Davy Crockett," the welcome which must have been as new wine to the thorough artist he is. Jealous Manhattan, purse-proud, flaunting Manhattan, will have Mr. Jeffries for three weeks, but it was given to Jersey to welcome him East again.

To what end will not managers go in their sordid and squalid zeal for advertising. Evidences of this tendency have flamed on every fence in Jersey City the past week; have flaunted themselves on every fence. For the managers and press representatives have been attempting to create a false and fatuous interest in this eminent artist by advertising him as champion pugilist of the world.

What does it matter to their art that Forbes Robertson loves canaries, that Edwin Booth was fond of waffles? What does it matter how Mr. Jeffries amuses himself in his leisure hours? Yet in the large and fashionable audience which assembled at the Bijou Theater last night there were evidently many persons who were drawn by no other motive than a curiosity to see the champion pugilist of the world.

These made their presence felt by ejaculating in Mr. Jeffries's tender yet stalwart love passages:

"Soak him, kid! Soak him!"

It may be said in defense of Jersey City that not all of this was due to the blindness of her citizens toward great art. Some of it may undoubtedly be laid to the incompetence of the Bijou bouncer.

"Davy Crockett," which this robust and sterling young artist has chosen as the medium of introduction to the stage of New York, is a drama which has not been seen of late on the American boards. Mr. Jeffries brings to it a freshness and a style all his own.

Right here is where the gent who has been doing falsetto pulls of his wig shows the genuine whiskers and strikes low G on the bass clef to show that he can do it.

You see, the villain is after the bunch of calico. She's certainly nifty. The villain has staked out to his nephew to be her steady company, but the minute she trims her luscious lamps on Davy Crockett any dub can see that he's her candy kid.

The orchestra rips off a few yards of the "Flower Song," while Jim sinks his voice down to the solar plexus and puts her wise that she's his'n and he's her'n, only it can never be.

But in the next act Davy rescues her from the wolves by putting his biceps against the door while the property man wiggles three stuffed wolf heads through the chinks in the cabin and the gallery helps out on the howls.

But the villain drops in with the deeds that he's forged on her uncle and Davy is foiled. But the girl has put him wise to young Lochinvar, so in the next act Davy drops in just when they're going to marry the girl. Jim rolls up his sleeve and holds out his right and the girl hops on it like a canary on a perch, and it is all over but the foiling of the villain and the marriage in the last act.

The girl was pretty near down and out in the second act, and took the count of nine, but by clinching with Davy she managed to stay the act out. Jim's lovemaking was great. He never bored in so hard that there wasn't room for a breakaway, and any one could see that he was all ready to break the clinch the minute the girl loosed an uppercut.

When Jim crinkled up his forehead and looked on her with a love smile that reached the remotest boundary of his face, he looked just the way he looked at Ruhlin in the third round. But the girl didn't seem to mind. She knew he was only funning, and she cuddled right up to his solar plexus and said:

"I am your Neil, the same saucy Nell that sported among the dahlies when we were a little boy and girl together." That statement made Jim look real sincere.

It must be confessed that the epilogue was the most successful part of the piece. The epilogue was a more or less rapid three-round go. Mr. Yank Kenny, an eminent pugilistic artist from California, was advertised as Mr. Jeffrie's support in this scene. But the cordial welcome of New Jersey society proved too much for the artistic temperment of Mr. Kenny.

Mr. Hennesy of Princeton University was announced by that eminent impressario Mr. Billy Delany as Mr. Kennedy's understudy. Mr. Hennesy's acting was finished in leading and countering, but sadly deficient in guarding and sidestepping. He was entirely overshadowed by the great artist who played opposite him. At one period of the performance the shadows grew so thick that Mr. Hennesy went down for the count of nine. It was plain, however, from the cordial if somewhat unsteady handshake he gave Mr. Jeffries as the curtain fell that Mr. Hennesy harbored no artistic jealousy.

"Tim" Sullivan's Plaint.

Representative "Tim" Sullivan of New York is in pessimistic mood about his job. Speaking to a reporter on the subject, he said:

"This game of being a Congressman is on the bum. The people over in Washington, however, have got the game sized up, and they don't think any more of a Congressman than they would of a wooden Indian in front of a cigar store. Why, they hitch horses to Congressmen whenever they want to use them.

"Great game there. Why, they run along for a few days in the House, talking about something nobody understands, and then they announce they will vote on a bill in ten days. By that time I'm disgusted and come over to New York to forget Congress. Finally, I see something in the newspapers to remind me of it, and I go back in time to vote.

"I find they're getting onto the game on the Bowery, too. Few days ago a shine guy came into the Occidental Hotel and asked for Representative Sullivan. A seedy-looking affair at the bar speaks up and says:

"'Representative Sullivan? Why, I just sent him up to Lyons's restaurant to get a plate of beef fer me.' Oh, yes, they're sizing up Congressmen on the Bowery by now."—[Washington Star.

Ex-hangman's Confessions.

Berry, the ex-hangman, who has come under the influence of the revival now in progress, has described his conversion. He had been a bad man, he said, for thirty years, but his household was now a heaven upon earth. In his time he had seen wickedness in all its stages, but he was not now bothered by His Satanic Majesty.

For thirty years he had been unable to shed a tear and had not known what sympathy was. When he left his home at Heckmondwike and joined the then Bradford police he became wicked because he had to do as the other police did or he would have been sacked. He went the way the wind blew him.

IN THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has shown a spirit that will win for it many friends, by adopting, through its directorate, resolutions condemning the reckless "scorchers" who drive their machines through the streets at a pace which is dangerous to the public as well as to themselves. The resolutions express the hope that all offenders of this class may be apprehended and properly punished—a hope which is certainly shared by all just-minded citizens. The Automobile Club gave evidence of good faith by tendering to the city the use of one or more bicycles equipped with speedometers for the use of the police department, so that officers may determine, by following a speeding automobile, the rate at which it is moving. This plan would undoubtedly help in bringing offenders to justice, although it might trouble the policeman to keep up the pace if it were twenty-five to forty miles per hour.

There is one other way in which the Automobile Club can assist in bringing offenders to justice, in cases where the said offenders are also members of the club. Any club members convicted of unlawful speeding may be, and ought to be expelled from the club, if not upon the first offense, certainly upon the second. In taking such action, the club would demonstrate its entire sincerity in aiding to prevent the unjust and unlawful use of the streets for speeding purposes.

As The Times has frequently said in this connection, the streets of the city belong to all the people of the city, not to any particular class or clique of the people. Pedestrians have the right of way, for obvious reasons, in all well-regulated cities. They are not legally required to dodge about on their own streets, like mice trying to escape the spring of a cat, in an effort to avoid swift-moving vehicles of any kind. They have a full and indefeasible right to walk the streets in safety, provided they exercise ordinary care in so doing, and do not forget that vehicles of all kinds have also the right to use the streets for legitimate purposes of traffic. It is the imperative duty of the municipal government to prevent by proper ordinances, thoroughly enforced, the movement of all classes of vehicles through the streets at a rate of speed which is dangerous to life and limb.

Automobiles, properly managed, are even less dangerous to the public than horse-drawn vehicles, because they are under better control, can be stopped more quickly at a given speed, and can be turned about in a smaller space than horse-drawn vehicles. The very fact that automobiles are under so good control by the careful driver renders them dangerous when driven by a careless or reckless driver; for the latter overestimates his power of control and takes more chances than he would take if he were not so sure of his control.

It is for the best interests of the entire community that the reckless drivers of automobiles shall be apprehended and punished with a degree of severity commensurate with the offense. The Automobile Club of Southern California has an excellent opportunity to show "under which flag" it elects to stand in the proper and satisfactory solution of this vital question—the regulation of speed in such manner as to render the streets as safe as possible for all persons who use them.

That there is a growing prejudice against the automobile, on general principles, is all too apparent. It is equally evident that this prejudice is due almost wholly to the abuses perpetrated by the reckless few, for which the careful many are blamed.

The automobile, under careful management, is no more dangerous to the public than a baby carriage. Every friend of and believer in this great and useful invention should do everything in his power to insure its careful management, and consequently to prevent the abuse of the privileges which it now enjoys. Some of these will certainly be withdrawn if the abuses be not stopped.

Murders, highway robberies and other hideous crimes were never so frequent in Los Angeles as at present. The city has suffered from a distressing invasion of barbarians. The problem of preventing these dreadful things and keeping the miserable degenerates out of the bailiwick is one whose roots go deeper than most people dig or look. One thing is sure—an increased police force has not solved it either by heading off crime or catching the criminals. To send a fancy automobile and a squad of officers chasing after the hold-up man when he has had ample time to get out of sight and the victim can't even describe him—why, that is positively ludicrous. Might as well send a brass band.

A PRACTICAL BEGINNING.

According to a Washington dispatch, Chairman Shonts of the Panama Commission, "has determined to get rid of a lot of dead timber, drawing high salaries for doing little more than sitting around the luxuriously furnished canal bureau in Washington and kicking their heels together." Of course, any "timber" of this kind that may be sitting around and cracking its heels together, ought to be got rid of at the very earliest opportunity, and Chairman Shonts cannot be too highly commended for his resolve to hew down and cast out this defunct timber, whether it cracks its heels together or not.

The manner in which Chairman Shonts begins his administration of the colossal enterprise of which he is to have virtual charge, indicates that he will carry it forward successfully. He has had placed before him a complete list of all employés, from chief engineer down, with a detailed statement as to their duties, pay, location, etc. It is stated—and there is every reason to believe that the statement is true—that many persons have secured high-salaried positions under the commission, through the influence of Senators and others. These positions are mostly sinecures, held by "a lot of politicians who had to be taken care of." The President and Chairman Shonts are said to be in full accord upon the necessity of a thorough weeding-out process, and it is announced that as soon as this work shall have been completed "all places to be filled will follow the usual civil service procedure, and graft and favoritism will be eliminated."

This will indeed be a consummation devoutly to be wished. There is no use in trying to disguise the fact that the Panama Canal Commission has been, in the past, grossly incompetent as a body—doubtless because of the large numbers of sinecures with which it was encumbered, and because of the lack of executive ability in its personnel. It is to be hoped that all this will be remedied under the energetic direction of Chairman Shonts and his associates on the commission. The task before them is a task of colossal proportions, and it can be successfully performed only by the application of strictly business methods throughout.

The President undoubtedly knew what he was about when he selected the several members of the new Panama Canal Commission. By their works, however, they must be known and judged. All that can truthfully be said at present is that they have made a good beginning, with an excellent promise of better work to follow.

To the great task of cutting a canal through the isthmus we have set our hands. The eyes of the world are upon us. Such a word as failure must not be permitted to go into the record of our national achievement. All the engineering difficulties that may be met, unexpectedly, must be overcome, and they will be overcome with promptness and effectiveness by the engineering talent that will be brought to bear upon the work of construction. Now that we are in the enterprise, we are in it to stay until entire success shall have been achieved.

THE PORTLAND EXPOSITION.

As an announcement in yesterday's Times stated, the Portland Exposition is now reaching the stage of closing up the exhibits. All the hard work of several years, the multifarious labor of organizing, financing, advertising, and building, is at last being focused on the all-important point of marshalling the displays. There can be no doubt about the result; the exposition promises to be a brilliant success, commanding the attention not merely of the West, or of America, but of the whole world. For the undertaking has grown to be an international one, not merely in official parlance, but in the fullest meaning of the word. Almost all the nations of importance contribute to the enterprise, and will give a showing of their products and methods in every department of human enterprise.

And after the vast proportions of the international expositions of Chicago, Paris and St. Louis, the more modest dimensions of the Portland undertaking will count in its favor. Its predecessors appalled by their very size, and even after months of study the consciousness remained with most visitors that not one-half of what was shown had been seen. For those who had only a week or ten days to give to any one of those fairs, the task of making even a general comprehensive survey was impossible. The specialist in each department, no doubt, was well provided for, and came away satisfied. But the average sight-seer who wanted just a glimpse of the world as a whole was doomed to disappointment. The physical labor of taking in all the displays in the limited time at his disposal was beyond most men's powers, and, if attempted, left only a blurred remembrance on the mind. In too many cases the attempt was abandoned in despair, and an undue proportion of time given, in sheer helplessness, to the carnival aspects of each gathering—the Midway Plaisance, the Street of Paris, or the Pike.

At Portland, things will be different. The exposition will be big, but it will not be too big. Within the period of a week there will be time for more than a passing glance over all its departments; with a month at his command the studious visitor will be enabled to make a careful comparison of the work of all nations, and literally to survey the whole world from China to Peru. Not that the lighter aspects of such an international reunion will be neglected; there will be abundance of fun and frolic, the making of a true and ever memorable holiday for all who will travel to Oregon mainly as a relaxation from the toil and cares of workday life.

But not the least important feature of the exposition will be its historical teachings. Men's minds will be turned to some of the most gallant and stirring deeds recorded in American history, not merely in connection with the heroic Lewis and Clark expedition, but over a still wider range of courageous and persevering endeavors that won for the United States her glorious empire in the Northwest. In these busy commercial times the richly storied page of history is too often left neglected. It is good, therefore, that such a celebration as the Lewis and Clark Centennial should make us think awhile of the noble men who in generations past builded so well and with such complete self-sacrifice the foundations of our national greatness.

It is not at all pleasant to read in a dispatch from Guthrie, Okla., that the negro question was the principal issue in the election held in that city on Tuesday, and that "the citizens' ticket, headed by Dr. Duke for Mayor, and pledged to restrict the political powers of the negroes, was successful." This sort of thing in a Territory which is knocking at the doors for admission to the Union as a State is the reverse of commendatory. Are the Oklahomaites forgetful of what the Constitution of the United States says about the rights of man, irrespective of race, color, or previous condition of servitude?

The Sacramento Bee has this:

"The orange districts of Southern California were white with snow last week, but neither then or at any other time during the winter just closed was so much as a flake of snow seen in Sacramento or in any other part of the so-called 'Northern Citrus Belt.' But if there had happened to be a little flurry of snow anywhere in the Sacramento Valley, and at the same time none in Southern California, what a grand flourish the Los Angeles papers would have made over it!"

But aren't you doing a little flourishing yourself, brother?

This is a queer thing, the President's going hunting and taking with him a wireless telegraph outfit (transported upon an automobile,) two expert telegraphers of the signal service, and other impedimenta. It is necessary, of course, that the Chief Magistrate of the nation shall keep in touch with civilization while he is exploring the western wilds; but can anybody doubt that the wild animals will smile as the novel cavalcade passes them?

So nearly as we can make out from the hazy and evidently censored dispatches from the seat of war, young James Hazen Hyde is seeking to execute a wide turning movement on the Alexander, Tarbell, and other forces arrayed against him. Whether Gen. Hyde will be able to break through the Alexander-Tarbell screen is still an open question, which the fortunes of war must decide.

It is the deeply sagacious opinion of some of the "fat and fussy" detectives who are set on the trail of the unprecedented number of vicious criminals who are terrorizing Los Angeles, that the right way to apprehend them is not to let it get out that a crime has been committed—so that nobody will be on the watch for the desperadoes. What a wise old bird was the ostrich that hid his head in the sand!

It is too bad that the Supreme Court's decision in the Davenport-Howton "recall" case did not cover the entire question as to the validity of the "recall" provisions of our city charter. A great many citizens believe the whole "recall" scheme to be unconstitutional, and they would like to know whether they are right or wrong about it.

Three members of the New Jersey Legislature are on their way to Missouri to ask Gov. Folk how to keep lobbyists out of the Legislature. It's a tough problem, since it is against the law to shoot them on sight. Perhaps the law might be amended—but let Gov. Folk have a try at the problem.

It is a pleasure to note that Postmaster-General Cortelyou is hot on the trail of get-rich-quicksters, and is depriving them of the privileges of the mails as fast as he can run them to earth. There is probably a field in Los Angeles for a few more whacks at these swindlers and vagabonds.

SOU' BY SOU'WEST.

A Mr. Onion has introduced in the Texas Senate a resolution fixing the pay of legislators in the old Tom Green county commonwealth at $1000 for the first year and $5 a day for the second, provided an extra session is called; and fixing the rate of members' mileage at $5 for each twenty-five miles traveled. It is fit that any measure enabling the transfer of coin from the public treasury to the pockets of legislaturemen should bear the odoriferous name of Onion, for with such an unmistakable scent attaching the work of the inevitable graft-investigating committee should bear fruit.

Upon representation by the Yaqui Copper Company that marauding Yaquis were endangering their property and the lives of their employés, the Mexican War Department has established a military post at Campo Santo Nino, and sent a company of troops for protection.—[Nogales Oasis.

Here is an instance where judicious destruction would mean general reconstruction. The future of Mexico's mining industry is dependent in large measure on American capital—a developing agent which draws back hurriedly and double-locks its disbursement vaults at the approach of such roving, murderous obstructionists as compose a considerable proportion of the Yaqui population. The State of Sonora is the natural geographical gateway for the pouring of American capital into the sister republic, and the luck of domain has given Western Sonora to be the chief stamping ground of the Yaqui "braves." Harsh as the measure may sound to northern ears, it is handwritten on the walls of her cañons that Mexico must exterminate the cut-throat breed if her industrial development is to be saved an unwelcome setback. There is a deal of exactness, as well as a world of cruelty, in that old proverb of the Southwest, "The only good Indian is a dead Indian."

El Paso is just at the stage where she needs advertising the worst kind of way. We think lots of people are coming here; but watch the trains going through to Southern California, carrying a hundred persons bound to the Coast for every one that stops here. It is the result of persistent advertising.—[El Paso Herald.

We beg to correct.

Liberal advertising has played a prominent and important part in preparing the way for the worldwide fame that Southern California enjoys, and in developing its greatness by drawing hither an admirable and cosmopolitan population from the near and far places of the earth; but no amount of advertising could have created that fame, or filled with longing to come back again those who came unprepared to stay, nor kept the thousands here who did not find it in their hearts to go away.

It's well enough to advertise, but—we have the goods.

(1.) Enforcement of the laws against gambling; (2.) good streets; (3.) publicity in municipal administration; (4.) best possible water supply for the city; (5.) care of the public health and safety; (6.) adoption of the merit system and enforcement of strict discipline in the police department; (7.) application of business methods in all branches of the city government—this is one of two political platforms now before the voters of El Paso in the premises of an election of municipal officers about to be held. So sane, straightforward and hall-marked that to label it "Republican" seems almost a superfluity.

The Tombstone Prospector publishes on its first page a somber and sorrowful thirty-three-line editorial of pronouncement upon the vicious tendencies of modern youth in general, and the moribund morality of Tombstone youths in particular. By keen reading between the lines it is discovered that this cry of grief is wrung from the internal mechanism of the editorial body because a Tombstone lad of fourteen was discovered in the act of packing a pistol in his jeans. Ghosts of the West! would you water the blood of a boy's ancestors?

It seems that the Corpus Christi city dads are raising Cain with Corpus Christi's streets, and the Corpus Christi Crony (ghastly grim, that name) is raising the same sort of mischief with the city dads. As witness:

"Russian grand dukes and Corpus Christi Aldermen are things about which Russia and Corpus Christi have good cause to be ashamed."

"'Parsifal' is a play which nobody understands, and is, therefore, just like the awful things they are doing to Corpus Christi streets."

"To plant something in these foolishly-plowed streets would meet with popular approval if the City Council should be the thing planted."

THE LAST BUCCANEER.

But England is a cruel place for such poor folks as I;
And such a port for mariners I ne'er shall see again
As the pleasant Isle of Aves, beside the Spanish Main.

There were forty craft in Aves that were both swift and stout,
All furnished well with small arms and cannons round about;
And a thousand men in Aves made laws so fair and free
To choose their valiant captains and obey them loyally.

Thence we sailed against the Spaniard with his hoards of plate and gold,
Which he wrung with cruel tortures from Indian folk of old;
Likewise the merchant captains, with hearts as hard as stone,
Who flog men and keel-haul them, and starve them to the bone.

Oh, the palms grew high in Aves, and fruits that shone like gold;
And the colibris and parrots they were gorgeous to behold;
And the Negro maids to Aves from bondage fast did flee,
To welcome gallant sailors, a-sweeping in from sea.

Oh, sweet it was in Aves to hear the landward breeze
With a Negro lass to fan you, while you listened to the roar
Of the breakers on the reef outside, that never touched the shore.

But scripture saith, an ending to all fine things must be;
So the King's ships sailed on Aves, and quite put down were we.
All day we fought like bulldogs, but they burnt the booms at night;
And I fled in a pirogua, sore wounded from the fight.

Nine days I floated starving, and a Negro lass beside,
Till for all I tried to cheer her, the poor young thing she died;
But as I lay a-gasping, a Bristol sail came by,

And now I'm old and going—I'm sure I can't tell where;
If I might but be a sea-dove, I'd fly across the main,
To the pleasant Isle of Aves, to look at it once again.

How Morton Won a Strike.

Probably no man in the United States was more interested in the Subway and elevated strike in this city than President Roosevelt's Secretary of the Navy, Paul Morton. He brought to a successful finish one of the greatest railroad strikes in this country. It occurred in the seventies, when Paul Morton was central freight agent of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, then known among railroad men as the Burlington system. The general offices were in Chicago. The striking employés were more intelligent as a whole than usual, and their organization was solid and determined.

A New Yorker who lived in Chicago at the time of the strike referred to tells the following:

"Morton was a youngster at that time. I happen to know that the Burlington directors were on the point of yielding more than once, but Morton held out and declared that the life of the system was at stake. There were many ugly threats, but they never daunted the smooth-faced young man, who had the situation in hand. He never declined to see any of the men who were out, but when they called he told them firmly that he would not discuss conditions unless they went back. They did not see fit to return, and at the conclusion of each conference Morton hammered all the harder. Like the great Austrian diplomat, Metternich, Morton's motto was, 'True strength lies in right,' and he maintained that the company was right and he never yielded an inch.

"It was a bitter contest, but Morton's policy won, and the result of that strike was that the Burlington system established its business upon a firmer basis, and from that day until the present time it has expanded unmolested by labor troubles."—[New York Times.

Square Beards in Fashion.

The new male fad in France is the square beard. Its dimensions are nine inches long, five wide and two inches thick. It is squared away and from corner post to corner post a level could be run without clipping a hair. When it comes to getting four meals out of a soup bone or fun out of a fad, the French are the real thing. In this country father trims his beard with the lamp shears and decorates them with spinach or egg and goes to work, or to the legislature, as he likes. There is nothing about his whiskers that demands any more attention than a senator would give to an anti-trust petition.—[Minneapolis Journal.

Stanley's Unique Monument.

The grave at Pirbright of the late Sir Henry M. Stanley is to be commemorated by a monolith twelve feet long, four feet wide, two feet six inches in thickness and weighing six tons. The stone was found in Devonshire, after a long search to comply with Lady Stanley's desire that a monument should be erected to the famous explorer which had been "fashioned by the ages, tempered and colored by time and untouched by man." The only exception to the latter provision is in the inscription, which bears the explorer's name and also the name by which he was known to the natives of Darkest Africa, "Bula Matari," the Rock Breaker.—[New York Tribune.

Going the Other Way.

It was at a party, and they were talking of the head of one the large trusts. "I hope he doesn't die before I do," said a young man. "Why?" asked one of the girls. "Because I want to be there to see what the devil does to him. Don't you?" "No," said the girl, "I'm laying my plans to go the other way." The young man was silent during the remainder of the evening.—[Kansas City Times.

Gold Standard in Mexico.

In 1905 the passage of Mexico from the silver to the gold standard creates no excitement. Men who have Mexican investments or dealings with that country will be gratified when President Diaz carries out the measure which he has long had in mind. He decided long ago that the best interests of Mexico demanded the abandonment of the silver standard, but he did not think it wise to act hurriedly. There is nobody who will shake his head sadly over the new "blow dealt to silver," and denounce it as a crime, or deplore it as a blunder. The free-silver delusion has disappeared.

SUPREME COURT SESSION ENDS.

MANY IMPORTANT DECISIONS BY HIGHEST TRIBUNAL.

Smith, the Cowboy Murderer, Doomed to Death on the Scaffold. Tax Exemption Law Upheld. Phoenix Certain to Capture the Territorial Fair—Placer Revival.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 4.—Fifty or more decisions have been handed down by the Supreme Court of Arizona, which has been in session in Phoenix. Perhaps the most important was that affirming the sentence of death passed upon Zach Booth, a Tonto Basin cowboy, convicted of the murder of a young sheep owner, named Berry, and of his Mexican herder. Booth's younger brother had been mixed up in the affair, but was released upon the deposition of the elder that he killed both of the sheep men, though he claimed to have done so in self-defense. The evidence showed that the men were assassinated while sitting at their campfire by a fusillade of rifle shots, fired from above them.

The judgment convicting Bissell H. Thomas, a local attorney, of embezzlement of the money of his client, was reversed and a new trial was ordered. The embezzlement alleged consisted in appropriating to his own uses money sent by H. W. McDonald of Lebanon, Penn., for the payment of debts incurred by McDonald's brother, formerly superintendent of the public schools of Phoenix, now serving a sentence in the Territorial Penitentiary for forgery.

W. T. Armstrong was released from the charge of cattle stealing, the judgment of the lower court being vacated. Armstrong, formerly Sheriff of Gila county, was arrested by the Arizona Rangers, who considered him chief of a band of cattle "rustlers" in the country near Globe. Armstrong spent four months in the penitentiary before he perfected his appeal and was released on bond.

The Southern Pacific company won its appeal against the judgment of the District Court in a suit brought by S. F. Pickett to recover damages for the action of a conductor in taking up his transportation to Denver, when Fitchett boarded a train at Maricopa. Fitchett paid his fare to Tucson, where he proceeded to make trouble. The conductor hunted him up and attempted to "square matters, but was repulsed. In the lower court, Fitchett was given judgment for the value of his transportation to Denver and for about $1000 additional.

The Greene Consolidated Copper Company's judgment against the National Metals Company for $80,000 was affirmed. The lower court's judgment was by default, the appeal being taken on the ground of "no jurisdiction."

A year or so ago a Phoenix lawyer, H. J. Bennett, tried to force the Santa Fe, Prescott and Phoenix Railroad Company to pay taxes on its road, alleging that the tax exemption acts of the Arizona legislatures were illegal. The lower courts decided against Bennett, and the Supreme Court yesterday affirmed the decision.

TERRITORIAL FAIR CERTAIN.

The movement for a Territorial fair in Phoenix has assumed definite shape. The Legislature just adjourned provided an annual appropriation of $7500, with an initial appropriation of $15,000 more. These sums are to go toward the maintenance of a fair, if suitable grounds are furnished at a cost of not over $6 per annum. These grounds, with grand stand and stables, are to be secured by the public-spirited citizens of Phoenix, at a cost estimated at $25,000. The plan is to have fall races, with purses good enough to attract fine stock from the East, with the exception that the outside horses will be left in this valley to winter.

ROUGH RIDERS MAY COME.

The people of Prescott are overlooking nothing in their efforts to secure the next session of the Rough Riders' Association for their town, hoping that it will be held at the same time as the dedication of the monument to "Buckey" O'Neill and the other Arizona Rough Riders, who fell in the war with Spain. Mayor Morris Goldwater and Henry Bardshar, a member of O'Neill's troop, will leave Prescott tomorrow for San Antonio to present the invitation of their city to the association.

THIS STRIKE WILL FAIL.

The strike of boilermakers at Jerome has made no impression on the camp. The miners and other workmen, though mostly of union affiliations, refuse to be brought into the quarrel, which is simply the old story of trying to enforce the "closed shop."

PLACER-MINING REVIVED.

Placer mining in Central Arizona has been revived by the heavy rainfall of the winter, which has created springs and creeks in the dryest of the mountain cañons. Nuggets have been picked up in the bed of Granite Creek, within the city limits of Prescott. Thousands of dollars worth of gold dust and nuggets are coming from the vicinity of Antelope Hill, east of Congress, where miners thrown out of work by the closing of the Octave mine, are washing the gulches for the precious metal.

NEW GRAND CANYON ROAD.

The Santa Fé is preparing to entirely rebuild the Grand Cañon Railway, which is to have new steel and ties, and is to be regraded in many spots. Travel over the line this winter has been enormous, and it has been found necessary to provide much better equipment. One of the plans of the company is to outline the edge of the cañon, near the Bright Angel Hotel, "El Tovar," with electric lights.

MOCK HAYS.

High School Students Hold Court of Their Own, Trying a Riverside Case.

An echo of the Hays trial was found in the mock court held by the "Forum" of High School youths, in the High School Auditorium yesterday afternoon.

The principals in the trial had made a close study of the real case being tried before Judge Wellborn, and had visited the United States District Court in quest of information.

When the boys presented themselves at the real courtroom yesterday the case was on, the room was crowded, there was no place to sit down and on their embarrassed countenance, a kindly eye had fathomed their position in this unaccustomed atmosphere.

The trial was stopped for a moment, and said Judge Wellborn, "I think you can find seats for these boys among the attorneys here present." The bailiff did as he was told and the boys were seated.

The afternoon the results of their instruction were apparent in the legal and impressive form with which the mock trial was conducted. Twenty jurors were summoned and twelve chosen by lot from the jury trial box by District Clerk Lewis Powell. The indictment was duly read and the charge to the jury was given by Judge Chesney Carver. This embryonic judge had found an embezzlement case on the records of the Superior Court. He took the legal form and filled it out for this particular case.

The defendent was Douglas Brookman, supposed to have been a cashier of one of the national banks of this city, he was charged with embezzlement, and was convicted and sentenced to ten years in San Quentin prison.

The prosecution showed that D. Brookman had cashed a check he knew to be worthless, and that a conspiracy existed whereby he shared in the money thus advanced. Banking books were shown, while a United States bank examiner, and a bank president were brought forward as witnesses.

C. W. Byron, as district attorney, made some of the witnesses squirm by his keen cross examination. He was assisted by H. Pardue as deputy. The defense was conducted by S. Pierce and W. Mathews, and some of the technicalities caused a lively squabble.

Two blocks further on two e Mexicans got on the car, and y took seats in the rear end from ch they could see every move made the conductor or motorman, E. L. sell.

he conductor realized that the four xicans had a common plan on foot, he guessed their intention was the ding up of the car, from the man- in which they kept their eyes riv- upon him, especially whenever his occasion to make change.

rriving at Colton, the Mexicans on inside of the car alighted at the toffice, while the other two remained the car until the end of the run, n they seemed to realize that Clark s suspicious, for they took to the dow of a building on Ninth street, circled the block before coming k to where the car was waiting the e for it to start back to San Bernrdino on the final run. Mr. and Mrs. C. Marlow, restaurant keepers of ton, who were passengers on the car, ed with Clark that a robbery was foot, and they loaned him a revr.

ust before the car left Colton the Mexicans, who had been waiting in shadow, ran into a rooming-house. When the Colton postoffice was reached Conductor Clark saw the other two Mexicans waiting to take the car, but not seeing their companions aboard they stepped back onto the sidewalk, and ran east toward the Santa Ana River. The conductor was now thoroughly satisfied that the robbers intended to hold up the car on its return trip to this city, when there would probably be no passengers aboard.

Conductor Clark reported his suspicions to Policemen Jack Ketring and Hurley of this city, and from the conductor's descriptions of them, the officers were convinced that they were the same men who had held up David McMullen, electrician for the Traction Company, as he was coming to town late last night along E street. There were four armed robbers, and they had also waylaid a Santa Fé employé named D. Ditton, on Fifth street near Mt. Vernon, and Eugene Cooper, a dope fiend, on Third street, as Cooper was coming from a Chinese opium joint.

Acting upon this information the officers immediately drove to Colton and located the men in a lodging-house above the restaurant on Ninth street, conducted by the Marlowes. Silas concealed himself under a bed when he heard the officers coming, while his companion, Guerra, was in the act of escaping from a window. On the two men were found the plunder taken from Ditton, McMullen and Cooper.

The other two Mexicans took to the Santa Ana River, and a strong posse has been beating the willows and brush in that locality all day, the prospects being that both the robbers will be captured. Silas has confessed all to the officers, furnishing them with complete descriptions of his missing fugitive pals. He served a jail term for vagrancy last December, having been sent up from Ontario. It is believed that he and his pals are professional robbers.

SAN BERDOO BRIEFS.

Dist.-Atty. Sprecher this afternoon dismissed the charge of assault with a deadly weapon against William Green, there being no evidence to convict. Green tried to steal pies from a cookhouse along the Salt Lake beyond Daggett several weeks ago, and, being detected by Fred Waverling, the cook, he attacked the latter with a knife, cutting him badly.

Capt. W. S. McNabb of Co. K, N.G.C., has been notified by the department headquarters of the regular army to have all the company members who have not applied for pay during the time they were mustered into the regular army for service during the Spanish War until the time of their discharge, to make application for their pay immediately, as Congress has extended the time in which such application can be made to January 1, 1906. This order affects about fifty-seven militiamen of Co. K.

Eugene Cooper, one of the men whom it is claimed a political faction had brought to town and registered for the sake of securing his vote, was arrested last night by Marshal Shay, charged with vagrancy. Cooper is a miserable specimen of dope fiend. He demanded a jury trial, and was remanded to jail in default of $50 to await his hearing. Before his arrest he sent word to Marshal Shay that if the Marshal would permit him to remain in town he woud vote for whoever the Marshal indicated.

ONFESSES HE SHOT GARCIA.

WOULD-BE SLAYER FOUND IN SAN BERNARDINO.

Jacinto Ramerez, Arrested Under Another Name in Colton for Burglary and Highway Robbery, is Identified by Los Angeles Officer as the Man Wanted in This City.

COLTON, April 5.—Jacinto Ramerez, the Mexican who shot Guerino Garcia, in November, 1903, on the corner of Buena Vista and Ord streets in Los Angeles and escaped the officers, was found yesterday in the County Jail at San Bernardino.

He is one of the Mexicans captured by Constable Bagley in Colton on Saturday and against whom there were charges of robbery in Riverside and, as it developed, a charge of highway robbery in Colton.

He gave his name as José Godinez and that he was their "long-lost Ramerez" was unknown to the officers at the time.

Sa Godinez and his companion were taken to Riverside soon after they were arrested and an attempt was made to convict them of burglary. While the stolen goods were found on him, they were unable to prove a case against them.

The prisoners were brought to Colton, where the charge of highway robbery was lodged against them, a Mexican, Juan Pacheco, having identified them as the two who robbed him on the night of March 26 of $35.

It was while they were awaiting their preliminary examination in the County Jail that José Godinez was found to be Jacinto Ramerez.

F. J. Talamantes, the police detective from Los Angeles who came to Colton to get a bicycle thief, happened in the jail with Sheriff Ralphs of San Bernardino and immediately recognized his man.

Ramerez confessed that he was the one who had committed the crime. He and this officer had met several times in Los Angeles prior to the shooting, and on the day on which Ramerez shot Garcia he had been given a limited time to get out of the city.

It is said that Ramerez was also recognized by a number of Mexicans in San Bernardino and that his fate was settled as soon as he reached that city.

After the Colton officers are through with Ramerez he will be taken to Los Angeles, where there is a strong case against him. The man whom he shot did not die, so the charge against him is for attempt to murder.

During the interval since the shooting Ramerez has been in this vicinity. From time to time he would be heard of in Beaumont, Indio, Imperial, committing crimes, but he succeeded in eluding the officers.

IVES RISKED BY FOOL RIDER.

RUNAWAY CAUSED AND TWO BROUGHT NEAR DEATH.

Man on Horseback Carrying Gun Acts Peculiarly and Frightens the Horse Driven by Man and Wife, Both of Whom are Thrown from the Rig.

SANTA ANA, April 5.—The antics of a drunken rider near th Fifth-street bridge yesterday caused serious injury to Mr. and Mrs. James Henry of Garden Grove, who were returning from a visit in this city with their daughter, Mrs. Mae L. Hardy of East First street.

As they approached the bridge a man on horseback, carrying a gun and evidently intoxicated, met them, and by his peculiar actions terrified their horse so that it ran away.

At the first lurch Mr. Henry was thrown from the rig and painfully bruised. Mrs. Henry grasped the lines, but could not control the frightened animal, which ran into a ditch, overturning the buggy upon the unfortunate woman.

Passers-by assisted in releasing her from the wreck, and she was brought back to the home of her daughter, suffering from numerous minor injuries. The horse was badly cut by barb wire and the buggy was damaged.

HORSE DRAFT DOESN'T DRAW.

HAND OF LAW AFTER TRADER IN ORANGE COUNTY.

He Buys Animals and Pays With Sight Paper on San Francisco Which Develops Rather Shadily. Four Brothers Together for First Time in Thirty Years.

FULLERTON, April 5.—Roy Lovering sold three horses Monday to a man giving the name of Frank Lewis and accepted as payment a sight draft on Fred Springer of San Francisco for $175. Yesterday he telegraphed to Springer inquiring if the draft was good and received a message saying Springer was out of town.

Learning that Lewis had been operating in Santa Ana under the same method and that business men there who sold horses to Lewis had failed to get their money, he commenced action today to get possession of his horses. The animals were in Garden Grove yesterday, but it is said today they may have been run out of the county last night.

Lovering also swore to a criminal complaint today charging Lewis with obtaining property under false pretenses. Two of the horses purchased in Santa Ana by Lewis were sold in Fullerton to Jacob Stern and D. S. Linebarger.

RIVERSIDE.

DISS SUIT IS POSTPONED.

RIVERSIDE, April 5.—This was the date set for the preliminary bout in the suit instituted by J. W. F. Diss against T. E. Gibbon. Because Gibbon attempted to bring Diss to justice through the grand jury route for alleged defalcations from the Salt Lake Railroad Company, Diss thought it would be a nice retaliatory move to have Gibbon haled before the court on the charge of contempt, with disbarment as a sort of added penalty.

Diss was not present when the case was called this morning, nor was he represented by counsel. Attorney Halstead of Los Angeles appeared for Gibbon and after a short conference with Judge Noyes, it was ordered that the case go over until the 17th inst.

CHURCH EATING FUNCTIONS.

Several churches of the city served lunches and supper today. At the Calvary Presbyterian Church a picnic lunch was served at noon in connection with the all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies of the church. The ladies of the Universalist Church gave a parish supper in the church to members and friends of the denomination. The supper served in the parlors of the Congregational Church preceded the annual meeting of the church, which took place in the auditorium. At this meeting permission was asked to remove the old parsonage, which is to be replaced by a modern building. Officers for the coming year were elected and reports were read of the year's work just ended.

MINING MAN'S DEATH.

Thomas Reynolds, a mining man, died yesterday morning at his home, No. 1248 Georgia street, after an illness of almost a year, contracted through being poisoned by noxious gases in a mine in Mexico.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the family residence, and the interment will be in Rosedale cemetery. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Miss Emma Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds was a native of England, and was in his forty-seventh year. He took up the study of mines in early manhood, and became an expert in construction. He came to America in 1881, going to Montana, where he had charge of the mines of the Drum Lummon Company, near Butte. He spent nine years there, and then was for three years in charge of the Del Mar Mining Company's properties at Del Mar, Nevada. He was sent for to carry on expert mine construction by various concerns, and it was while at Palmarejo, Mexico, that he caught his fatal illness, when he undertook the supervision of retimbering a mine which had been burned out.

Mr. Reynolds' family has resided in Los Angeles for seven years and he has been confined to his home here for several months.

A Great Name.

Probably the longest name that ever dazed a printer was appended to a letter recently received by Gov. Carter of Hawaii. The writer urged that the "crown lands" be not given to ex-Queen Liliuokalani. The letter winds up in this fashion: "I am the Hawaiian woman that hoisted the American flag when the Hawaiian flag was lowered, and I was the one who made a speech at the time the judge sailed on the Alameda last year. I am yours,

"Kaanaanamokaueahaikuikawaikamookahi Keaemokuhalenohai."

EVERY INCH A MAN

DR. O. C. JOSLEN
The Leading Specialist.
Sometimes you see a man strong, virile, active, aggressive. Every move he makes indicates decision. His brain is alert, his mind teems with ideas, nerve and muscle act in harmony with his thought and under the control of his brain.
He is, in truth, a MAN.
Such a man has perfect health, and you can figure truly that the ills so common to his sex do not trouble him. It is just such men that I build up from the shattered patients that come to me for treatment.
I have learned to cure men by study and by experience. Seventeen years of successful practice have perfected my methods so that a cure is a certainty. I have devised new and scientific methods of treating every phase of men's diseases and can effect permanent cures where others fail. There is no possibility of failure and no pain. I follow Nature's own plan of recuperation, aiding the natural forces by my own original methods.
Painless, Prompt and Thorough
My treatment for "Weakness" strikes directly at the seat of the disorder and is local in its application. Under thousands of tests, many severe, it has proven its efficiency and its scientific value. Mrs. Murdock was gowned in white veiling with garniture of rose point. Miss Doolittle wore a reception gown of pale pink embroidered with garlands of rosebuds. Mrs. E. L. Stratton, Mrs. Karl Barnhart and Mrs. Hamilton presided in the dining-room and the other unbonneted women were Miss Doolittle's bridesmaids and maid of honor, Misses Crawford, Lowrey, Withers, Earley and Florence Doolittle.

MUSIC ROOM OVER WAVES.

TEMPORARY PAVOLION FINISHED AT LONG BEACH.

Inclosure Near Outer End of Wharf is Bigger Than the One Which Burned and is Finely Arranged for Band Concerts and Dancing—Mrs. Brownell Likely to Recover.

LONG BEACH, April 5.—Thursday at noon the temporary pavilion on the outer end of the wharf will be formally opened to the public and the band boys after being homeless for three months, can again resume their indoor concerts and dances.

The band stand is at the south end, while ranging around the four glass-enclosed sides are seats sufficient to accommodate 900 people without encroaching upon the floor space. A concert will be given in the afternoon and the opening dance at night. The floor has been specially prepared with a solution of filling material and waxed, making an almost perfect dancing surface. The new pavilion or sun parlor is larger than the old pavilion. Inside the posts the floor space comprises 9688 square feet, with a three-foot promenade all around, while the old pavilion contained only 8214 feet over all. The pavilion roof will be lighted with port and starboard red and green lights, which, accentuated by reflectors, will be visible from eight to ten miles at sea. Out over the ocean beyond the line of breakers, the music and public speaking can be heard without difficulty, something not possible in the old pavilion.

It is not thought that the new convention pavilion can be completed before September or October. The bids received Monday were all rejected as too excessive and modification of the plans is necessary, but the scaling down will be done without damage to the adopted plans. New bids will be asked for on the modified plans and this will delay the building until May 1.

LONG BEACH BRIEFS.

It is probable that the encampment of the Third Battalion, Seventh Regiment, scheduled for Long Beach this month, will be delayed on account of the non-arrival of Co. H's equipments. The companies in the battalion are Whittier, Pomona, Santa Ana and Long Beach.

A letter received by Charles Corbaley today from his brother-in-law, an officer on the Chicago, says the Pacific Squadron will reach Long Beach the 18th inst.

M. J. Brownell, who assaulted his wife yesterday with a revolver and then kicked her, was arraigned before Justice Brayton this afternoon charged with assault with a deadly weapon, and held in $1000 bonds for preliminary examination April 19. His victim is under the doctor's care, but is much improved and will probably recover.

Arthur McCormick was thrown from a milk wagon this morning, cutting a deep gash in his chin and breaking three teeth. His right thumb was cut off near the end.

On Thursday evening, the 13th inst., Sir John Stainer's oratorio, "The Crucifixion," will be sung in the First Methodist Church by the boy choir of St. Luke's Episcopal Church, supported by the soloists of the leading church choirs of the city. The soloists will be Mrs. Passmore and Mrs. Joe W. Young, Jr., sopranos; Rev. Charles Pease and Dr. R. M. Dodsworth, tenors; Messrs. F. A. Knight, R. H. Young and Dr. W. H. Jones, basses. Rehearsals are being conducted under the direction of Rev. Charles Murphy of St. Luke's, who will act as organist on the evening of its production.

MONROVIA

SPEEDY FRUIT PACKING.

MONROVIA, April 5.—A phenomenal week's record has been reached by G. E. Kennedy of Santa Anita, in handling fruits and early vegetables from the west side of Monrovia, Santa Anita Rancho and Sierra Madre. In seven days he has sent east by express 1732 boxes, and his east-bound freight amounted to five refrigerator cars.

Cholo labor is now employed in cleaning the orchards and vineyards of Santa Anita ranch of prunings. The apricots are beginning to flower, and shoots from the grapes are showing. A variety of Australian blood orange, to whose culture "Lucky" Baldwin has given considerable attention, is coming into bearing in commercial quantities. The first seed were planted in 1873. They were taken from a box of oranges, imported with other plants and fruits, with which Baldwin wished to experiment. By budding from the best fruit and eradicating poor trees, the Australian blood has been improved and its acreage increased. It is distinguished by size and weight, and the exquisite deep wine shade that prevails through the flesh of the orange.

SAN PEDRO, April 5.—In the matter of lumber receipts the month of March broke all previous records at this port. There arrived 82 steamers, 33 schooners, 1 ship, 1 bark, and 1 barkentine—a total of 118 vessels, having a net tonnage of 54,323 and carrying in crews on steamers 1778 men and on sailing vessels 325.

These vessels brought 36,963,000 feet of lumber, 26,579,000 shingles, 157,000 shakes, 3,980,000 laths, 2366 posts, 2611 poles, 190 piles, 9400 ties, 705 bundles of shooks, 1357 tons of grain, 52 cross arms, 2912 tons of coal, 1152 tons of merchandise and 7253 passengers.

There was exported during the month 1104 tons of merchandise, 170 tons of asphaltum and 7483 passengers departed.

CARNEGIE PROVIDES.

It developed that Andrew Carnegie has not overlooked San Pedro. The board of library trustees received an offer of $10,000 to be used for building a Carnegie library. The conditions imposed are that the Board of City Trustees shall donate a site and appropriate $1000 a year for maintenance. Tonight the Trustees set aside an adequate amount of space in the City Plaza and appropriated the money necessary, $1000, to be used in perpetuity.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL.

The plans prepared by Architect W. J. Bliessener of Los Angeles for the new High School building have been accepted, and the contract for construction will be let in a few days. The building will be two stories, contain twelve rooms, and will cost about $35,000, and be modern in all its equipments.

SAN DIMAS.

DODGING A RECEPTION.

SAN DIMAS, April 4.—Information was received from a private source yesterday that Frank H. Harwood, manager of the San Dimas Lemon Association, was to arrive Monday night with his bride. Immediately his many friends prepared a rousing reception. A wagon was decorated, with the San Dimas Band on board, and his friends awaited the arrival of the evening train. Great was their disappointment when neither bride nor groom appeared. It appears that J. P. Roberts, cashier of the San Dimas Bank, heard of the reception to be given his friend, and having visions of a similar trip for himself in the near future, telegraphed to Harwood to alight from the train at Covina. This Harwood did, and drove to San Dimas later in the evening with his bride.

SCHOOL ELECTION.

It is not generally known that by a change in the new law the elections for school trustees takes place the first Friday in April instead of July as heretofore.

Next Friday a Trustee will be elected for the public school of this district as well as in La Verne and Lordsburg. Lordsburg will also elect a trustee for the Bonita High School.

HOLLYWOOD.

TRADE BOARD SUPPORTS BONDS.

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.—The directors of the Board of Trade met last night and decided to support the City Trustees in a bond issue to repair streets, culverts, bridges and care for the storm waters. The board will have its annual banquet May 1.

It was decided to take no official responsibility in the management of the Hollywood Citizen, a weekly paper to be published here in the near future.

POMONA.

KILLED BY TRAIN.

POMONA, April 5.—An unknown man, apparently a tramp orange picker, was struck and killed this afternoon by the westbound Santa Fé Overland, one mile east of Claremont. The man was about fifty years old. The body, which wore nothing that would lead to identification, was taken to Patterson's undertaking rooms where the Coroner will hold an inquest tomorrow.

SHE BOUGHT A GOAT.

Rosetta Thought It Was the Kind That Gave Milk, but It Wasn't.

[New York Times:] Rosetta Rose, thirteen years old, who resides with her parents at No. 100 Kaplan avenue, Jamaica, had saved $4.50 and put it in the bank. She went to the window to see what the new styles in spring coats were, her plan being to buy a coat with the $4.50. As she stood at the window she saw a goat.

The goat was attended by a boy, James Mahr. Rosetta, although thirteen, had not lost her childish fondness for goats, and she went out to see the animal at close range. In her eyes it was a beauty.

"I'd like to have him," said Rosetta, wistfully.

"You can buy the goat," said James.

"How much?" asked Rosetta, rapturously.

"How much y' got?" asked the boy, cautiously.

"That isn't much for a good milker," Mahr is reported to have said.

Still, he accepted the $4.50, Rosetta says.

Then she took the goat home. The animal was a disappointment. Instead of giving milk it demanded milk to eat. In fact, the goat was a billy goat. Then, to cap the sorrowful climax, the goat did not seem well. A doctor boarded the animal three days at a cost of 30 cents to Rosetta, and then said the goat was really ill.

Disgusted at her trouble Rosetta took the matter to the Third District Municipal Court, all on her own hook. She was referred to Shoonmaker & Weeks, attorneys, who undertook to collect the $4.50 for her.

"Don't worry, Rosetta," said Mr. Schoonmaker, who has a little daughter of his own, and knows how children like goats; "you shall have the spring jacket, but it may be rather warm weather before you wear it. But you'll get it all right."

An Anti-Tobacco Law.

Viscount Hayasha, the Japanese Ambassador in London, writing to the secretary of the Scottish Anti-Tobacco Society, states that there is a law in Japan prohibiting persons in their minority to smoke. The points of the stipulation are, adds his excellency:

(1.) Persons in minority; that is, under 20, are prohibited to smoke. If they are found smoking the police will confiscate the smoking instruments as well as the tobacco.

(2.) If parents or guardians of youths under their knowledge allow their charges to smoke, they will be punished with a fine not exceeding one yen (about 2s.)

(3.) Tobacco dealers who under their knowledge sell smoking instruments or tobacco to a youth for his personal use will be punished with a fine not exceeding 10 yen (about £1.)

The law passed the House in March 1900, and was subsequently promulgated.—[London Mail.

Lawyers Ignorant of Law.

To the layman it is impossible to believe that all lawyers, especially such great men as Senator John H. Mitchell, Gov. Pennoyer and other celebrities, do not know the law, but that they do not was demonstrated by Judge W. B. Gilbert, of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in his lecture before the senior class of the Oregon Law School last night.

Judge Gilbert, in the course of his lecture on constitutional law, and while commenting on the famous Oregon case of Pennoyer vs Neff, a case which was fought through all the courts of the land and has become an authority on the 14th amendment, said that to him Gov. Pennoyer remarked about a year before his death, that he had just discovered that the 14th amendment, under whose provisions the case was tested, had not been adopted by the United States at the time the right of action accrued and the first judgment in the Circuit Court of Oregon was taken, and had he known this at the time he would have won his case.

Senator John H. Mitchell, then a young man, began the case and helped to fight it through the courts. These men devoted many months and years to the question of due process of law as laid down by the 14th amendment, appealed from one court to another, and finally had the case decided against them in the Supreme Court of the United States, and then discovered thirty years later that the 14th amendment could not apply to the case which they were fighting.—[Portland Telegram.

The transactions on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday were a good deal less than those on Tuesday, but bidding was active and widely distributed, much interest being manifested in oil and bank stocks and the bonds.

Associated Oil was again in request, 2000 shares being sold, 1000 at 29¼, and 1000 at 29¾, but on the street 4000 were sold at 30. Reed Crude, now that it has disposed of the great part of its assets, has dropped to 50 @ 1. Union sold at 70, ten shares changing hands at that figure, but closed at 71@80.

A bid of 102½ was made for Southwestern National Bank, but the holder's price was 5½ points better. Par was bid for State Bank and Trust, but the stock closed strong at 100½. American National remained where it was the day before, 10 shares being sold at 114½.

Home Telephone bonds gained ¼ point, closing at 99¾, without offerings. Union Transportation declined ½ point, closing at 90@93½. Edison Electric, common, gained 2 points, closing at 22@26, but preferred lost ¾, closing at 78½, without offerings.

More interest is being manifested in the street improvement bonds, and a Chicago broker, who is in the city, says there is a market for them in that city.

Time money was in good demand at unchanged rates. Sixty to ninety days, 6 per cent.; four to six months, 7 per cent.

Commercial paper was also in much request; 30 to 90 days, indorsed bills, 6 per cent.; four to six months, single names, 7 per cent.

SALMON PACKING SEASON. San Francisco advices say that fewer vessels are being fitted out for the salmon packing season in the Bristol Bay section. The falling off in the pack there last year left a considerable supply of unused material at the canneries, which will be utilized this year.

FRUIT PACKING SEASON. Preparations are being made on the Coast for the incoming fruit packing season, says the San Francisco Trade Journal, which adds: "There will be more canneries in operation, while many of the older ones will have increased capacity. The outlook for the fruit crop could not be better, but as the season is from two to three weeks earlier there is danger of its coming in rush. Frosts have been bad in the past and even as late as May, so no one can tell yet a while what will be the outcome. It is reported that there are two fair-sized stocks of last year's fruit still held, but it will be wanted for the spring trade."

SHORTAGE IN MICHIGAN BEANS. Statistics which are claimed to be reliable, have been compiled, showing the amount of beans still in the hands of farmers and shippers in Michigan as well as of the probable yield to come forward before the new crop becomes available. One hundred and twelve Michigan dealers, ranging on 125 stations, report net holdings of 1,015,15[illegible] bushels, and as well as purchases still undelivered. farmers.

These dealers report that there are still unsold in farmers' hands an aggregate of 228,500 bushels. According to the 1904 report of the Secretary of State of Michigan, the total crop for last year was approximately 1,500,000 bushels. This would indicate that there is therefore less than 10 per cent. of the crop still in first hands, and as about 150,000 bushels are required for seeding purposes, it would appear that there are only about 75,000 bushels, or, in round numbers, 110 cars, still to come forward.

From March 15, to September 1, 1904, the aggregate sales of Michigan beans, as reported, were 1900 cars. Assuming that 150 cars are enough beans in farmers' hands at stations not reporting to cover seeding requirements, and providing that all stock now in the hands of dealers reporting will be shipped, there are, approximately, 680 cars in sight to supply the demand until the next crop is harvested. On the basis of consumption during the same period last year this would give an apparent shortage of 627 cars.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, April 5.—The intention to increase the preferred stock issue of the Union Pacific by $100,000,000 was not known to the Wall street public until this morning and was a special surprise. This incident formed the central point of interest in the day's stock market. Union Pacific has been the subject of gossip and surmise for many months during the course of its remarkable rise, but none of the numerous conjectures regarding it pointed to the measure announced this morning. This fact in itself aroused a doubt that a large part of the reports which have been circulated regarding this stock were ill-informed. The effect on the common stock was unfavorable, as was not unnatural, in view of the prior privilege of the preferred stock now to be doubled in amount to dividends to the extent of 4 per cent. The common stock was offered heavily both for domestic and foreign accounts. It was vigorously supported, however, all day. Brokers before the opening were making offers to take all the stock that anyone would sell, and the same brokers were diligent buyers up to the level of last night. The support was then relaxed again, but renewed at any periods of acute weakness. Officials of the company decline to add anything to the official circular as to the specific purpose for which the proceeds of the stock were to be used, or as to the proposed time for issuing it. Assertions were freely made, however, among the speculators in the stock market that the project had to do with the proposed combination of Union Pacific with New York Central and Chicago and Northwestern. It was pointed out that President Harriman, in maintaining the wisdom of seeking financing capital requirements through the issue of stock rather than through the creation of fixed interest-bearing obligations, had interjected into the official circular the remark, "especially such as arise in connection with the acquisition of stocks of other companies." This was adduced to indicate that a merger project was in view, but Wall street had formed the opinion that the proposed merger was to be accomplished by the exchange of bonds of a holding company for existing securities, which would not involve a great outlay of cash. The prospect of a $100,000,000 block of new stock, therefore, came as a shock to sentiment and emphasized the effect of the huge volume of issues which is to be added constantly from many sources. The determined support of Union Pacific was supplemented by notable upward movements in a number of special stocks, so that the depressing effect of the Union Pacific announcement was modified to a considerable extent. The railroad list, the Southern group and the Canadian Pacific group were very strong. The only news to account for the movement was the suggestion, based on earnings and reports of possible dividend increases. American Smelting headed another strong group, including the Lead stocks and some others in affiliated metal trades. The United States Steel stocks were sluggish most of the day, but they moved up late to higher prices than were touched yesterday, and helped to sustain the general list by sympathy. A miscellaneous list of industrial stocks showed considerable strength. The railroad list as a whole, however, was held back. Sterling exchange was firm again in spite of the great ease of money in foreign centers. This was attributed to the selling of stocks here for foreign account. In some of the very active stocks the net changes for the day proved to be small and the market closed irregular. Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $4,220,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

PORT ITEMS.

Weather: Clear at 5 p.m.; wind southwest, 6 miles.

The freight steamer Coos Bay, formerly employed on the run between San Francisco and San Pedro and way ports, is in the dry dock at San Francisco undergoing repairs and painting.

Fred Nyquen has been enrolled as master of the steamer Andy Mahoney, and H. A. Hansen of the steamer Lagunitas.

The machinery is in good condition and almost on an even keel, the steamer Mandalay, which went on the rocks at Crescent City last Saturday, arrived in Eureka yesterday in tow of the steamer Pomona, and was beached. Her hold is filled with water, and the hull is damaged beneath the water line, so that she will probably be taken to San Francisco for repairs.

Men's $32.50 to $42.50 Full Dress and Tuxedo Suits $16.95

A SALE THAT NO SALARIED MAN SHOULD MISS

Recognizing the fact that there are many men working on a limited salary who cannot afford to go to a tailor and have a $50 to $60 dress or Tuxedo suit made for the few occasions on which they may require one, we have gone to considerable trouble to offer a special line of fine full dress and Tuxedo Suits that are as good in quality, style, fit and finish as those regular clothing houses usually sell at $32.50 to $42.50 for coat and vest only. These are full suits. Our New York office purchased an assortment of yardage goods consisting of vicuna, bird's eye cheviots and crepes, took them to a high-class manufacturer who had just completed his season's run, and got a special price for the making, in order to assist in keeping all of his employes busy until the regular manufacturing season for fall goods opened. The result was two hundred full dress and Tuxedo suits, made with as much care to style and detail as any turned out at his regular wholesale prices. They are all models for 1905; the full dress suits have broad shoulders, perfectly balanced skirt, pointed lapels; are silk faced and lined with fine Venetian cloth or Italian serge. The Tuxedos are full silk lined, with long roll collar faced in heavy grosgrain silk. They are three-piece suits--coat, vest and pants, sizes 33 to 46 for regulars, slims and stouts.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MEN REQUIRING LARGE SIZES

It is seldom possible in ready-to-put-on garments that the requirements of large men can be fully met, but in this lot there are possibly fifty suits for stout men, ranging in size up to 46-inch chest measure.

This is a sale that will certainly command the attention of every man who makes any pretention to social customs, and is certainly a saving of fully one-half that you would pay for the same garments in any other store in Los Angeles. They will be on sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday, priced at, choice $16.95
